PREFACE

Any genealogy - even one of five hundred pages - is always incomplete - and imperfect. But we have tried our best.

Thanks to untold numbers of industrious correspondents, volunteer researchers, and generous cousins we seem to have gathered quite a bit of material on various Fitts/Fitz/Fittz/Fytz families.

We apologize for any errors the reader may detect.

We have had to rely upon our correspondents for the accuracy of dates, names, and spellings sent on their own families. [If your great-aunt has misspelled your name, can it be that she has never seen it in writing? Have you ever written her a friendly letter?]

It has been many years since I was naive enough to feel that I could correct the way anyone spelled their name. I long ago discovered that Joe is not always Joseph. Steve is not always Stephen. And it's anyone's guess as to whether Kate is Katherine - Katharine - Kathryn - Catherine - et al, or really just plain Kate.

So your name is spelled as it came to me - from a family correspondent - or perhaps a careless census taker. It has been particularly difficult with the many variant spellings of the surname itself to be at all certain that we are using the spelling that your branch of the family prefers. Be sure to look under all spellings in the index - Fitts, Fitz, Fittz, Fits, Vice, Fytz, Fite et al!

Working with three large cartons of Fitts/Fitz correspondence that has accumulated in the last twelve years - I must say that we never cease to be amazed at the number of ways the same name can be spelled!

Remember that dates prior to 1752 are subject to adjustment. Pope Gregory's calendar reforms of 1582 were not accepted by Protestant nations.

By 1752 when England and its colonies finally decided to use "New Style" dating, the "Old Style" dates were eleven days behind the true solar year. Those eleven days were dropped from the calendar in 1752.

Early dating had also begun the year in March at the spring equinox. This explains, for the novice, the fact that "20 Feb.1682/3" is NOT an uncertain date but merely a device to record the fact that the day was the 20th of February 1682 (old style) or 1683 (if you used new style dating). Of course only the January through March dates needed to bear that double dating.

Full enjoyment of any genealogy requires work on the part of the reader. Remember to search an entire page for more than one reference on that page to the name indexed.

Do not make too quick a judgment on the identity of several people of the same name.

In most cases if more than four members of a family with a surname other than Fitts/Fitz appear on the same page the entry in the index is thus: Pike Family ..105,142.

Also to save indexing space, surnames which appear one or two times only are not indexed by first names. We have assumed that the reader can easily make his own search on the few pages listed.

Names beginning with Mc or Mac are all alphabetized as though spelled Mac ...

The abreviation "Reg." refers to the Register of the New England Historic Genealogical Society. Fide means "on the authority of". Maiden names are enclosed in parentheses. V.R. stands for Vital Record. Ch. stands for child, children, or church.

We have not included titles or designations of Sr./Jr. in the indexing as those titles change over the years for the same person.

The much-used abbreviation JHF refers to the 1869 genealogy of the Fitts family published by Rev. James Hill Fitts. We must all be tremendously grateful to that dedicated historian upon whose careful work we have built.

First using NB for Nebraska, we suddenly became aware of the possibility of its being mistaken for New Brunswick, and have gone back through the text making the change to NE for Nebraska. Hopefully we caught most of those changes. However, our only "word processor" has been our humble brain and trained eye.

Our goal has been to carry female lines for at least two generations out of the name unless they were already in print elsewhere. We have also tried to include spouses' parents and some lineage for them when available, though we would advise the reader to check us on these points.

Only if one has attempted a similar task can one really appreciate why it has taken more than twelve long years to produce this book. The untold hundreds of hours of concentrated thought, research, and letter-writing have had to be sandwiched into time that was full to overflowing with the responsibilities and fun of daily living.

The minute indexing is winding down and nearly done. Typing these last pages, carefully "camera ready" for the press, we experience true heartache knowing that some who cared so much have not lived to see the book's completion. We know that their younger descendants will appreciate, as we do, how much they helped to make it possible.

Perhaps we could have limited our work to the family of Robert[1] Fitts of New England, and thus been done much sooner. We hope, however, that by including the large and interesting Pennsylvania families, and the many "strays", we may have helped others needing clues to further research.

As the text grew, we became alarmed that we might be producing a book too large to handle comfortably. Accordingly we began to omit places - and career statements - and to shorten more and more bits of information.

In an attempt to condense material as much as possible we have used a great many abbreviations. What is perhaps more inexcusable - we have not standardized those abbreviations. We hope readers will be able to interpret our fanciful short-cuts. If we had used "proper" formats, standard abbreviations, and correct spacing after punctuation, the book would undoubtedly have been at least thirty or more pages longer than it is. As the careful typing of the text progressed we made abbreviations shorter and shorter. On the other hand when we saw that full spelling would not require an extra line, we spelled out words more fully.

As we are firm proponents of proper spelling, grammar, punctuation, and style, we have regretted deeply this need to condense. However, believing that what the reader most wanted were as many facts as possible, we settled for accuracy of information - and for quantity! This even to the extent of leaving out articles, verbs, and the niceties of sentence structure.

We find it impossible to name all of the individuals whose ready help has made this book possible. In your hearts I hope you know how grateful all of your "cousins" are.

And we ourselves do thank you.

While we dedicated our Marden Family Genealogy to our mother, and have dedicated this book to our father - the truth is that both works are in honor of them both. They celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in June 1972. Fifty years of vital, hard-working, meaningful and generous living.

They - and my dear husband and children - taught me what "FAMILY" is all about.

DERIVATION OF THE SURNAME FITZ OR FITTS

The family name Fitz or Fitts derived from the Norman French or Anglo-French prefix "Fiz" or "Fitz". It developed from the same Latin word, filius, as did the modern French word "fils", meaning son.

In his Genealogy of the Fitts or Fitz Family in America (p.9-14), James Harris Fitts of Tuscaloosa, Ala., quotes at length from correspondence of Isaac Taylor, A.L.Mayhew, and Walter W.Skeat, writing in Notes & Queries, 8th ser., 1894-5, concerning the derivation of Fitz from filius. For the non-scholar, it will probably be sufficient to state that the family surname did derive from filius, and its meaning is son.

This also explains the many well-known surnames which use Fitz as a prefix, such as Fitzgerald, Fitzwilliam, Fitzpatrick, etc. Originally designating a man as being a son of Gerald, William, or Patrick, in the course of time, and for later generations, these became true surnames.

The prefix Fitz was sometimes used to identify an illegitimate son, as in the case of the FitzRoys (Dukes of Grafton) who were descendants of Robert FitzRoy, an illegitimate son of King Henry I of England. (Roi being the French word for king.) According to James Harris Fitts, the FitzClarences (Earls of Munster), and the FitzJames' (Dukes of Berwick) are other noble families with an illegitimate royal heritage. However, most of the surnames with the prefix Fitz did not signify illegitimacy - or royal blood lines.

The development of modern surnames took place in comparatively recent times. Among the many peoples who had no surnames, only individual names, were the Norsemen. Their custom was to add the suffix "son" to the name of the father in order to identify the individual, as in John Robertson, Steven Richardson, or Sven Ericson. The next generation would not bear those same "last" names. They would instead become, in their turn, Johnson, Stevenson, and Svenson. Every schoolchild is familiar with the famous explorer, a son of Eric the Red, called Leif Ericson.

Norse adventurers settled in France in what became known as Normandy in the tenth century. They adopted the French language, but they continued to use this manner of giving names. The French prefix "Fitz" supplanted the use of the suffix "son".

As we know, William, the Norman, conquered England in 1066 A.D., and from that time we find many references in English records to the use of Fitz as an identifying part of personal names. Some generations later, when true family surnames came into common use, some of the surnames adopted were patronymics with the prefix "Fitz". It was probably about the middle of the fourteenth century that "Fitz" appeared as a prefix for true surnames.

Some of the variations of spelling have been Fitz, Fitts, Fitt, Fytz, Fytze, Fiz, Fittz, Futts, Feats, and Vize.

The Chester Herald of the College of Arms has suggested that further English research should not preclude investigation of the spelling Fitch.

EARLY REFERENCES TO THE NAME

Filius, filii, filio, fitz, fits, fiz, filz, were all terms appearing thousands of times in records as identifying parts of names in the thirteenth century "as a Walterus fi⁊ [the common abbreviation for the Latin ending "us"], a cottager (H.R.ii,p.322), or Gilbertus fi⁊ also a cottager (H.R.ii,426)", etc. [See James Harris Fitts' Gen.Fitts or Fitz Fam., p.11]

Some other very early references appear:

"Faurel Fitz de Bractone, Co.Devon. Held ¼ fee of Robert the King's son circa 1166." (Tran.Devon Assoc.) [Fauvel?]

"Roger Fitz mentioned 1201. (Cal.Cur Reg.Rolls)"

"Robert Fitz, A Witness to a deed re. land in Exeter, circa 1220/1225 (Adam Sathe)."

"John Fitz, Citizen and Goldsmith of London, 1249. (Cal.Lib.Rolls)."

In c.1285 Raf le Fitz had arms of a "Coat Vair on a chief gules two mullets Or". We can not of course be at all certain of the name being a true surname at that time.

"Thomas de Fytze, by an Assize held circa 1326 or 1356, deseized the Earl of Devon of land in Exe Island, parcel of the Barony of Exmouth. (Hooker)."

"William Feytz, Citizen and Skinner of Exeter. Free of that City at the instance of Roger de Criditon. 23 Sept.1336. Of Tiverton 25 Nov.1346 then, with his wife, Claimants to land in Fennesethangre by Halberton, Co.Devon. Final Concord of that date", and his wife "Willelmus, Party to the Final Concord of 1346."

Devon Feet of Fines. A.D.1355 (Case No.1442) p.394,#264.."homages and whole services of John le Fitz, Robert de Radyngton and of William Poleyn of Westboterleigh",etc.

Vis.of the Co.of Cornwall, p.28: "Joane, da.of John Fitz of Benethwood" mar. Robert Charnedon. (In genealogy of the family of Bere of Trevedo.) No dates appear in this genealogy until 8 generations later when deaths in the 8th generation are given ranging from 1598-1628. With guessing this might(?) place Joane's death at somewhere between 1410 and 1480. (The Chester Herald suggests that Joane's mar.date to Charnedon was prob. c.14th cent.) Generation spans always vary greatly, but she could(?) have been of an age to have been an aunt(great-aunt), or sister, or dau.of John Fitz of Fitzford - or perhaps no relation at all! And where was "Benethwood"? "John Fitz of Benethwood" was most prob.a different John than John of Fitzford, Co.Devon. However, Tavistock is not too far from Co.Cornwall. Note the several mar.of members of the Tavistock family with persons from Cornwall.

"Thomas Fitz, Citizen and Skinner of London in 1449. (Cal.Fine Rolls)"

"William Fitz. Of the Parish of Northyenhill, Co.Bedford. Will proved in 1489." (Northerell?)

The above information has been furnished by the Chester Herald of the College of Arms, London. Margery(Lord)Fitts (Mrs.Arthur McClellan Fitts, Jr.) has undertaken the sponsorship of rather extensive research into English sources, and we are all most grateful to her for her help and dedication. She herself has made several trips to England, and has also forwarded a great deal of material supplied by the researches of the Chester Herald. Except in the few instances where we refer to other sources we are indebted to this helpful and capable cousin for almost all of the information herein on our antecedents in England. I'm sure each and every reader joins me in thanking her.

FITZ' COATS OF ARMS

When heraldic devices were in the early stages of their development, a man simply chose whatever symbol or color he wished to emblazon on his shield or have embroidered on his surcoat. The latter was of cloth and was worn over his coat of mail.

These bearings were proudly displayed in battle as a means of identification, or crafted into personal seals or jewelry. As a substitute for a signature, a personal seal was of great importance in an age when most men could not read or write.

As more coats of arms became used, the inevitable confusion led to Henry V issuing a proclamation that thereafter arms could only be secured, in England, by inheritance, or by a grant from the Crown.

A complete coat of arms includes a shield (the most important part), a helmet, a crest, wreath, mantling, and motto.

The helmet may be used above the shield even though the particular coat of arms does not include a crest. The actual shape of the shield and helmet may vary in design. However, the shield should be of the period, and the helmet should be of appropriate rank.

The crest derives also from knightly armor, and symbolizes the special ornament of leather, wood, or painted metal which a knight wore on his helmet.

A silken wreath, customarily made of two colors of twisted cloth, was usually worn at the base of the crest and is included in the symbolism of arms today. Sometimes the wreath of a coat of arms is replaced by a coronet.

The two strips of cloth streaming from the top of the helmet are the mantling and become a decorative device in the design of a coat of arms. They may have originated in the practice of Crusaders protecting their helmets from the sun by a mantle of cloth. The shredded appearance symbolizes the mantle's having been torn in battle.

Many of the oldest coats of arms do not have a crest, or a motto. The motto may be changed if one desires because it is not necessarily an inherited part of the armorial bearings.

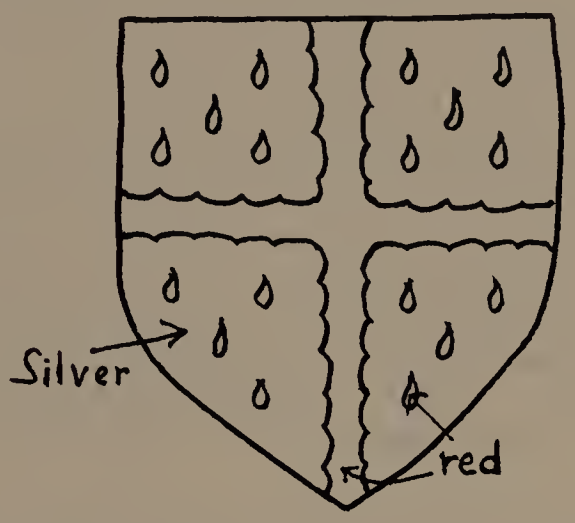
Note the very early (c.1285) arms attributed to Raf le Fitz.

Fitz of Fitz-Ford (Visitations of the County of Devon, p.342) were entitled to a coat of arms thus: "Arms: - Arg.guttée de sang a cross engrailed Gu.

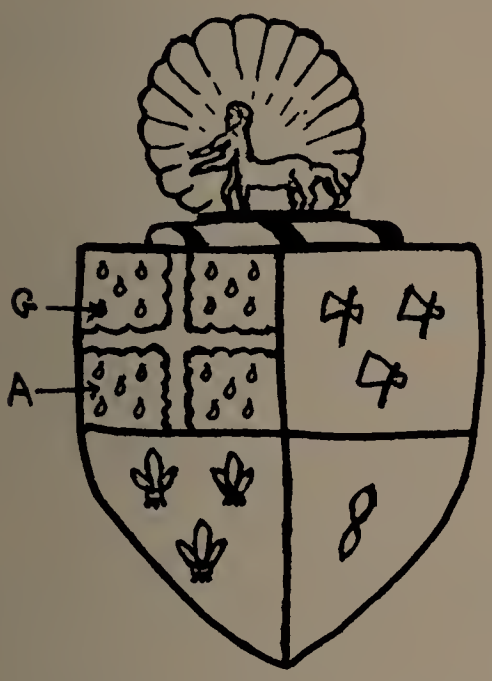
Crest: - In an escallop Arg.a centaur, Gu."

The shield was silver ("Argent") decorated with drops of blood ("guttée de sang"). Upon it was a red ("gules") cross. The crest describes a red centaur in a silver shell ("escallop").

Mr.Michael Dormer, genealogist, of Newbury, Co.Berks., sent an illustration of the shield thus:



The writer has also seen this same interpretation in a newspaper column on heraldry, and a similar illustration on p.23 of Hist.of Simeon Newton Cutler, Mary(Fitts)Cutler and the Fitts Family (privately printed).



It also appears in the upper left quarter of a coat of arms copied by Arthur M.Fitts III(from Harl.MSS.1091.folio 78b)

This latter must have been a shield which quartered the Fitz arms and those of three other families, with whom they had intermarried.

From other notes of Arthur M.Fitts III, taken in Tavistock in the late 1950's, we have "over our monument, on the West side, the arms of Fytz carved on a shield of stone, on the East side those of Sydenham, and in the front, with helmet and crest above, the whole atchievement of John Fytz, i.e. his own arms and those of Denys, Kitesfords, Curtoys, and Stourtons, impaled with the three rams, the arms of Sydenham". The monument thus described is the tomb of John (d.1589) and Mary (Sydenham) Fitz in St.Eustachius Church in Tavistock, Co.Devon. "Already the Fytzes had improved their position in the county by marriages with the Denyses of Orley, the Kitesfords, Curtoys and Stourtons."(AMF)

The crest of a centaur in a shell also appears in the arms illustration in the Cutler-Fitts book.

Fairbairn's Crests of Gr.Brit.and Ireland gives a Fitts/Fitz crest as two elephants' proboscises thus:

James Harris Fitts in his genealogy also mentions a "Crest: (Two elephants' proboscis erect.)" thus: ascribing this crest to the Tavistock family.

James Harris Fitts makes no mention of the crest of a centaur in a shell, though that is definitely the crest description given in the Vis.Co.Devon for the Fitz family of Tavistock. The writer does not know to which branch of the family the crest of the two elephants' proboscises belongs.

The illustration that James Harris Fitts gives for the shield seems to put the drops of blood on the cross, which appears to be an error, thus:

The writer is not an expert on heraldry. However, the other illustrations seen thus far are of droplets of blood on the silver shield itself. The Fitz shield on John[4]Fitz' tomb definitely portrays the drops of blood on the ground of the device and not on the cross.

The arms born by the Tavistock Fitz family date from earlier than the knighthood of Sir John[5]Fitz but an actual record of the grant has not been found.

A motto as given by James Harris Fitts is "Vincam vel moriam." No source given.

Writhe's Crosses Engrailed (ms.c.1520) mentions the arms of Fitz of Fitz-Ford and they appear again at the 1531 Visitation of Devon, so the family was entitled to them at least eighty years before the time of Sir John[5]Fitz' knighthood.

Another early (c.1520) manuscript, Writhe's Saltires names a coat of arms (blazoned sable a saltire engrailed argent) attributed to "Mons le fitz". This coat is not attributed to anyone named Fitz in Papworth's Ordinary, and we have no other knowledge of it.

A family member sent a picture of another coat of arms incorporating three pods on a climbing vine. The correspondent said a commercial firm had sold them the photo and had claimed that it was attributed to the Fitts/Fitz family in Rietstap's Armorial Général.

However, the Chester Herald of the College of Arms, having consulted their second edition (1884) of Rietstap's Armorial Général says such a coat does not appear under Fitts. There are entries therein to "de la Fite (Britanny); de la Fite de Pelleporte (Guyenne & Champagne); Edle von Fils (Bavaria); Fitz (Silesia); Fitsch (Austria); Marquis de la Fitte (Guyenne, Gascony); Fitte de Soucy (Ile de France); de Fize (Liège) and Fizes (Rouerge)" as well as indexed entries under Fitch, Fitzalan, Fitzclarence, etc.

As mentioned above, the writer is not knowledgable in the field of heraldry. However, the above references obviously point to a continental origin for some Fitts/Fitz families and specific readers may wish to consult the Rietstap source further. The Chester Herald says none of the above names relate to a coat of arms bearing three pods in their 1884 edition.

FITZ FAMILY OF FITZ-FORD, TAVISTOCK, CO.DEVON

The earliest family member of whom we have some considerable knowledge was John Fitz, a lawyer and Bencher of Lincoln's Inn.

The Inns of Court (Lincoln's Inn, the Inner Temple, the Middle Temple, and Gray's Inn) are in London. They are very ancient and unchartered societies, having the exclusive right of admitting to the bar, and are descendants of the early 12th and 13th century law schools.

Lincoln's Inn is situated in the heart of London, south of High Holburn, north of the Royal Courts of Justice, west of Chancery Lane, and east of Lincoln's Inn Fields.

Chancery Lane was originally called New Street. Centuries ago, when it was really in the open country, Hubert de Burgh, Earl of Kent, gave a house and church, standing on the site of Lincoln's Inn, to a group of Friars Preachers. When their body was moved to Blackfriars, the preachers gave these buildings, by charter, to Henry de Lacy, Earl of Lincoln. This occurred in 1285/6. Henry died in 1311. The exact connection between the Earl of Lincoln and Lincoln's Inn is lost in history. However, the present buildings now stand partly on this land once owned by him, and, presumably, the name of the Society derives from his name. He might have been its patron.

The history of the Inns of Court is interesting. In early medieval times learning was centered in the Church, and lawyers were churchmen skilled in canon law. These clerks and priests at times lectured outside the Church. However, the development of civilian common law eventually called for the training of civilian lawyers.

In 1292, King Edward I issued an Ordinance placing lawyers under the control of the judges. This reform removed the legal profession still further from the Church.

Early "schools" of law centered around groups of practising lawyers who gave lectures and were, what we would call in modern terms, the faculty. Students came to sit at the feet of these "masters" to receive their training. In some ways these early schools were similar to other medieval guilds. The "Inn" was a town house and here the students lived. There was a library, a dining hall and a chapel. There were rooms in which the students, or apprentices, could work and study.

The present buildings of Lincoln's Inn include an Old Hall, Gate House, Old Buildings, the Chapel, Old Square, Stone Buildings, New Square, Hale Court, New Hall and the Library. There are gardens, and other gateways to the grounds.

The Old Hall of Lincoln's Inn was built about 1490, and replaced an older building. Thus there are no buildings standing today which would have been known by John Fitz. He walked these grounds, however, and left his name on the pages of the Black Books.

The official written records of the Honorable Society of Lincoln's Inn are called the "Black Books" and they go back to 1422 A.D. The Society is older than that, but those are the first of the records that survive.

There are three ranks of membership in the Society, the student, the barrister, and the bencher. When the student has "kept" the necessary number of terms of study, and passed examinations, he may be called to the Bar and become a barrister or practising lawyer. The Benchers or Masters of the Bench are the governing body of the Inn.

The Black Books, volume I, as printed in 1897, contains what survive of the Society's records from 1422 A.D. to 1586 A.D.

The original Book I contains 180 folios and part of another at the end. It covered events happening from the first year of the reign of Henry VI (i Henry VI, 1422) to the second year of the reign of Edward IV (ii Edw.IV, 1471).

Folio 7, Book I, lists John Fitz thus: "John Speke, John Fortescu, junior, Robert Danvers, John Stafford, John Fitz and John Forster, sureties for John Bate, Steward." (no date)

If it were seemly to insert a light note into matters pertaining to the law, one might remark on the dire necessity for surnames! In that one sentence, six of the seven men mentioned were named John.

The men "assigned to have the governance of this Inn for the whole of the third year of King Henry VI, 1424/5" were: Rye, Symonde (John), Gilbarde, Crakenthorpe, Fortescu, junior (John) and Scheffelde (Robert). (Folio 9, Book I).

Governors for the year, 4 Henry VI, 1425/6, were Pek, Hampden, Sperlyng (Andrew), Fortescu, junior (John), and Sheffelde (Robert). (Folio 9, Book I).

"Governors, 6 Henry VI, 1427/8: - Sheffeld, (Robert) Danvers, (Robert), Speke, (John) Fitz, (John)."

"John Stafford delivered seven marks, collected by him, to the above-mentioned persons, which they paid to Philip Pursser, the brewer, on S.Andrew's day (Nov.30), 6 Henry VI, 1427, in full payment of 105s. due to him for the whole time of Henry Lynde, the late Steward." (Folio 11, Book I).

A list of 187 names, "Fellows of the Inn" ... from Michaelmas, 6 Henry VI (1427) was taken "before Robert Scheffeld, John Speke, John Fitz, Robert Danvers and Nicholas Sibile" as having faithfully paid their dues and payments. (Folio 13, Book I).

"Governors, 7 Henry VI, 1428/9: - Fortescue, (John), Fitz, (John), Speke, (John), Stafford, (John)."

".. Dec.1, 1428. John Fitz rendered an account of divers receipts for 'Chapell Syluer', on which account he owed the Society 17s.4d., of which sum he paid 6s.8d. to Robert Hyllyng, late Clerk of the Buttery. The remaining 10s.8d. he paid to the Society in the Chapel, 17 Henry VI 1438/9" (sic as printed). It is printed as on folio 17 with other matters pertaining to 1428/9. If it does refer to the seventeenth year of the reign of Henry VI, it would be indeed 1438/9. The original would, of course, have been in hand written script, and could have been inserted later, in 1438/9, or could have been misread when the transcription of the old papers was printed in 1897.

"Sunday after Purification, Feb.2, 11 Henry VI, John Stafford, Pensioner for 10 Henry VI, 1431/2, paid to John Symond, Recorder of London, in the presence of Richard Pekke, John Hamden, John Fitz, Richard Walsh and Thomas Mareschall, the Pensioner, as the overplus of his account of the pension collected by him, £4, which John Symond then and there paid to the brewer, together with 43s.9d. collected by him from divers Fellows for arrears of commons." (Folio 18, Book I). A footnote to this paragraph in the printed Black Books says that Peke, Hamden, Fitz, and Walsh were probably the Governors for 1432/3.

"Governors, 18 Henry VI, 1429/30: Speke, Fitz, Danvers, Adam Somayster. Fortescu, 'Pensener'." (Folio 19, Book I)

(Prince calls this reference 8 Henry 6. Note the above remark about a possible misreading of "7 Henry VI" for 17 Henry VI when printed.)

These very specific references to John Fitz are possible through the efforts of my sister, Dorothy(Fitts)Baldwin, who obtained copies of the pertinent pages of the Black Books, on a visit to Lincoln's Inn. They give us a few intimate details of the responsibilities of running a student "commons" in the fifteenth century. There was undoubtedly a great deal more business involved than the few extant papers of those years show us.

The position of Bencher (or Governor) of Lincoln's Inn is an honorable one. In more recent times there have been Royal Benchers who served in an honorary capacity, including H.R.H.Prince Albert, and King George V, who both served as Benchers of Lincoln's Inn.

In John Fitz' day, when the legal profession might be said to have been in its infancy, the Benchers of Lincoln's Inn were busy superintending the rules, housing, and dining of a society of barristers and students which, in at least one of those years, numbered as many as 187 members.

John Fitz' name appeared as quoted above as a Master of the Bench, or Governor, of Lincoln's Inn in the years 1427/8, 1428/9, 1429/30, and probably in 1432/3. (Also by printed record in 1438/9, which latter date may be an error.)

He was born in or near the town of Tavistock, or at least in western Devon, and went to London to study law. John Prince, in the Worthies of Devon says that John Speke, John Fortescue and Adam Summayster were also from Devonshire.

Prince states that John Fitz was probably also a Reader in the Honorable Society of Lincoln's Inn. The written register of Readers was not begun until forty years after the written register of Governors, so, of course, his name does not appear there.

John Fitz became eminent in his profession and made a sufficient fortune in the practice of the law. He settled in a manor house about a quarter of a mile outside of Tavistock where there was a ford across the River Tavy. The manor house became known as Fitzford.

Prince makes the suggestion that "either he, or some of his ancestors, gave their additional name" to the ford, so Prince is considering that the name Fitzford might (?) be older than John Fitz, the bencher of Lincoln's Inn.

Indeed, in the times of the early fifteenth century, John Fitz would never have been able to achieve the position of comparative wealth and education in the law that he did, without having begun life as the son of a family of at least some small means. His family before him might have been landowners in that area of Devon.

However, among A.M.Fitts'III notes, quoting the Rector of St.Eustachius, appears: "In our parish documents which go back to Edward I, the name of Fytz first occurs in 1434, which fairly proves that this John Fytz, M.P., was the first of his family to settle in Tavistock."

The reader will note references to the Fitz name in the Exeter area of Devon as early as 1220-1225. Prince states: he (John Fitz) "was born in the western parts of this county, at or near the town of Tavistock". Perhaps a study of Fitz' Devonshire colleagues' origins might clarify his birthplace. John Fortescu and John Speke might have known Fitz before they served together on the Board of Governors of Lincoln's Inn. The writer has often wondered what tempted the young Devonshire lad, John Fitz, to seek his fortune studying law in London. As surviving written records before his time are scarce, their absence does not mean he may not already have had London connections, or a family already educated in the law. Or did some local Devonshire priest notice his abilities and urge him in that direction?

There was a magnificent Benedictine Abbey in Tavistock, A.D.974-1539. The family of the Dukes of Bedford received the monastic estates at the Dissolution of the Monasteries, and very little remains of the Abbey. There are standing - a late 12th cent. Court or Town Gate of the Abbey; the Still Tower; Betsy Grimbal's Tower (a remnant of the 15th cent. Abbot's Lodging); the Porch of the Misericord or Dining Room of the Abbey (c.1500); and a 13th cent. arch which was part of the north wall of the Abbey Cloisters. In 1845, Francis, seventh Duke of Bedford, replanned the town, and the center is now built mostly in Victorian style. The Parish Church of St.Eustachius (A.D.1318) is, however, standing in excellent condition.

As for the Fitz' estates, only the gatehouse of Fitzford manor is standing today. The gatehouse was originally built before 1568, and was restored in 1871, at which time it was made into a private dwelling. S.Baring-Gould in Devonshire Characters(p.185) describes "Fitzford House, a mansion .. consisting of a court, entered through a massive gatehouse, and the mansion standing back, with porch and projecting wings."

A towardly youth out of the ffree Grammar Schoole .. The pfitts for his maintenance at one of the universities."

We have inserted all of the quotations from Worth here in one place for the purpose of keeping his information together. It should be obvious to the reader from a study of the dates and names, that the references are to a sequence of members of the Tavistock Fitz family.

We quote again from the notes of AMF III:

"His [John Fytz] name occurs in 1434 [see above] and 1444 as witness to the conveyance of tenements lying between the garden of the abbot and convent and the highway from the Churchbow to the Magdalen Chapel, i.e. between the New Road and West Street. The first of these is a lease by Nicholas Forde to Bartholomew Wyndesore .. the second in very clear writing and with two thick seals, is a lease by Walter Wyndesore to Richard Wylle and Joan his wife, other witnesses, besides John Fytz, being Richard Tayle and John Brun. .. In 1460, John Fytz is the first of 22 men, who seem to be in charge of the parish lands; the document having attached to it one of our two seals with a blade of grass embedded in the wax, as a visible proof of the conveyance of the property .. Twice in 1469, he occupies the same position as first of a set of feoffees; but by this time he has a son 'John Fytz, junr', to work with him, and he has become 'John Fytz, senr'.

"In 1476, we have again but one 'John Fytz' amongst the feoffees, and this, no doubt, was the son ... The deed of 1476, besides John, the eldest son of John Fytz, M.P., mentions also his second son Walter, a John Sampson, probably the father or brother of Walter Fytz' wife Mary Sampson, and also Walter Honeychurch, who married their sister Mary Fytz. The name of this second John Fytz occurs again in 1483, 1490 and 1491; but in 1496, Walter takes his place, and we read of the 'heirs of John Fytz'. In March 1500 we find that the heirs are 'Walter Fytz Gentilman', his brother 'Roger Fytz Gentilman', and Walter's son, 'John Fytz Gentilman', who with 'William Honeychurch Gentilman' probably the son of Mary Fytz, and twenty-three others, are feoffees of the parish lands. By September 1500 Roger has left Walter and young John to fill parish offices, whilst he attends to his law business in London..."

A very early ref. to a "John Fitz, A tenant of Tavistock Abbey. Leasing a messuage and bake house in ? 1413" appears. (Chester Herald, College of Arms)

"John Fitz Of Tavistock afsd. Had grant of Protection revoked because he tarries at Tavistock instead of proceeding to Picardy. 2 December 1453. (Cal.Pat.Rolls)" (Chester Herald, College of Arms) [Presumably John Fitz, with a suitable retinue, had not presented himself in Picardy ready for service to the Crown.]

"John Fitz the Elder and John Fitz the younger. Charged with rioting at Tavistock, Co. Devon in 1472. (Cal.Pat.Rolls) (T.D.A.)" (Chester Herald)

FAMILY OF JOHN[1] FITZ, Bencher of Lincoln's Inn

John[1]Fitz was already a bencher of Lincoln's Inn in London by 1427/8, and he died, presumably in Tavistock at Fitzford, before 1476. If he is the same John of the 1472 ref. above, then his death would have been between 1472 and 1476 - and was at least after 1469 when he was still serving as a feoffee of the Parish lands.

See above for known specifics on the career of John[1]Fitz during his years at Lincoln's Inn, and details on his home at Fitzford.

There do not seem to be another pair of John Fitz' to whom the 1472 ref.could apply. The definition of "rioting" was undoubtedly different in the fifteenth century than it is today, but it's difficult to imagine the elderly lawyer in this role.

Children of John[1]Fitz:

i. John[2]. Succeeded to the estate, but left no children, and upon his death, Fitzford was inherited by his brother, Walter[2]. Note that John[2]Fitz jun.served as a feoffee of the Parish lands in 1469, when his father was also named; and also in 1476, 1483 (from AMF III notes), 1490, and 1491. By 1496 he had died. His heirs were his two brothers, Walter[2] and Roger[2], and Walter[2]'s son, John[3]Fytz.

ii. Walter[2]. 2d son. Perhaps b.c.1450-55. See below.

iii. Roger[2]. 3rd son. Living 1500. Was an heir of his bro.John[2]. By Sept.1500 he had gone to London to practice law. Will dated 28 March 1504, proved 18(28) Apr.1504 (P.C.C.) (Chester Herald says 18 April 1504. AMF III has note "proved 28 April 1504, at Lambeth".)

Hist.of Kent says will dated 17 K.Henry VII. Roger left most of his properties to his brother Walter[2], but he also left two houses, "the Lion and the Ram, in the Stews on the Bank-side near London, to be sold to build the chantry-house and endow it with maintenance for one priest to celebrate at the alter of the Trinity in Lewsham church for the founder's soul."

The two houses to be sold to build the chantry, were in Southwark. Lewisham, where the chantry-house was built is south and east of London. In his will (1504) Roger[2] desired to be buried in the Parish Church of Lewisham.

The Chester Herald has sent the following additional information: Roger Fitz married "Isabell Harvey, afterwards Isabell Fleming, widow, as by her Will dated 28 August 1543, in which desires to be buried in the Parish Church of Addington, Co.Surrey by her husband, proved 8 July 1544.(P.C.C.)."

iv. Marion[2] (Maryan, Mary). Ment.in will of her bro.Roger, 1504. "Marion, dau.of John Fitz of Tavestock, gent." mar.Walter Honychurch of Tavestock, son of John Honychurche and Joane, dau.of John Julkyn. (Vis.Co.Devon, p.478). Children (Vis.Co.Devon):(i)William[3] Honychurch of Tavestock who mar.Emma, dau.of John Coles of North Tawton. (ii)Agnes[3] Honychurch who m.(1)Richard Hawkes of Tavestock; m.(2)Richard Prideaux.

Walter Honeychurch with Walter Fitz and others were witnesses to a deed of conveyance 1497(Chester Herald). Walter Honeychurch was also a feoffee of the Parish lands in 1476.

Note: Joane, m.Robert Charnedon. Under misc.early refs.note that Joane, dau.of "John Fitz of Benethwood" might (??) be of an age to be dau.of this John. She is not ment. in the Fitz lineage for Fitz of Tavistock in Vis.Co.Devon. However, neither is Marion who is a proven dau.by her mention in Roger[2]'s will.

FAMILY OF WALTER[2] FITZ, of Tavistock (John[1])

Walter[2]Fitz, second son of John[1] was probably born at Fitzford, near Tavistock, Co. Devon c.1450-55. He d.in the 21st year of K.Henry VII.(Hist.of Kent)

The Chester Herald, College of Arms, sends: "Walter Fitz of Fitz-ford in Tavistock, afsd.Gent.Held lands, etc., in the Counties of Kent, Surrey, Essex and Southampton. Born about 1455. A feofee for Tavistock, 1476, and a witness to deeds, etc., 1497, 1500, and 1510.[sic] (Perhaps an error in dates of Tavistock charters?) Mentioned in the will of his bro.Roger[2], 1504. Walter[2]'s Will dated 10 April 1505, in which he desires to be buried in the Parish Church of Tavistock, proved 16 June next. (P.C.C.)."

Note that the 1510 date contradicts the supposed d.date for Walter.

Walter[2]Fitz mar.MARY SAMPSON.(Marie in Vis.Co.Devon, p.342) She is "mentioned in and proved her husband's Will, 1505."(Chester Herald, College of Arms)

Hist.of Kent. Ridley. (property) "in 19th year of K.Henry VI it passed away by fine to Robert Savery; from which name it was sold not many years after to Fitz, one of whom, Walter Fitz, died fiefed of this manor in the 21st year of K.Henry VII holding it of the Abbey of Towerhill, London, as then found by inquisition. He left his son and heir, John Fitz, a minor, the wardship of whom was granted by said Abbot and Convent on 5 Dec. anno 23 K.Henry VII to Piers Bevil."

"John Fitz and Robert Fitz named 1511, Mar.10 in Will of Peter Bevyill (Prerogative Court, Canterbury) (P.C.C.Holder 13)". M.L.Fitts.

Children of Walter[2] and Mary(Sampson)Fitz:

i. John[3]. See below. Minor in 1505. Ment.in fa's will. Eldest son and heir.
ii. Robert[3]. See below. Ment.in fa's will, 1505.
iii. Johanne[3]. Ment.in fa's will, 1505. (Chester Her.)
iv. Agnes[3]. Ment.in fa's will, 1505. (Chester Her.)

FAMILY OF JOHN[3] FITZ (Walter[2], John[1])

"John Fitz of Fitz-ford, afs[d] Gent. Mentioned in his father's Will, 1505. Died 9 March 1554/5. Inquisition Post Mortem taken 14 January, 1555/6 at Bodmin. Seized of the Manor of Honeycot and lands in Tamarton and Boyton. mar.Agnes, the dau:of Roger Greenfield of Stowe, Co.Cornwall." (Chester Herald, College of Arms).

Vis.Co.Devon, p.342(under Fitz of Fitz-ford): "John Fitz of Fitz-ford, 1 son and heir, d.9 Mar.1555/6. Inq.p.m. 2 and 3 Philip & Mary, No."

Piers Bevil(Peter) was named (by the Abbot of Towerhill, London) as guardian of John[3] Fitz. When Peter Bevill wrote his will in 1511(1515) he named John[3] and Robert[3]Fitz who had been left minors when their father died. Peter also named his own granddaughter Matilda Bevill (d.1580) dau.of John. In the course of time Matilda was to marry Sir Richard Grenville (d.1550), Marshall of Calais, brother of Agnes Grenville who mar.John[3] Fitz. Sir Richard (d.1550) Grenville and Matilda(Bevill)Grenville were the grandparents of Sir Richard Grenville, Sheriff of Cornwall, 1578, who was killed (1591) in a sea fight in the Revenge under Sir Francis Drake. Sir Richard Grenville (d.1591) was the grandfather of Sir Richard Grenville (bp.1600) who mar.(as her 4th husband) Mary[6]Fitz, dau.of Sir John[5]Fitz.

Note also the Mary Fitze who mar.1554, Lezant, Co.Cornwall, John Beyle [Bevyle?]. Her identity has not been proven. (See under: Fitz Family of Lezant.)

AGNES GRENVILLE who mar.John[3]Fitz was a dau.of Roger Grenville (d.7 July 1523, called "The Great Housekeeper") and Margaret, dau.of Richard Whitleygh of Elford.

Roger Grenville (d.1523) was a son of Sir Thomas Grenville (d.1513) (Kt.temp.E.IV) and his first wife Isabella, dau.of Otes Gilbert. (Vis.Co.Cornwall, p.191)

John[3]Fitz' name appears as a feoffee of Tavistock parish lands three times in 1525, twice in 1533, and once in 1540. In 1549 as 'John Fytz Esquier', he was "holder of a lease granted by Thomas Glanfeld the prior and by the brothers and sisters of the hospital of St.Mary Magdalene and St.Theobald."(AMF III notes)

"In 1552 and 3 some parish lands, now managed by the 'Eight Men' ' chosen by the general consent of the parish to be supervisors and dispensers for the use of the parish and its poor and its hopital', are bounded by lands of John Fytz Esq., Thomas Tremayne Esq., Richard Fortescue, and the Earl of Bedford."(AMF III)

FAMILY OF ROBERT[3] FITZ (Walter[2], John[1])

Robert[3]Fitz was mentioned in his father's will, 1505. Second son. Vis.Co.Devon p.342, under Fitz of Fitz-ford says: Robert[3] m.(1) Mary, eldest dau.and coheir of _____ of Saltashe, Cornwall. Robert[3] m.(2) Agnes, 2[nd] dau.& coheir of Nicholas Rowe of Lamerton (Co.Devon).

However on p.248 & p.661 under Rowe of Lamerton (Vis.Co.Devon) we find that Nicholas Rowe of Lamerton, bur.28 Mar.1609 at Lamerton, was mar.to Agnes, dau.& coheir of "Robert Fytz of Tavistocke" in Co.Devon. She bur.30 Oct.1612 at Lamerton (Lamerton Par.Reg.) as "Mrs.Anne". Nicholas Rowe was the eldest son of John Rowe of Lamerton and Elizabeth, dau.& hey.of _____ Hill. Vis.Co.Devon lists 3 sons and 5 daus.of Nicholas & Agnes(Fytz)Rowe. Their 3d son Nicholas bp.26 May 1589 at Lamerton was an Attorney at Law in London, carrying on the tradition of his Fitz' ancestors. Lamerton is just north of Tavistock.

There seems possibly (?) to be a contradiction between the information given by members of the Fitz family and that given by the Rowe family in the Vis.Co.Devon. Did Robert^3 marry a Rowe? Or did his dau.? Or did they both??

Note that a John^{1}Roe of Lamerton, Co.Devon, came to Massachusetts in 1640.

No children are given in Vis.Co.Devon (p.342) for Robert^{3}Fitz. However, that genealogy is following the direct line of the "Fitz of Fitz-ford" and therefore gives all children of John^3 and the heirs of the estate through the generations. The absence of children listed there for Robert^3, Edward^4, George^4 and Francis^4 does not mean for certain that there were none.

The eight children of Nicholas and Agnes (Fytz) Rowe of Lamerton were bp. 10 Feb. 1573/4 - 26 May 1589, from which one might presume an approx. b.date of c.1553 for Agnes. Robert^3 was a minor in 1505. Could Agnes have been a dau.of a younger Robert?

James Harris Fitts' book gives a line from Robert^3 thus: Robert^4, d.ae.29; Walter^5; Robert^6 (the immigrant to America). NO PROOF as yet found to substantiate this. Nor has any source as yet been found for the statement that Robert^4 "d.ae.29" - (Or that there was a Robert^4?) Unless the suggestion that Agnes(who m.Nicholas Rowe and who was dau.of a Robert Fytz)was perhaps b.at a later date than we would presume the children of Robert^3 to have been born,might serve to indicate the existence of a Robert^4?

FAMILY OF JOHN^4 FITZ, of Fitz-ford (John^3 , Walter^2 , John^1)

John^{4}Fitz, eldest son of John^3 and Agnes(Grenville)Fitz was probably born at Fitzford, near Tavistock, Co.Devon, in 1528/9 or earlier. He was "aged 27 years and more at his father's death." (Vis.Co.Devon p.342)

He was heir to his father's property, and was a lawyer of great ability. Prince in the Worthies of Devon quotes at great length from a learned opinion of John Fitz discussing Tyth-wood and Sylva Caedua. First, dated 10 May 1579 is a long clarifying letter to a Church dignitary at Exeter. Then comes Fitz' determination of the case wherein he quotes laws in Latin, and explains that the Church is not entitled to tythes of wood above twenty years' growth. Apparently the law was quite specific 'That an oak or an ash within sixteen years of age is .. Cadua, and may be cut down for firebote'. But wood above twenty years of age was timber and would 'serve both for plowbote and housebote.'

This writer does not pretend to enough legal ability to follow the entire opinion but it certainly represents the work of an extremely well-educated man. In his letter to the cleric he also uses Latin quotations freely and offers the interesting thought that he "would be as glad to attain the frindship of the simplest enemy, as I do not regard the malice of the proudest". Signing himself "Yours in friendship to use, John Fitz."

He is said to have left behind him a large volume of legal opinions in manuscript entitled "Fitz his Reports". Prince (p.362) thought that it had never been printed and did not know whether it had survived.

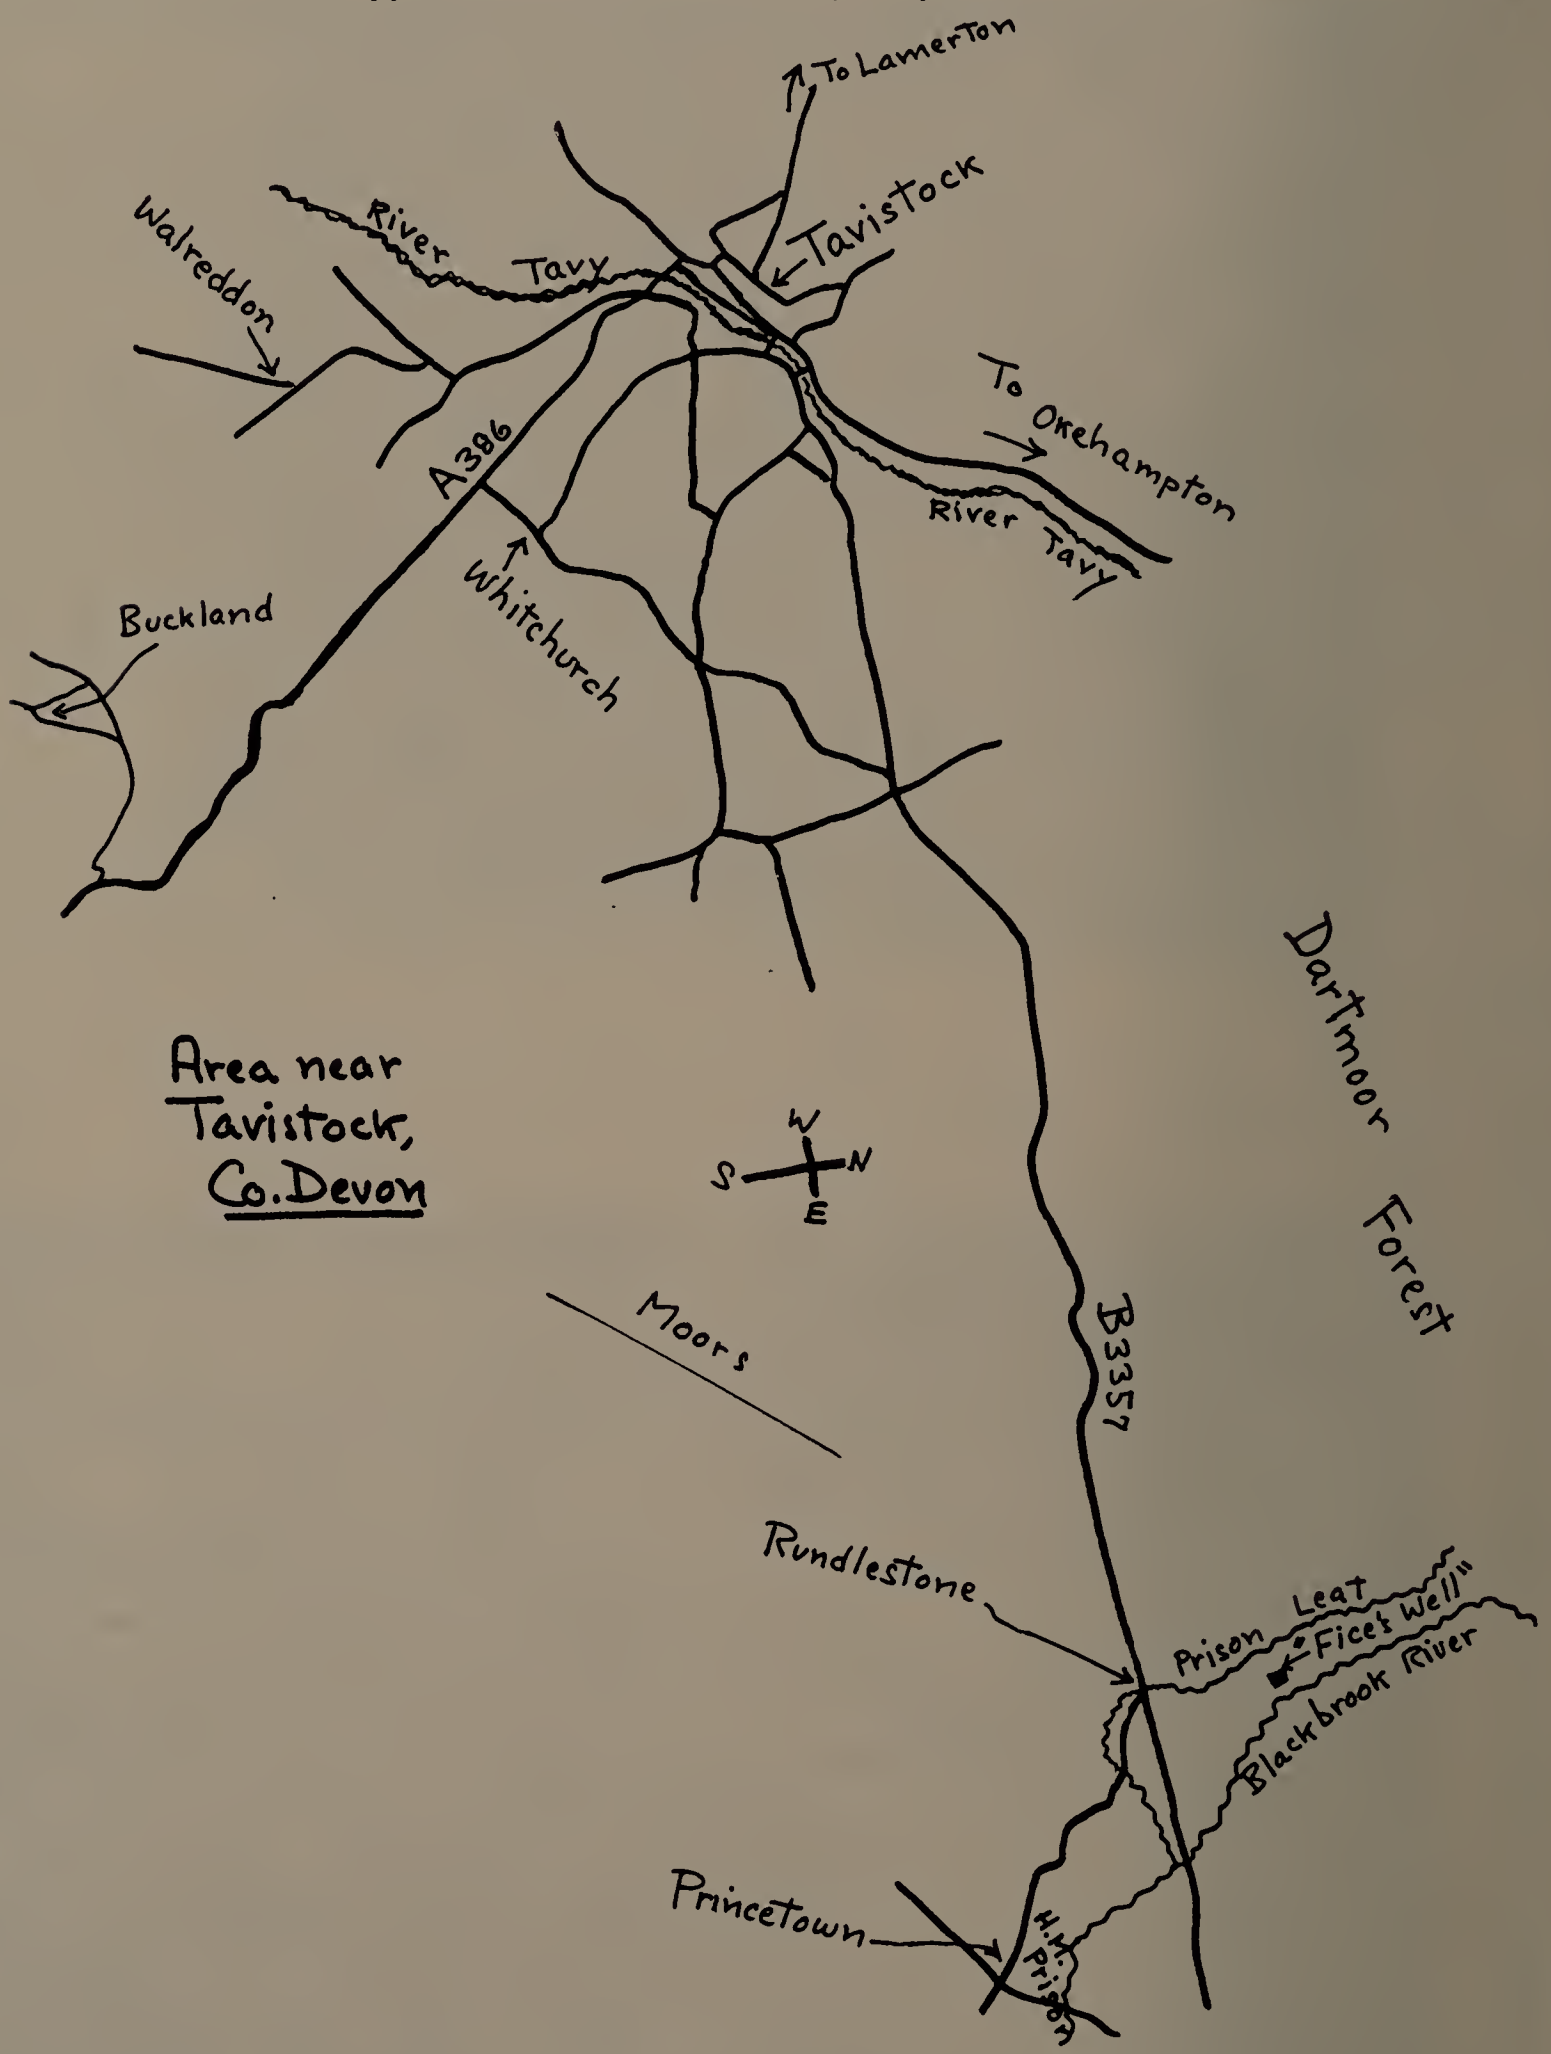
John^{4}Fitz was High Sheriff of Devonshire in either 23^d or 25th year of Queen Elizabeth's reign. (Prince)

An ancient story has it that John^4 and his wife Mary were out riding and were led astray by pixies, to be lost in a bog on Dartmoor. They finally had given up finding their way, when they came upon a pure spring. After refreshing themselves at the spring, the power of the pixies was dispelled and John^{4}Fitz and his wife rode safely off the moor. He had a stone erected above the spring in gratitude for their deliverance. The spring, still called Fitz's Well, is today within the grounds of Dartmoor Prison.

James Harris Fitts quotes at length from a person who had visited the well in 1831:"'I directed my course to the house on the moor near Rundle Store [sic], where a woman offered to guide us to the well. We proceeded in a northerly direction along the eastern bank of the leat that conveys the water to the prison. After we had gone about a half a mile we turned off at a right angle, following the direction of what appeared to be an old hedge or part of an enclosure, at no great distance to the left of which we reached the spring, which is nearly in the midst of a bog. It is situated on a gentle declivity near Blackabrook (over which a little lower down is an ancient foot bridge). The edifice about the well consisting of flat stones of granite, is about three feet in height and width. On the front edge of the stone is the inscription I.F. and the date is 1568.'"

S.Baring-Gould writing in 1908 on Devonshire Characters (p.185-211) says the well was then enclosed "in the reclaimed tract made into meadows by the convicts of Princetown" and was "surrounded by a protecting wall".

"Fice's Well" still appears on Ordnance Survey Map Sheet 175, north of Rundlestone.



In his notes of the area A.M.Fitts III speaks of a covered well in the field opposite the New Church in Tavistock.

It is not really a well but a small reservoir. Springs higher up in the field feed a very pure supply of water into the little basin.

"The overflow, now diverted to the Gas Works, was originally, as the lease of 1568 tells us, taken through a garden that had been John Northcott's, to the mansion of Fytz-ford, and some of the lead piping was unearthed when the foundations of the New Church were laid in 1865. The stone covering of the well, now overgrown with ivy, is six feet square and eight feet high, the roof being rounded from back to front, and the entrance closed with an old wooden door in a low granite arch. When John Fytz covered in the well, in 1568, the field in which it stands was called the Bought Hayes; now it is known, and has been for long past, as Bolt-House Close, probably an unconscious change of the old name." (AMF III notes)

This second "spring" in Tavistock itself, with its ivy covered stone springhouse has sometimes been confused with the well out on the moor. We have been told that they are two different places.

James Harris Fitts says that the conduct house at Fitzford was built by either John[4] Fitz, or by his father. He states that a lease survives, dated in the 10th year of the reign of Elizabeth, in which "John Fytz" was given the right to convey water "'in pipes of timber, lead or otherwise to his mansion house at Fitzford.'"

Thus as well as the popular story of the pixies on the moor, we have another picture of a practical man laying pipes to bring a good water supply to his home.

John[4]Fitz served as a Representative in Parliament for Tavistock in 1554/5. (Chester Herald, College of Arms, London) As owner of Fitzford Manor, he was a prominent man of Tavistock and of the Parish during his lifetime.

Note in the preceding pages the several references in Worth to John ffytz Esquire. An "esquire" was one step above a "gentleman" in order of precedency, but was not a knight. Note however that the family did already have a coat of arms.

John[4]Fitz mar.MARY SYDENHAM, dau.of Sir John Sydenham of Brampton(Brimpton, Brympton)Co.Somerset, Kt.and his wife Ursula Bruges(Bridges), dau.of Sir Giles Bruges of Coberly,Co.Gloucester.(Vis.Co.Dev.p.342 and Hist.Syd.Fam.p.119). Mary was named in Inquest held in 1589 on her husband's death and was therefore then living. The Chester Herald says she was "sole exōr:" of her husband's will and was living 1605.

"The will of John Fitz, dated 1st November, 1589 mentions 'my wife Mary Ann Sydenham. Brother-in-law Sir John Sydenham'. On a monument in Tavistock church to the memory of John Fitz is a shield bearing his arms impaling Sydenham quartering Kitsford and Stourton." (Hist.of the Sydenham Family p.134)

All other refs.make no mention of a middle name "Ann", and as Mary did have a sister Ann, this use of the middle name in the Hist.Sydenham Fam. may be in error.

"The will of Lady Elizabeth Chandos, 5 Sept.1559, mentions 'my niece Fitz, Elinor Sydnam, my cousin John Fitz.'" John Bridges, first Lord Chandos, was a brother of Ursula (Bridges)Sydenham.(Hist.Sydenham Fam. p.119). This means that John[4] and Mary(Sydenham)Fitz were married before Sept.1559.

"Sir Francis Drake .. There was a friend of the Drake family, John Fitz, who owned the estate of Fitzford in .. Tavistock (near Drake's old home) as well as a house at Lewisham. He was now (1585) dead and his property had descended to his son, another John Fitz, whose wife Mary, was a sister of Sir George Sydenham .."(Hist.Syd.Fam.p.518). In either Feb.or June of 1585 Sir Francis Drake mar.Elizabeth Sydenham, dau.of Sir George Sydenham. They had no children. Sir Francis Drake was b.c.1540-45 near Tavistock, Co.Devon, and tradition says, was bp. in St.Eustachius Parish Church there.

The above ref.is interesting in that it mentions the Lewisham properties as still being in the family. It is also noteworthy, of course, that Mary(Sydenham)Fitz was an aunt of Sir Francis Drake's wife.

The Hundred of Tavistock in the Devon Muster Roll for 1569. Comp.by Howard and Stoate.

A key was given grading the parishioners as to their wealth and thus determining what was to be required of them. John Fitze, being in class L 7 had a worth of £40 to 100 marks, and had to provide 2 corslets, 2 almain rivets, 2 pikes, 1 bow, 1 sheaf of arrows, 1 steel cap, 2 harquebuts, 2 morions.

John[4] and Mary(Sydenham)Fitz had one son, Sir John[5]Fitz. In common with most Englishmen of the sixteenth century, and many of us today, John[4]Fitz must have believed in some superstitions. As well as the tale about being saved from the power of the pixies by the miraculous spring, we have another story about John[4]Fitz' interest in astrology. He saw very unlucky signs in the heavens at the time of his son's birth, and feared that the child would come to an unhappy end. He is reported to have asked the midwife to try to delay the birth, if only for an hour, but this was not to be done. Thus, the baby, later to become Sir John[5]Fitz, was born under unfortunate heavenly signs. History, as we know, showed the prediction to be a true one. (See Prince, p.362-3)

If John[4] and Mary were married before 1559 and this, their only child of record, was born c.1575, one can readily imagine that the parents were very anxious about the birth and well-being of the child. Being a man of learning, it would have been natural for John[4] to turn to the science of the day to relieve his anxiety. Unfortunately the astrological signs did just the opposite.

"John Fitz of Fitz-ford .. Died 2nd January 1589/90 and Inquisition Post Mortem taken 21 March 1589/90 at Exeter. Will dated 1 November 1589 and proved 9 March next.(P.C.C.)"(Chester Herald). (AMF III notes say d.8 January 1589/90.)

John[4]Fitz "died 1589. Inq.p.m. 32 Eliz.No.45". (Vis.Co.Devon p.342)

The S.Mary Magdalene Chapel stands in the northeast corner of the Parish Church of St.Eustachius in Tavistock. Near this Chapel is the memorial to John[4]Fitz (1528-1589) and his wife Mary Sydenham. The figures, beneath a canopy supported by five columns, are of a knight and his lady. Behind them a youth is kneeling in prayer, a representation of their son Sir John[5].

The identity of John[4] and Mary(Sydenham)Fitz and their son as the persons in the Tavistock Church Memorial is from a small booklet compiled by the Tavistock Parochial Church Council from the work of J.J.Alexander, M.A. The dates of 1528-1589 are also given in the same booklet. The memorial bears the Fitz' arms impaled with the Sydenham arms. Another more minute description of the armorial bearings on this tomb appears in the chapter on coats of arms.

The writer has seen the tomb. Written refs.appear describing the gentleman portrayed (John[4]Fitz) as a "knight". The presence of the Sydenham arms proves his identity, but nowhere in written record of his day have we found him called a knight, the first knight of record in the Fitz lines being his son Sir John[5]. The Tavistock Fitz family, however, did have the right to their coat of arms before the knighthood of Sir John[5]. No actual date of its grant found.

The figure on the tomb is indeed dressed in armor. Certainly one proof that the family was entitled to arms well before Sir John[5]Fitz' day rests in the fact that his father's tomb bears them. It does not seem reasonable that the dissolute Sir John[5] was the designer of this elaborate memorial. He was only fourteen when his father died, and it was probably erected by his mother - (or by John[4]Fitz himself?). Notice the 1566/7 payment for "master ffytz armes & for settyng the armes". (Churchwardens' Accts. Worth)

A.M.Fitts III notes mention that "before the church was restored in 1845, there had been a slab in the ground near the memorial reading: 'Here lyeth John Fytz of Fitzford Esquier' with the date 15?9, the third figure being too worn to be deciphered.."

After the death of John[4]Fitz in 1589/90, Mary(Sydenham)Fitz retired to Walreddon, and the guardianship of their minor son was committed to Sir Arthur Gorges.

The widow Mary m.(2) as his second wife, Sir Henry Knevett of Charleton. He d.1598 and Mary m.(3) Sir Christopher Harris of Radford. James Harris Fitts calls her second husband "Sir Henry Kuyvet of Chattleton in Weltshire", but he appears as above in the Visitations where Mary is called "da.to Sir John Sidenham, widow to John Fitch of Fitchford, co.Devon, Esq." James Harris Fitts, Baring-Gould, and AMF III notes are our authorities for Mary's 3d marriage to John[4]Fitz' old friend Christopher Harris.

One of the daus.of Sir Henry Knevett, by his first wife Elizabeth Stomps, was Frances who m.Sir Wm Bevill of Killegarth in Cornwall. Another dau.Katherine m.Thomas Howard, Lord Walden, 2d son to Thomas, Duke of Norfolk. Mary's second husband appears as "Sir Henry Knyvett of Charlton, Co.Wilts." in Hist.Sydenham Fam.

Child of John[4] and Mary(Sydenham) Fitz:

i.Sir John[5]. b.prob.at Fitzford, Tavistock, Co.Devon, c.1575. (Aged 14 yrs.and 27 wks. at his father's death in 1589/90 - Chester Herald). See below.

FAMILY OF SIR JOHN [5] FITZ (John[4] , John[3], ,Walter[2], John[1])

Sir John[5]Fitz lived a short but tempestuous life.

He was married, before his majority, to Bridget, second dau.of Sir Wm Courtenay of Powderham, Kt., and Elizabeth, dau.of Henry Manners, Earl of Rutland, K.G. Bridget Courtenay had two sisters and seven brothers. Bridget's grandfather Sir Wm Courtenay of Powderham was killed at the siege of St.Quentin 26 Sep.1557. He had been next heir to the Earldom of Devon on the death of Edward, 1556.

Bridget's brother George Courtenay mar.as his 2d wife, Elizabeth, dau.of Sir George Sydenham of Coombe Sidenham, Co.Somerset, and widow of Sir Francis Drake of Buckland.(Vis.Co.Cornwall p.108-9).

Marriage settlement date between John[5]Fitz and Bridget Courtenay as per Vis.Co.Dev. p.342 was 11 March 1598.

S.Baring-Gould in his Devonshire Characters(1908) has much to say about the dissolute life of Sir John[5]Fitz as does The Bloudie Booke; or, the Tragical End of Sir John Fitz. London, 1605. The latter was apparently written by the chaplain to the Earl of Northumberland.

In 1599, 4 June, after a dinner and drinking party at Tavistock, a dispute arose between John[5]Fitz and M[r] Nicholas Slanning about whether a parcel of land Fitz held of Slanning was freehold, or copyhold. They began their quarrel at the table and Fitz attacked Slanning with his dagger. Separated by their friends, and with the quarrel supposedly patched up, Slanning left. On his way to Bickleigh, he dismounted and sent his man to lead the horses around a rough descent while he walked alone through a field.

Meanwhile, Fitz, with four men attending him, had followed. Though Slanning was on the defensive, some progress was made in talking the matter over and they were putting up their swords when Fitz' man, named Cross, chided him for giving up the quarrel.

Impulsively, Fitz again drew his sword. With this sudden development, Slanning stepped backwards. His spur caught in the ground and he was "foully killed" by Fitz.

John[5]Fitz, aged twenty-four, having committed his first murder, fled to France. He stayed there until Dec.1599 by which time his mother and his wife had obtained a pardon for him from Queen Elizabeth.

However, Slanning's widow sued for damages and won the verdict.

Upon James I's coronation in 1603, John[5]Fitz was among those knighted, not because of any special service to the Crown but probably because of his family connections and properties. (We have also read that King James I raised needed revenues at that time by selling knighthoods.)

Sir John[5]Fitz continued his riotous living , and at least one account says that his wife returned to her father's home with their daughter.

In 1605 Sir John[5]Fitz was summoned to appear in court in London, Baring-Gould says to answer charges for compensation claims made by the children of Nicholas Slanning. Prince says that Fitz had committed another murder and was hurrying to London to seek an official pardon.

No one seems to come up with any facts on a second murder, and it may well be that the trip to London was to answer charges by the Slanning heirs, and also by Sir William Courtenay who was attempting to protect his daughter's interests from further dissipation of the Fitz' properties.

In any case, Sir John[5] set out on horseback with one servant, and was evidently most fearful of what would befall him in London, or on the way there. "Dissipation had weakened his mind and shattered his nerves."(Baring-Gould) He was apparently afraid he was going to be waylaid and murdered. At Kingston-on-Thames he dismissed his servant, having become suspicious that he was in league with "his enemies", and rode off alone into the night.

In Twickenham, at a small tavern called the "Anchor" he demanded admittance at two A.M. The owner, one Daniel Alley, most reluctantly admitted him and gave him his own bed as none other was available. Mistress Alley went to sleep with the children. For the rest of the night they listened to Fitz tossing and turning and crying out about his enemies.

At dawn Daniel Alley was about to go out to mow a meadow with his neighbor. His wife begged not to be left alone in the house with Fitz not yet gone. Alley and his friend went up to the chamber door and conversed together about what to do. Sir John[5], hearing them, rushed out in his nightgown, sword drawn. Thinking his "enemies" had surrounded him, he fell upon his host - and killed him. He then wounded Alley's wife with his sword. With daylight coming, he discovered what he had done, and in despair stabbed himself in two places. A surgeon bound up his wounds, but he tore off the bandages and bled to death.

Daniel Alley was buried 8 August 1605. Sir John[5]Fitz was buried 10 August 1605 in the Chancel at Twickenham.

The times in which he lived certainly were violent ones with sudden and unjust death no novelty, but it does seem that Sir John[5]Fitz outdid himself, and must have been a man with an extremely violent temper. Does the modern reader also detect a sad alcoholic in this misspent man?

The Hist.of the Granville Family (p.199) sums up his career thus: "Sir John Fitz was a dissolute character, and in a drunken brawl had treacherously stabbed Nicholas Slanning, and six years afterwards, while evidently suffering from delirium tremens, had killed himself."

We have seen several renditions of his story and have tried to include what appeared to be the fullest one. There are seeming contradictions in the several accounts.

Bridget(Courtenay)Fitz was living at Okehampton in 1605. (Chester Herald) Baring-Gould says she was at Radford.

Sir John[5]Fitz, Knight, "died 9 Aug.1605. Inq. p.m. Wards and Liveries, Bun.1, No.26." (Vis.Co.Devon p.342)

Child of Sir John[5] and Bridget(Courtenay) Fitz:

i.Mary[6]. bp.1 Aug.1596 at Whitchurch. Aged 9 years 1 Aug.1605. (Vis.Co.Devon p.342) See below.

FAMILY OF MARY[6] (FITZ) HOWARD (Sir John[5],John[4],John[3],Walter[2],John[1])

Mary[6], only child of Sir John[5] and Bridget(Courtenay)Fitz was bp.at Whitchurch, 1 Aug. 1596 (Parish Register).

An article in Trans.Devonshire Assn. July 1890, says that Mary was probably born at Walredden, a dower-house, belonging to the Fitz' estates, and bp.at Whitchurch the same day. The Walredden dower-house bears the initials M.F. and the date 1591, probably indicating that Mary(Sydenham)Fitz lived there after her husband's death.

Mary[6] was the only heiress to her father's considerable estate and in those days women did not have much to say about their lives. She was a great beauty and was married in 1608 to Sir Allen Percy, sixth son to Henry, 8th Earl of Northumberland. The Earl had been granted wardship of the little heiress. Sir Allen Percy and the Lady Mary[6] never lived together as she was only twelve years old when the marriage took place. He was a good deal older than she, being 31 yrs.of age and he died some three years later, in Nov.1611, having taken a severe chill. She was left a widow at the age of about fifteen.

She next eloped and married the Hon.Thomas Darcy, eldest son of Thomas, Lord Darcy of Chiche, later Earl Rivers(Prince p.363). He was a youth the same age as Mary[6], but he died within a few months of their marriage.

Mary[6]'s third husband, whom she married in 1612, was Sir Charles Howard, 4th son of Thomas, first Earl of Suffolk, who was afterwards Lord High Treasurer of England. Sir Charles Howard was knighted at Newmarket 13 Feb.1610/11. They had two daughters, Elizabeth[7] and Mary[7]. Sir Charles Howard died 22 Sep.1622, some reports say by having taken a chill - some that he committed suicide.

It was not until 1628 that Mary[6] married again. Her fourth husband was Sir Richard Grenville, bp.26 June 1600 at Kilkhampton, second son of Sir Barnard Grenville of Stow, Co.Cornwall and Elizabeth, dau.of Philip Bevill of Kellygarth, Co.Cornwall. Marriage settlement signed 22 Nov.1628.

Sir Richard Grenville was a grandson of the famous Sir Richard Grenville of the Revenge and was himself a capable professional soldier. He was also, unfortunately, by reputation extremely cruel to enemy troops, and to civilians.

Mary[6], Lady Howard, was at that time "'still in the pride of rank, fortune and beauty, one of the stateliest dames that frequented the Court of Queen Henrietta Maria.'"

Mary[6]'s previous husbands had exploited her lands and estates to their personal benefit. Therefore, before her fourth marriage, Mary^{6} made certain that her lands and fortune would not be controlled by Sir Richard. There is evidence that he knew of these legal arrangements and had consented to them. Perhaps he still fully expected to be able to manage affairs to his own satisfaction.

They lived apparently happily enough, and she did allow him to collect the rents of her properties until some time after their first child was born. When Mary^{6} found that her new husband was not worthy of her trust, she began to exercise the safeguards she had provided herself to see that he did not gain full control over her fortune. The marriage fell apart with bitter disagreements over her estates and monies, her debts and his debts. Much has been written in court testimony and otherwise about their personal "battles", even to the physical abuse he applied.

Grenville found that the Earl of Suffolk, Mary^{6}'s former brother-in-law, would not pay to him monies due to Mary^{6}. In a fit of temper he called the Earl a "base Lord". The Earl took this offense to a trial in the Star Chamber and was awarded damages. Sir Richard was obliged to pay £ 4000 to the Earl and £ 4000 to the King. These were enormous sums he could not pay and he was obliged to go to debtors prison. (Another account says £ 3000 to each for a total of £ 6000)

The stormy relationship between Mary^{6} and Sir Richard ended when she was granted a separation and alimony in February 1632. They had a second child who was expected during the time they were contesting with each other in court. Mary^{6} resumed the name Howard after her separation.

Grenville escaped from prison and went abroad in Oct.1633 to "the Swedes' service in Germany". During his nearly five year absence from England, Mary^{6} got a final divorce from him.

There can apparently be no question but what Grenville was a brutal and greedy man. The worst testimony against Mary^{6} seems to be that she did not care for her children - or provide for them. Knowing her father's life story, one can well believe that her own childhood was an unhappy one.

Mary^{6} leaned towards the parliamentary cause during the Civil Wars, staying in London. Sir Richard returned to England and at first joined the Parliamentary forces, but then deserted (with troops that had been equipped by Parliament) into the service of the King. Cromwell and the Roundheads of course thoroughly hated him for this. Grenville was active on the King's behalf in western England. As a reward for his loyalty, King Charles gave Mary^{6}'s estates to her estranged husband Sir Richard. Fitzford Manor was at one time plundered by the Roundhead Army in the summer of 1644, when they believed it to be the property of the hated King's General, Sir Richard Grenville. The Town of Tavistock changed hands six times during the Civil War, between 1642 and 1646.

When Sir Richard Grenville had obtained the sequestration of Mary^{6}'s estate from the King, he had had Mary^{6}'s lawyer, Francis Brabant, who had defended her case years earlier for a divorce, hung as a spy.

Eventually, after the War, Mary^{6} recovered her properties. It is interesting that at least one encyclopedia in speaking of Sir Richard Grenville says he was impoverished by lawsuits with his wife and her family. They do not mention that the fortune and estates Mary^{6} won back from Sir Richard had originally been her own. They would also be referring of course to the lawsuit for slander mentioned above in which the Earl of Suffolk won a large judgement. As the Earl sided with Mary^{6} in keeping her properties from Sir Richard, and offered her assistance and asylum when she left him, one must assume that Mary^{6}'s relations with at least some of the Howard family were still on good terms.

Sir Richard Grenville died in 1659, reduced to poverty, and an exile.

Another book of interest is The King's General by Daphne DuMaurier, a novel in which Sir Richard Grenville is the hero, and poor Mary plays a very minor and unsympathetic role.

Mary^{6}Fitz was, by all accounts, a proud woman, of strong character, and apparently very unfeeling towards her children, especially the two Grenville children. However, when we consider how marriages were arranged in those days, with many an heiress used as a pawn to wealth and position, at least one can recognize her strength in having held onto her own through four marriages and a Civil War. We have no right to assume her mysteriously to blame for her first three husbands' deaths as folklore would have it. Nor can anyone be surprised that a woman of her nature would not allow herself to be dominated by a husband she no longer admired. Among the facts known, the one that places her in the least favorable light was her attitude towards her children. Or was that too dissimilar from the attitude of many parents of that day?

Mary[6] left only small legacies to Mary Vernon (£500) and Elizabeth Lennard (£1020) when she died in Oct.1671. She bequeathed Fitzford and all her estates to her first cousin, Sir William Courtenay of Powderham. His "second son, James Courtenay, now dwelleth at Walreddon in Whitchurch near Tavistock." (Wescott's Devonshire p.466) It was of course rather customary in those days to favor male heirs over female heirs, but Mary and Elizabeth were her own daughters.

Fitzford estate was sold to the Duke of Bedford by the Courtenays in 1750. The Duke was the owner in 1887, and the remains of the mansion had been turned into a stable and outhouse. The Walreddon property remained in the Courtenay family for nearly 300 years.

A local story tells that Mary[6] as a punishment for mysteriously eliminating her first three husbands has been doomed to travelling from the gateway of Fitzford to Okehampton Park every night in a coach made of human bones and followed by a bloodhound. The hound is to carry back one blade of grass each night and this must continue until every blade of grass in the Park has been picked. An excellent ghost story, but certainly fictitious. Another story says Mary[6] herself appears in the shape of a black hound.

After the Civil War Mary[6] returned to Fitzford and restored her home. She lived out her life there with her son George Howard helping her to manage the estates. He died in Sept.1671.

Mary[6]'s will was made 14 Oct.1671 and she died three days later. Her estate amounted to £9,179 10s.6d. not including her lands and houses.

Children of Mary6 Howard:

i. Elizabeth[7] Howard. dau.of Sir Charles Howard and Mary6Howard, b.21 Sep.1613 at Audley End, home of the Earl of Suffolk. Lady Radford in Jly 1890 article in Trans. Devonsh.Assn.says Elizabeth[7] had prob.d.bef.1628. A.Miller in an article in the same publication says she apparently d.after 1632 as she is ment.as "Bess Howard" in relation to Mary[6]'s intention of settling property on her in a letter of early 1632 from Catherine Howard, dowager Countess of Suffolk. The letter apparently written aft. Sir Richard Grenville and Mary[6] had separated.

ii. Mary[7] Howard. dau.of Sir Charles Howard and Mary6Howard, b.London. m. _____ Vernon.

iii. George[7] Howard. Illegitimate. Born Feb.1622 during Mary[6]'s marriage to Sir Charles Howard. Sir Chas.had left Engl.in Jly 1620 and had travelled in France, Germany and Italy until May 1622. There were some reports that he committed suicide. He d.in Sep.1622. Mary[6] said the boy's fa.was one John Halsey and had the boy christened George Halsey. His early yrs.were spent in concealment cared for by Mary's steward Geo.Cuttford & his mo.Anne(Halsey)Cuttford. In 1631 during all the conflict bet.Mary[6] & her husband Sir Richard Grenville the knowledge of George[7]'s existence emerged. Mary[6] did support her son in later yrs.and aft.the Civil War, as George Howard, he liv.with his mo.at Fitzford until his d.17 Sep.1671. (Note the 1657-8 ref.to Geo.Howard in Worth.) Baring-Gould in his Devonsh.Characters(p.201-2) implies that Geo.[7]Howard's fa.might have been the Earl of Suffolk, Theophilus, who was widowed in 1633, and in whose household Mary[6] continued to live. Theo. Howard was an older bro.of Mary[6]'s husband, Sir Chas.Howard. Another source suggests that the fa.might have been Geo.Cuttford, Mary[6]'s steward.

George[7]Howard m.1655, _____ Burnby. One son George[8], d.y.

iv. Richard[7] Grenville. son of Sir Richard Grenville & Mary6Howard Grenville, b.Fitzford May 1630. "Maye 16[1630] Richard, sonne of Richard Grenfield knight bapt..." (Parish Reg.) Cared for in infancy by Grenville's aunt, Catherine(Grenville)Abbot of Hartland. In Jan.1645 travelling in Europe in care of a tutor. He made a secret journey into Engl.in the spring 1647, with his fa.on a Royalist mission. No more known of him.

v. Elizabeth[7] Grenville. dau.of Sir Richard Grenville & Mary6Howard Grenville, b. Spring 1631, perhaps in Devon bef.Mary[6] left Fitzford. Another acct.says in London at the home of the Earl of Suffolk. Cared for in infancy by Grenville's aunt Catherine Abbot. In the Netherlands in 1653, liv.with her fa.and caring for him. Aft.his d.she returned to Engl.& mar.a former Royalist soldier Col.Wm Lenard.(Vis.Co. Cornwall p.192).(Lennard). Baring-Gould calls Lennard a privateer captain, later Captain of the Black Horse at Tilbury. Lennard d.1665.

It should be very obvious to the reader that our American families of Fitz/Fitts can not possibly be descended from John[4] and Mary(Sydenham)Fitz of Fitzford. Their only son, Sir John[5] was survived by an only dau. Mary[6].

There are real possibilities, however, of descent from John[3] and Agnes(Grenville)Fitz. Their sons Edward[4], George[4], and Francis[4] all reached manhood, and nothing more has been found of any descendants. They were all studying law in the mid sixteenth century which means they could, any one of them, have been of an age to be our ancestor.

A more likely possibility appears, however, in Robert[3], son of Walter[2] and Mary(Sampson)Fitz. James Harris Fitts' book includes a line from this Robert[3], as mentioned above. This line has been often quoted in secondary sources, but thus far English research has turned up nothing to substantiate it!

The ancient Parish records of Devonshire, collected in Exeter for preservation and safety were unfortunately largely destroyed in World War II by German bombs "offloaded" after a raid on Plymouth. We cannot be certain whether any further information could have been available in those missing records.

Even though the Fitz line of Fitzford is NOT ours in the later generations, it has been so often quoted as being so, in secondary sources, that the writer felt it was necessary to include it in some depth, if only to dispel that myth.

We may (?) of course be descended from the older generations of that Devonshire family. But we should repeat, we are not "descended from Sir John Fitz of Fitzford". That statement has been made many times, and it is an error.

The above Lezant information should only be read as partial, tentative family groupings.

Margery Fitze of Lezant m.28 July 1548, in Lezant _____ Weavill, of the Parish of Northill, Co.Cornwall. (Chester Herald says Margery might ?? be a sister of Walter[1] and of William[1] Fitze Senior of Lezant.)

FITTS/FITZ FAMILIES OF CO.NORFOLK, ENGLAND

There are English families in Co.Norfolk which have been partially investigated and which might very well (?) prove to be the source of our American Fitts/Fitz' ancestry.

The Visitations of Co.Norfolk(p.75) gives the same Arms and Crest for the Norfolk Co. family, with some variation, as are given in Vis.Co.Devon for the Tavistock family, i.e.:

"Fitz Arms:- Argent, gutée de sang, a cross engrailed gules, charged with an annulet or for difference.
Crest:- In an escallop argent, a centaur gules."(Vis.Co.Norfolk p.75)

The Chester Herald sends from their MS records for the Norfolk visitation (1664):
"Arms - Argent gutté de sang a cross engrailed gules in centre point an annulet Or.
Crest - Within an escalop Argent a Centaur Gules."
These being as illustrated in Vol.LXXXV, plate VIII, fig.1.

An annulet would be a small ring, and this addition represents a variation from the Devon family's shield. Manual of Heraldry, ed.by Francis J.Grant. 1952. p.24 gives Annulet as a "difference" used to distinguish the Fifth Son.

While the Norfolk family might conceivably be descended from an early generation of the Tavistock, Devon, family, we are assured that the similarity in the arms as they appear in the Visitations does not necessarily imply a blood relationship. Apparently even in the 1600's families sometimes adopted the arms of an older family of the same surname because they supposed themselves to be related - a practice rather too common today.

FAMILY OF JOHN[1] FITZ of Letheringsett, Co.Norfolk.

This family appears in the Visitation (1664) of Co.Norfolk, under John Fitz, and the listings (p.75-6) include 5 generations. One will (of Richard, 1631) has also been found.

Note: Wandering through old East Anglia in August 1984, my husband and I visited the old Saxon churchyards in many of the villages mentioned in this chapter - Letheringsett, Walsingham, etc.

In ancient Yaxham Parish I noted that Bigot and Cursons were both mentioned as landed names in the history of the Parish .. as patrons of the Church.

It is difficult, if not impossible(!), to clarify the relationships between the persons named in the above will. An attempt (supplemented by the information in Vis.Co. Norfolk) follows: FAMILY OF JOHN[1] FITZ of Letheringsett (Continued)

Children of John[1] Fitz (Of Letheringsett): [Both given in Vis.Co.Norfolk, p.75]

i. William[2] of Letheringsett. See below.

ii. Richard[2] of Letheringsett, Gent. Born c.1556. "He d.in 1630, ae.74"[sic] (Vis.Co. Norf.,p.75). Buried, Letheringsett, 19 Jan. 1631. Will dated 10 Jan.1630/1 & pr. 12 Feb.next(P.C.C.) Held lands in the Manor of Holt and Perriers and in the Parish of Saxlingham, Co.Norfolk. Bequests to the poor of Holt and Letheringsett. See Will.

Richard[2] mar.Barbara, dau.of Francis Kemp of ... Armiger. Barbara ment.in her husband's Will, then to have messuages of Biggott and Cursons, etc., for life. She was appointed Co-exōr:, but renounced same, 1630/1. Her own Will dated 18 Feb. 1640 was pr. 8 May 1650(Archd:Ct.Norwich)[P.C.C.Grey 85,Vis.Co.Norfolk]. Pr. by Richard Fitz (son of William).

Richard Fitz of Letheringsett held an "Office" which apparently yielded fees, and his "brother" Jervis was in bond to him for £100 on taking over this "Office". So the terms "servant" and "my man" used in Richard's Will would apply to apprenticeship or instruction.

FAMILY OF WILLIAM[2] FITZ
of Letheringsett (John[1])

William[2] m.(Vis.Co.Norf.) ELIZABETH COOKE, dau.of ____ Cooke of Dawling, Co. Norfolk.

William[2] Fitz, brother of Richard[2], might very well be the "William dec'd, late of Letheringsett" mentioned in Richard's will, and if(?) they are the same William, then Richard's brother was dead before 10 Jan. 1630/1. Note also however the William mentioned as "my servant" in the 1630/1 will.

Children of William[2] & Elizabeth(Cooke)Fitz:

i.Richard[3] of Letheringsett, gent. Living there at the Herald's Visitation of Co.Norfolk in 1664. Died 1676. This man is the only child of William[2] listed in Vis.Co.Norf. which seem however only to be following the main line of the family. See below.

ii.Thomas[3]. Of Letheringsett. Bapt.there 19 Jly 1601. (Added by Chester Her., College of Arms).[Could he be the "Thomas Fitz of Holt, taylor" who was to receive a bequest from Richard[2] in 1630/1 "if he be living"?] Thomas[3] Fitz of Letheringsett had a dau.Mary[4], bp.20 Je 1631 at Letheringsett, so he might not be the same man as Thomas of Holt.

iii.William[3]. Bapt.20 May 1604 at Letheringsett. (Added by Chester Herald.)

FAMILY OF RICHARD [3]FITZ of Letheringsett (William [2], John [1])

Living at Letheringsett, Co.Norfolk, 1664, Gentleman. He was mentioned as "Cousin" and was Sole-exōr: of the Will of Barbara Fitz 1640/50/51, widow of his Uncle Richard. He also served as executor of the will of his son Francis[4] in 1669.

Richard[3]Fitz mar. MARY CORCHEVER, dau.of William Corchever of Letheringsett. Mary was mentioned as "Niece" in the Will of Barbara Fitz, 1640, and was living 1664.

Richard[3] may(?) be the same Richard Fitz, "Godson", named in the 1630/1 Will of Richard[2] and in the reversion to the messuages of Biggotts and Cursons, etc., and Co-exor: of that Will, which that Richard also proved.

He might(?) also be the same Richard Fitz, living 1630/1, son of William Fitz, "servant", and father of Richard and Hamond Fitz - also mentioned in the 1630/1 Will.

But it is also very possible that more than one Richard Fitz (Fittz) was meant by the above references.

Richard[3]Fitz of Letheringsett, Gent. d.1676 (Chester Herald).

Note that William Corchevir, Richard Corchevir, godson, and "Dorothy Corchevir, widow, late wife of William Corchevir" were all ment.in 1630/1 Will. They were undoubtedly related to Mary(Corchever)Fitz, and might have been related by marriage in some other way to Richard[2]Fitz. Could Dorothy have been a sister to Richard[2]Fitz? Could another unnamed sister have been married to Gamaliell Jervis?

Children of Richard[3] & Mary(Corchever)Fitz: [First four named in Vis.Co.Norf.,p.76]

i.Francis[4]. Of Letheringsett. Son & heir, b.c.1634. Aet.30 in 1664. Buried 15 Apr.1669 at Letheringsett. Will dated 11 Apr.1669,pr.11 May next(Arch:Ct.Norwich). His cousin John ffitz of Norwich was a co-executor.(Chester Her.)

Francis[4] mar. MARY _____. And had ch.: 1.Mary[5]. 2.Child[5]. Unborn 1669.

ii.James[4]. Of Town and Parish of Holt, Co.Norfolk. Bapt.19 Sep.1636 at Letheringsett. "In default, heir to his brother, Francis, 1669"(Chester Herald). James[4] mar.MARY _____, and had issue.

iii.Barbara[4]. Bapt.3 Je 1633 at Letheringsett. Mar.JAMES DIX (Jacobi Dix). Ment. in Will of Barbara Fitt, 1640, and he Co-exōr: of that of his brother Francis Fitz, 1669.(Chester Her. & Vis.Co.Norfolk, p.76)

Note: There was a Samuel Dix of Norwich, joiner, ae.43 yrs.who (with wife and family)was examined 8 Apr.1637 for passage to Boston, New England. No known connection to James Dix but illustrative of the many families emigrating from the Norwich area in those years.

iv.Mary[4]. Living in 1664 and ment.in 1669 Will of her bro.Francis[4].

??v.Perhaps! Edmund. Of Letheringsett. He was buried there 8 Mar.1673. He mar.MARY _____. The Chester Herald puts Edmund as a possible(?) son of Richard & Mary(Corchever)Fitz and suggests that he might possibly(?) be the same person as "Hamond" referred to in the 1630/1 Will.

??vi.Perhaps! Richard. Godson of Richard[2]. Richard and Hamond (Edmund?) were (by 1630/1 Will) both under age, and were sons of a Richard Fitz then living and grandsons of a William Fitz, "Servant".

The difficulty in assuming Edmund(Hamond?) and Richard to be sons of this Richard[3]Fitz is that they were not listed as his children in Vis.Co.Norf.(p.76) which lists the other four. The Vis.Co.Norf. does not list any of Richard[3]Fitz' siblings, but in this later generation it does list Francis, James, Barbara & Mary. If they were going to list daus. Barbara and Mary one would think they would have given sons Richard & Edmund. Edmund was still living until 1673. If he and Richard were living 1630/1 they would have been older than Francis. Francis was listed in Vis. as Son and heir.

If there is any accuracy to that family write-up in Vis.Co.Norf. then one would have to believe that Richard and Hamond were the sons of another Richard, and therefore grandsons of another William. They were of course related to Richard[2] in some way.

FAMILY OF JOHN [1]FYTT of Letheringsett, Limeburner.

Could(?) he be identified with the John Fitz "sometime my man", ment.in 1630/1 Will of Richard[2]Fitz? Could(?) John the limeburner be a son of John[1]Fitt of the Parish of Swanton Morley, Co.Norfolk??

John[1]Fytt of Letheringsett, Limeburner, was mar.to ELIZABETH _____. She was ment.in, and Co-exōr: of her husband's Will, 1615.

John Fytt, Limeburner, was to be buried in the Churchyard at Letheringsett by his Will dated 20 June 1615, proved 17 October 1615.(Arch:Ct.Norwich).

Children of John[1] & Elizabeth( )Fytt:

i.John[2]. Bound in £10, to his father, as by his father's Will, 1615. [Could(?) he perhaps be ident.with the John Fitz, sometime of the Town and Parish of Walsingham, Co. Norfolk? If(?) they are the same man, John of Walsingham did have a son Richard Fitz, godson of Richard[2]Fitz, under 21 yrs.in 1630/1, and other children.]

ii.Richard[2]. Ment.in father's Will and Co-exōr: thereof, 1615. If?? he is the same man as Richard Fitz of Letheringsett, then he mar.and had ch.:1.Richard,bp.Letheringsett 18 Feb.1623/4. 2.Grace,bp.7 Dec.1625;Bur.2 Jan.next at Leth. 3.Robert,bp.19 May 1633 at Letheringsett.

iii.Robert[2]. Ment.in father's Will, 1615.[Could he be Robert Fitz, the Elder, who was buried 3 Apr.1673 at Letheringsett?]
There was a Robert Fitz who was to have a tenement at the Lyme Kilns in the Will of Richard[2]Fitz(1630/1).[Could he be this man?] That Robert had a son Richard who was godson of Richard[2] of Letheringsett and also ment.in 1630/1 Will.

??iv.Perhaps(?) Cycely Blogge ment.in 1615 Will of John Fitz.

??v.Perhaps(?) Dorothy Beach ment.in 1615 Will of John Fitz.

There was also the Richard Fitz of the Parish of Briston, Co.Norfolk, ment.in 1630 Will. Could he fit into this family? Or the family of John of Swanton Morley? We certainly donot pretend to be presenting the complete picture of the relationships in these families, or even a mildly accurate one? Richard of Briston had been using lands in the manor of Holt & Perriars which Richard[2] owned and which were now to go to the latter's "brother" Jervis. The lands had been purchased from Wm Corchever.

Much more research needs to be done to clarify and correct the materials on these several families, and to distinguish between the men of the same name. There are still possibilities that Co.Norfolk might(?) be our ancestral home.

FITT FAMILY OF SWANTON MORLEY, CO.NORFOLK.

John[1] Fitt of the Parish of Swanton Morley, Co.Norfolk.

Children of John[1]Fitt:

??i.Perhaps! John. Ment.as "sometime my man" in 1630/1 Will of Richard[2] of Letheringsett. If?? John Fitz "sometime my man" in 1630/1 Will was a son of John[1] of Swanton Morley, then he had a son Richard Fitz, and grch.living in 1630/1. Could this man be the same as John Fitz, the Limeburner??

ii.Joanna[2] bp.8 April 1561 at Swanton Morley, dau.of John.

iii.Margaret[2] bp.10 Sep.1564 at Swanton Morley, dau.of John.

iv.Rebecca[2] bp.22 Aug.1568 at Swanton Morley, dau.of John. Could she be the Rebecca Fitz of Swanton named in 1630/1 Will of Richard[2] of Letheringsett?

v.Thomas[2] bp.18 Feb.1571 at Swanton Morley, son of John. Might(?) he be identified with the Thomas Fitt who mar.Mary Pigott, 2 Oct.1598, at Middleton, Co.Norf.?

Queen Mary d.17 Nov.1558. Queen Elizabeth I reigned from 1558 until her death in 1603, when she was succeeded by James I.

Making rough interpretations, Ricus.Fytt(Richard) the carrier was apparently a freeman of Norwich approx.1572. John(Johannes)Fytt, the glover, was a freeman of Norwich approx.1587. Edward Fitts, son of Anthony of Shelfanger, Co.Norfolk, husbandman, was apprenticed to Must the worsted weaver in approx.1610.

The majority of these entries in the Norwich Register of Freemen of course postdate the departure of our emigrants to New England and Virginia. But, while they cannot pertain to direct ancestors of Robert[1], they might be of collateral interest. We know of no proven connections with the other Co.Norfolk families. However, names are certainly similar, and we note the occurrence of Dix and Kemp in the Norwich Register. The Goodwin family of Norwich is also interesting. (See Bridget1 Goodwin Travers Window of Gloucester, Mass.)

The writer saw only the above pages of the Register upon which Fitts' appear, so I do not know all of the occupations represented. However, the large number of tailors, weavers, dyers, embroiderers, glovers, linen-drapers, linen-weavers, linen and woollen weavers, and worsted weavers is certainly a meaningful commentary on how many skilled craftsmen were employed keeping the brocaded and beruffled gentry in the best finery of the day.

It also points up the fact that much of the commercial textile work - weaving, etc., was done by men. Note that Richard[3]Fitts-9 of Salisbury, Mass., was a weaver.

The sixteenth century was also a time when Flemish weavers were migrating in large numbers to the eastern counties of England to escape religious persecution in the Spanish Netherlands.

Walter Rye in his book on Norfolk Families (Norwich 1913) says:[p.217]Fitt or Fitts. This is an old Norwich name ..."Henry Fitz of Earlham was freeman, 1337(1351?) and John Fitz, blacksmith, in 1421. Richard Fytt was admitted in 1571 and John Fytt, glover, in 1586 and there are several of the name now in the city."

Co.Norfolk is not, however, the only possible source of our ancestry.

Suffolk County also offers ideas for the origin of our New England Fitts/Fitz family. Indeed, it would perhaps be our most hopeful source.

The ancient cloth industries of Britain were also busy in Co.Suffolk, as well as in Co.Norfolk.

In noting the Fittes, Fytt, Fitt families of Nayland, Stoke-by-Nayland, Needham,

Stow Langtoft, Brandon, Woodbridge, Wetherden, etc., it would be wise not to neglect further research in other environs of the old clothing and market town of Sudbury. For we do know that Robert[2] Lord (who came to Ipswich) was related to one John Lord of Sudbury, Co.Suffolk (Will 1 Mar.1640;pr.11 Jly 1655)[Waters, p.1102-3]. Katherine[1] Lord, mother of Robert[2] Lord (and presumably of Grace2Fitts) also came to Ipswich with her son Robert[2]. She and Robert had then lately sold land in Sudbury to their kinsman John Lord, "a messuage in the parish of St.Gregory in Sudbury."

Robert[2] Lord was mar.to Mary Waite, 11 Nov.1630, in Finchingfield, Co.Essex. He has always been noted as Robert[1] Lord, but in this era of the belated recognition of women in history, should we call him Robert[2], because of his mother's coming to America? Certainly he was the prime mover and she merely accompanied his family, so perhaps he should still be Robert[1] lest we confuse the reader.

Presumably with the knowledge of that land sale by Katherine and Robert Lord prior to their emigration, comes the fair certainty that Sudbury itself was Robert Lord's home town, and therefore, presumably the home of Grace(Lord)Fitts.

We were privileged in the summer of 1984 to stay at the Old Bull in the Ballingdon section of Sudbury, a sixteenth century Inn now offering "Bed and Breakfast". We could not hope on our short visit to catch any real glimpse of Robert[1]Fitts' past, but somehow I felt that he might very well have rowed a boat along the ancient River Stour, or come on horseback from some neighboring town to court young Grace Lord. Might he, the coincidences of life being many and varied, even have stayed at the Old Bull? Or stopped at another old inn outside of town where we had supper? Had he sat beneath its ancient oak beams looking at the fire on the hearth, and dreaming of America? Or had he once plowed the same field nearby where modern horseback riders could be seen cantering through the stubble of a twentieth century harvest? That evening we had driven down the Stour Valley to Lamarsh on narrow winding roads, the hedges at times reaching high above our little "Austin Mini". If I'm certain of nothing else - surely those roadside hedges - perhaps centuries old - could have been there beside the country roads - when Robert[1] and Grace, with their son Abraham [2] packed up their worldly belongings for the long adventurous voyage. And the river was there - and the old churches and churchyards.

Grace(Lord)Fitts undoubtedly sat beside a plain deal table in her old home kitchen comparing ideas with her mother Katherine - and her sister-in-law Mary(Waite)Lord about what they could take with them in the tiny ships - and saying last farewells to family and friends they would never see again.

The reader must understand of course that we still have no proof of Robert[1]Fitts' parentage or birthplace, but he and Grace were married in England, and she presumably came from the Sudbury area. [Or should we still bear a question on the specific relationship meant by Robert[1]Lord when he called Grace Fitts his "sister"? Most researchers have accepted her identity as a Lord.]

Some research in the PARISH REGISTERS of Co.Suffolk has been done.

More than one knowledgeable correspondent has suggested that we should not overlook the name Fitch in further English research.

The experienced researcher will surely understand the reasoning behind the inclusion of so much scattered, incomplete English material. Some of it is undoubtedly completely irrelevant to our family history.
Even though we have not found the exact roots of our Robert[1]Fitts, it seemed important to include rather fully the ground that had been covered. Hopefully the next researcher can go on from here with a head start on clues. Any published genealogy is, after all, merely a workbook that others can improve upon.
A note to the novice - please read exactly what has been written above. Do not mentally remove question marks. It is obvious that a good many of the scattered individuals may be related, but unless we have said so, the proof has not been found. Just because two individuals are listed after one another, do not assume a generation sequence, or any actual connection at all between the individuals unless it is so stated.

Even the family groups, arranged as they have been, from chronological lists of baptisms, from wills, etc. may well be faulty. We may have made too many assumptions on the identities of men bearing the same Christian names.

Apparently, from what we have found thus far, the two areas that should continue to be researched are the Letheringsett area of Co.Norfolk, and the Sudbury area of Cos.Suffolk and Essex.

RICHARD FITZ, PASTOR of the "Privy Church" of London, 1567-71.

Patrick Collinson in his Archbishop Grindal 1519-1583 (J.Cape c1979, p.169) states that "he [Grindal] ordained Richard Fittes, a Devon man, who may well have been the 'Mr. Fitze' known to the historians of nonconformity as the minister of one of the earliest organized separatist congregations."

Refs.fr.London Guildhall Library: Richard Fittes ae.28y native of Ottery St.Mary in the Exeter Diocese ordained by Edmund, Bishop of London, as deacon 11 Oct. 1561. Richard Fittes ae.30y native of Ottery St.Mary then of 'Oxford Diocese' ordained priest 28 Oct.1564 also by Bishop Grindal. In Alumni:Oxon: Fitz, Richard, Chaplain Magdalen College 1562-5. [These would seem to be refs. to the same man.]

In 1558 when Queen Elizabeth began her reign, Protestant exiles were invited to return to England. As time passed, however, it became evident that groups were challenging royal authority itself, and enforcement of the Act of Uniformity became increasingly strict. Under the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Court of High Commission, in 1565, brought all the London clergymen before it and asked for promises of conformity. Out of 98 clergymen, there were 37 who refused. They were suspended, but they and their followers continued to worship in private homes and public halls.

On June 19, 1567, about a hundred people were found to be holding secret religious services in Plumbers' Hall in London. The minister and several representatives of the congregation were arrested, imprisoned, and brought before the Lord Mayor, and the Bishop of London, to answer charges. This separatist group, was, of course, breaking the law by worshipping outside of the Established Church. They have been recognized as the first Congregational Church to have been formed in England.

The next year, in a letter to the Swiss Reformer, Johann Heinrich Bullinger, Edmund Grindal, Bishop of London, referred to a secret underground church holding meetings in London. Richard Fitz was the pastor of that "privy" church.

A document survives, quoted on p.49 of English Religious Dissent by Erik Routley (1960) which states the reasons for their separation from the Established Church of England. It is signed by the pastor, Richard Fitz.

These early "Congregationalists" urged a return to the simple discipline of the preaching of Christ purged of the "Church's" added doctrines and traditions. They objected to the use of vestments and copes, and also said the Queen had no right to insist that they be worn. Thus, they also challenged the Ruler's position as Head of the Church of England, putting themselves in opposition not only to the Church, but to royal authority.

Another manuscript document(1571) survives which is signed by twenty-seven members of this Church... "a poor congregation whom God hath separated from the Church of England".

Routley says that Fitz was again mentioned in a 1593 document; also in 1608 in Ainsworth's Counterpoyson; and in 1620 by John Robinson. The last reference was not to Richard Fitz by name, but rather as part of his church.

The 1960 edition of Encyclopedia Americana says that an early group of Separatists, who had been thrown into the Fleet Prison, managed to organize a congregation, or church, and that they there elected Richard Fitz to be their pastor, 1566-7. The article goes on to say that this early church "was eventually suppressed and its leaders executed".

Routley does not say that the actual organization of that first congregation took place in the Fleet Prison itself. However, it is certain that Richard Fitz and his followers conducted some of their "privy" worship services in the filth and squalor of a sixteenth century London prison. Whether Fitz was elected their pastor in the prison itself, or was already serving in that capacity when imprisoned, he was certainly a man of education and leadership - and courage.

The book Early English Dissenters in the Light of Recent Research(1550-1640) by C. Burrage.(Camb.U.Pr.1912.2v.) contains (p.91) a facsimile of the "Separatist Covenant of Richard Fitz's Privy Church. Date between 1567 and 1571". Mr.Burrage also says that in the paper Fitz signed (mentioned also above by Routley) "congregation" is not used to describe their group. They call themselves "the priuye churche in London".

Burrage discusses the fact that on the margin of the other surviving document, bearing the twenty-seven signatures, appears the notation "in white Chappell streate" - this perhaps being where some of the members lived - or where they sometimes met to worship. The document was an appeal to Queen Elizabeth and also bears the added note "B.of London.Puretans". Probably Her Majesty turned the paper over to Grindal to deal with.

Francis Dillon, in The Pilgrims(p.67)[Doubleday,c1975] quotes the petition [printed in Burrage] with the information that six members of that Privy Church "congregation, including Richard Fitz, had died in prison".

In sources thus far searched, we have not found any more definitive data on Pastor Richard Fitz. He may - or may not - have lived on White Chapel St. in London. The Ency.Americana must have had good reason for saying that the leaders of that early church (and certainly Fitz was among them) were executed. Routley(p.50) says plainly: His congregation "'went underground' again, and we do not know what became of him". Was he executed? Certainly prison conditions of that day were so dreadful that any lengthy stay often meant death from disease or deprivation.

From Byington, E.H. The Puritan in England and New England(p.2) we find: "A congregation [of Puritans] was arrested by the sheriff in 1567 ... They were found guilty ..[of worshipping God under forms not prescribed by law] and a large number of them were sent to prison for a year."

Routley's references to Fitz being mentioned in 1593, 1608 and 1620, do not give the text of the sources in full, and would not probably prove that Fitz was still living in 1593. He was perhaps born bet. 11 & 28 Oct.1533 in Ottery St.Mary and may have died before these later references to his work.

I am indebted to my good friend and brother, Richard Marden Fitts, for my first knowledge of Pastor Richard. He noticed the Encyclopedia reference. From there others have sent additional material. We'd like to think that courageous Pastor Richard was a cousin of ours - or even(?) an ancestor?

It has often been just such almost unknown men and women who have been the makers of history. The individuals who get "press coverage" - like our possible(?) Cousin Mary in her coach of bones are not really as important as the forgotten quiet people who "invent the wheel" and change all subsequent history. Perhaps we are making a commentary on human inability to sense which are the great happenings around us. By the time history has made that clear, the quiet doers - the unnoticed links in important chains of events - have been long forgotten.

We have as yet no knowledge of any relationship between Richard Fitz(Fittes), pastor of the 1567 Fleet Street Prison congregation, and other Fitz families researched. Note (p.22) our refs. to William Fytz & Roger Fytes of Ottery St.Mary. Parish Registers are not available before 1601 for Ottery St.Mary, Co.Devon.

Neither is there any proven connection between Richard Fitz, the Dissenter, of London(1567), and the two brothers, Robert[1] and Richard[1] Fitts, who settled about sixty-seven years later among the dissenters of New England. Note that Pastor Richard spelled his name Fittes in 1561/1564. Our ancestor Robert[1] spelled his name Fitt. However we come back to the basic fact that Robert[1]'s wife was from Co.Suffolk.

ST.KITTS/BARBADOS

Hotten lists(p.127) a Robert Fitt, aged 18, on the passenger lists for the William and John, 2 Sept.1635, "to be transported to St.Christopher's". This Robert Fitt would have been born c.1617. [Note the ref.(p.33) to Robert, son of George, who was bp.1618/9 in Whelnetham, Suffolk. No proven connection. There were many other Fitts families in England to which he could have belonged.]

On the same list for St.Christopher's(1635) appears a Richard Harris, age 26. Note the Alice Harris of Virginia - and the "cousin Harris" of Norwich, England. No proven connection.

Some have felt that this 1635 listing was a ref.to our Robert[1]Fitts' departure from England. Certainly there were instances when an emigrant's stated destination (in this case "St.Christopher's") did not turn out to be where he actually turned up in America. The writer is, however, currently of the belief that our New England Robert[1] was not the young man who sailed in 1635 for St.Kitts.

There is also information on Fitts/Fitt in the early history of Barbados.

James Harris Fitts makes the ERROR of identifying this Robert as a presumed son of Robert[1] & Ann of James Island, Virginia, but the Hotten reference is clearly to the Parish of St.James, Barbados, and not to James Island, Virginia.

ROBERT [1] FITTS of Virginia

In Hotten(p.178) "List of Names of the Living in Virginia, February the 16th, 1623" (1623/4) under the heading "In James' Island" appear "Robert Fitts. Ux Fitts. John Reddish", and under the heading "Over the River"(p.179) are... "Thomas Fitts. Elizabeth Abbitt. Alice Fitts."

No known connection for Elizabeth Abbitt with the Fitts family but she does appear on the printed list of 33 names "Over the River" between the names of Thomas Fitts and Alice Fitts. They are the last three names on the list.

Nor is there any known connection for John Reddish, but he is listed with the Robert Fitts family, with the three names separated in a group from the other "family?" or household groupings, "In James' Island".

In some instances children or infants are listed among those named. Therefore, the absence of any listed in the homes of Robert or Thomas Fitts may mean they had no children at that time.

On the "Muster Rolls of Settlers in Virginia" taken 23 Jan.1624(1624/5), and given in Hotten(p.227) under the Muster of Mr.Edward Blaney, and on "James' Iland" are "Christopher Hall, came in the _____. Robert Fitt, came in the George. Ann, his wife, in the Abigaile". "Corne, 1 barrell; Pease, 1½ bushells; Peeces, 3; Sword, 1; Swine, 1 and 5 piggs; House, 1." [The last line of quotation is from Adventurers of Purse and Person Virginia, 1607-1625 by A.L.Jester.1956. Hotten omits the designation of property.] Ann might, of course, have come in the Abigaile as a single woman, and they might(?) have been married in Virginia. No known connection between Christopher Hall and Robert Fitt but listed together in a grouping, in Hotten. Certainly some of the settlers were sharing homes in those early years.

The Virginia Historical Magazine(Inkfolio 116-7) quotes the Minutes of the Council and General Court, "9th of May 1625": "Richard Kingsmill sworn and examined sayeth y^{t} on Thursdye last paste Robert Fytts was disordered in drinke not being able to goe home contrary to the Proclamation made againste drunkennes".. "And further sayeth y^{t} John Radishe Caryed over Sr George Yardley his servant to his house at vnseasonable tyme of the night and there gave them Entertainmt' & made them drunke and the next dye drinke likewyse to Robert Fytts, wherwth he made himself drunke: y^{t} is order^{d} y^{t} Robert Fitts beinge disordered in drinke shall pay fortie shillings, accordinge to the p'clatione."

Someone has characterized John Reddish as a "taverner". Note that he is listed in Hotten(p.178), 1623/4 "In James Island". But he appears in the "Muster .. of the Neck of Land near James' City, taken February the 4th, 1624(1624/5)(Hotten,p.230). He is there listed in a separate household as "John Reddish", evidently no longer living with Robert Fitts.

There is a petition preserved (State Papers. Colonial Series. 1574-1660): "To the right honnorable the Lords and others of His Majestie's most honnorable Privie Councell. The humble petition of Robert ffitt, Anne his wife, and Alice Harris a poore widdowe sheweth that whereas ye poore petitioners having been planters in Virginia for the space of 14 years paste and latelie brought over 16 hogsheades of tobaccoe nowe in the custodie of the ffarmers of the Customes in London for want of payment of Customs and freight which is soe greate that the said tobaccoe proving not accordinge to exportation is not able to beare the said Comoditie, being not worth the charge. And the said Robert ffitt beinge now in prison by reason of the stopp of the said tobaccoe and ye other petitioners havinge five children on their hands and nott meanes wherewith to give them bredd. Ye petitioners doo nowe humblie beseech your honnorables to graunte them your warrante for the free discharge of the Custome and Imposte of the said Tobaccoe towardes their presente releise, and furtherance of theire retourninge to the plantation againe. And your petitioners with theire children will daylie pray for your honnorables. Endorsed 1628?[sic] Gy Chas.I "

Over the years there has been some speculation on the possibility of Robert[1] of Virginia and Robert[1] of Mass. having been the same man. The date of the above petition bears heavily on that question. James Hill Fitts' Genealogy quotes from the above and heads it: "Petition, June 1628". James Harris Fitts also quotes a part of the petition but begins it "1628? 54". On the penned copy sent to me, "1628?[sic]"is noted and called an endorsement[perhaps?? added when the Colonial papers were printed?]

James Harris Fitts states his several reasons for believing that the true date of the petition (and the trip to England) was prob.1638. He believed that Robert arrived in Virginia in 1622, after the terrible Indian massacre, and that Ann came in 1623. (Few women came before 1620.) He felt that if they had come earlier than 1622 they would not have been on the 1624-5 muster rolls because they would probably have been among the 347 colonists slain in the 1622 massacre. There were few survivors.

Probably no one would question that the Robert Fitts who, with his wife, was listed as living on James Island in Feb.1623/4, was the same Robert Fitts(with wife Anne) who returned to England in 1628(1638?) If the Virginia settlers' trip to England took place in 1638, then of course Robert[1] Fitts of Salisbury, MA.cannot be identified as the same man. If the date "1628?" was endorsed at a later time and the petition itself had no date, the trip to England could have been at any time in that era.

James Harris Fitts in his book on a southern branch of the family(1897) finds it "incredible" that the Robert Fitts who had had a plantation in Virginia for fourteen years could possibly be the same Robert Fitts who settled in New England.

I, too am inclined to believe they were definitely two different men.[On the other hand, if Robert had spent fourteen years in Virginia and hadn't even net enough to pay the duty on that tobacco, he might possibly have been tempted to try his hand elsewhere?] There were many more small land holdings at that time in Virginia than there were large plantations as we think of in later days. James Island itself is not large enough to have supported a system of anything but small farms. There were also land grants farther from James' City of course, but the term plantation did not necessarily mean vast amounts of land in the earliest days of the Virginia settlements. Robert Fitts had probably worked long and hard for those sixteen hogsheads of tobacco.

In trying to interpret the date of 1628 on that petition, could it be correct, and the number 14 instead have been misread from 4?? Of course we have not examined the original, but the writer has seen many old papers on which a scratched mark or blot in the old text could have been read as a "1". [However, if they had meant 4 yrs. would they not have penned "four"?]

And, of course, there's always the possibility that we should refrain from trying to interpret the record at all. There were survivors of the Virginia Indian raids, though it seems unlikely that Robert and Ann were among them. If(?) Robert Fitts did revisit England in 1628 after 14 years in Virginia - he would have arrived in Virginia about 1614, and that seems improbable. Or - James Harris Fitts may be correct - and Robert may have made his voyage to England in 1638. Perhaps that is the simplest solution.

Be that as it may, J.Harris Fitts is completely inconsistent on one point. If the two immigrants were two different men, as he believed, then we must not identify the wife of Robert[1]Fitts of Virginia as Anne Barnes.

Robert[1]Fitts of Massachusetts in his will 5 Jan.1663 mentioned a parcel of meadow at Salisbury which he had bought from his "brother Will[m] Barnes". If the two Roberts are not the same man, then that ref.made by Robert of Salisbury can not be used to identify the wife of Robert[1] of Virginia as having been a Barnes.

The settlements in Virginia - and New England - and Barbados - were not as isolated from each other as we of the twentieth century tend to believe. There were many families who maintained close ties between individuals in the different colonies, and there was also rather extensive trade between the settlements at a very early date.

We have failed to prove, one way or the other, whether the two Robert Fitts' (of Virginia and Massachusetts) were - or were not - the same man. The author tends towards the belief that they were two different individuals.

One wonders about a possible family connection with the widow Alice Harris. Could she perhaps be the widow of Thomas Fitts, and have remarried a Harris? Note that Thomas' presumed wife in 1623/4 was Alice.[Thomas and Alice are not named in Hotten's 1624/5 lists.]

However, we do not need to reach for that possibility, as there was an Alice Harris in the colony in 1623/4(Hotten,p.186), seemingly unattached to other Harris' and in the listing "At Bass's Choise". Other Harrises in 1623/4 include: Thomas Harris.His wife Harris.Att ye Neak of Land...;John Harris.Dorothy Harris.Infans Harris.Infans Harris.Att West and Shrilow[Shirley]Hundred.. ;Leftenant Harris.At Archur's Hoop[Hope].. ;Elinor Harris.At Bass's Choice(but listed far apart from Alice,p.184)..; William Harris (p.186)At Bass's Choice.Listed the fifth name before that of Alice with seemingly unrelated names between.[Could Alice have been William's wife?]

On 1624/5 muster rolls Thomas Harris, age 38, names his wife as Adria, age 23.

On 1624/5 rolls Elinor Harris, age 21, appears as a servant of Mr.Danniell Gookines. She came in the Providence in 1623. Gookines was liv.at Newportes News. In 1624/5 a John Harris, ae.21, servant to Thomas Spilman appears. Neither William nor Alice Harris seem to appear in records of 1624/5.

Note the ref.in the 1631 will of Richard Fitz of Letheringsett, Co.Norfolk, England, to his "cousin Harris" of Norwich. Also note Richard Harris who went to St.Kitts in the West Indies at the same time as Robert Fitt.

Hotten(p.115) "27 July 1635 .. to be transported to Virginea .. in the Primrose .. conformitie to the Church discipline of England .. Robert Harris,20; Robert Feats,25 .." Could this be a Robert Fitts? Could he and Robert Harris, who appears directly before him on the list, be travelling together? Could they be related to Robert[1] & Ann Fitts? To Alice Harris? If Robert Feats was 25 in 1635 it is not likely that he was a son of Robert[1] who apparently had no children in 1623/4-1624/5. Nothing more known of Robert "Feats".

There was an Alice Harris, ae.21(Hotten p.113) on a 24 Jly 1635 listing of those taking their oaths and to be transported "to Virginea in the Assurance". No other Harris appears on that ship's list. The passengers seem to include a great many young women.

If there is a family connection between Robert or Ann Fitts of Virginia, and the widow Alice Harris it remains undiscovered. They might simply have travelled to England together.

Hotten(p.501) lists on the Register of the Parish of St.James taken 20 Dec.1679: "Robert Fitte" with 30 acres of land and 14 negroes. J.Harris Fitts makes the ERROR of saying that the Robert of 1679 was presumably a possible(?) son of Robert[1] & Ann Fitts. This record in Hotten is, however, a listing of St.James Parish in the Barbados and NOT of James Island, Virginia. (See Section on Barbados.)

There is therefore absolutely no proof of the identity of the children of Robert[1] & Ann. The reader will note that in 1638(1628?) Ann Fitts and widow Alice Harris were (between them) caring for five children. Presumably, some of those were children of Robert[1] & Ann Fitts of Virginia.

J.Harris Fitts, after a general discussion of the Fitz Family of Tavistock and the refs.to Robert[1] & Ann of 1623/4 and the alleged son Robert[2] of 1679, refers to a Henry Fitts who was granted 400 acres of land in Prince George Co. at the Head of Leadbekeis River, Feb.9, 1737, and also received later grants of land in 1749. He identifies this Henry as a possible grson of Robert[1] & Ann, and believes Henry probably had several children, among them a son Henry, born about 1730.

The main text of his book begins with the family of Henry(b.c.1730) and Susannah (Studivant)Fitts, and covers their descendants rather fully. Henry and Susannah settled in No.Carolina. Their ch.: i.Oliver,b.1771. ii.Sally,b.1773(m.James Fussell). iii.Nancy, b.1775(m.W[m] Brame). iv.Henry,b.1778.

The assumption that Henry(b.c.1730) was a son of the earlier Henry who received land grants in Prince George Co., Va. in 1737 and 1749 is probably well taken.

However, when we remove Robert of 1679 from the presumed sequence of generations(as he was NOT in Virginia), we find that we have a large gap to fill - between Robert[1] of 1623/4 and Henry of 1737. Henry may be a descendant of Robert[1] but the writer has seen no actual proof.

The reader will note Thomas[1] of Virginia who may have had descendants. Also Robert Feats of 1635 ment.above. We do not know how many of those "five children" of 1638(1628?) belonged to Robert but evidently he was considered their main support in the plea for his release from prison. They are obviously thus far unidentified. If he was considered to be a mainstay of the Harris children also, it would seem to indicate a family connection. We hope that some day more work can be done to clarify the first hundred years of the Fitts Family of Virginia.

Note that there are no proofs of the identity of Robert[1]Fitts of Virginia. J.Harris Fitts assigns to him a lineage from Robert[3] of Tavistock, England, but no proof seen for this. It is still possible, however, that our American immigrants could descend from the early generations of that family.

No less a person than Daniel Webster is said to have spent some time while in England in searching out his ancestors, including his Fitts ancestor. It would certainly be rewarding to know just where he searched in the records of that far earlier day.

Note also - that if(?) Robert[1]Fitts of Virginia were identified as the same Robert[1] who came to Mass., then he would have had a bro.Richard and perhaps a sis.Bridget.

OTHER EARLY VIRGINIA LINES:

There were undoubtedly more Fitts' in Virginia than those represented in J.Harris Fitts' book which covers his own family lines from Henry,b.c.1730.

A Cary Fitts was a headwright in an unnamed county in Virginia in 1648. In 1655, he was in Westmoreland Co., and in 1662 in New Kent. These could prob.be refs.to the same man.

There was a Col.Miles Cary in Warwick,Va.1652(d.Hampton Roads 10 Je 1667). He was a proven nephew of James Carey of Charlestown,MA.who d.in MA.2 Nov.1681. No known connection between Col.Miles Cary and Cary Fitts, but the ref.goes to prove the close family ties that often existed between individuals in Virginia and in Mass.

There was a Conny Fits in Salisbury Dist.,Rockingham Co.,No.Carolina(p.167): 00-02-05-00-00 (1790 Census). Rock.Co.is adjacent to Guilford Co.,N.C. See family of W[m] M.Fitts in chapter on Southern families.

Early Virginia Immigrants(p.114) has "Fits,John,Robert,1650,by John Lacker ____Co." This item was sent by a corresp.and neither she nor the writer understand the ref.to Lacker, nor do we have more knowledge of this possible John Fits(?). Or was Fits in this case a prefix? Same info.also sent as:Fits, John_Robt n.a.;Virginia 1650.2772,p.114 Passenger & Immigration Lists Index.

Virginians in the Revolution include: Fitts, Burwell(Felts) 4 CL; Fitts, Isham(Felts) Sgt.5 and II CL; Fitts, John, Halifax, pens.; Fitts, Nathan, Pvt.WD; Fitts, Robert W. Mecklenburg,pens.; Fitz, Robert W. Mecklenburg 78 mpl.; Fitz, Valentine, Inf.n[m?]bll.

The 1790 Census of Virginia has a Robert W.Fitts in Halifax Co.

The Maryland 1790 Census has: Fitz, Henary(Baltimore Co.) male 16+ 1; females 7.
Fitz, Robert(Baltimore Co.) males 16+ 2; 16- 1; females 4.

A Thomas Fitz of Farmington,MO. writes of his lineage: "William Daniel Fitch .. settled in Albemarle Co., Va., purchasing the east side of Southwest Mountain near Hammock's Gap, in 1759. His brother John Fitch was born in 1749 and died June 11, 1804, and was buried on Southwest Mt. The son of John Fitch, named William D., had the family name changed from Fitch to Fitz in the late 1700's or early 1800's .. The immigrants on this line were Thomas and James Fytche, brothers who came from Bocking, Co.Essex, England, and settled in Norwalk, Conn. in 1738."

We have not attempted any organized coverage of Southern families. Inevitably, as westward migrations moved across the heartland of the country, Fitts/Fitz families wended north - and south - and sometimes even eastward again. Our correspondence has gathered some Southern materials, and we have tried to share what has come to hand. The reader should consult J.Harris Fitts' book, but will find that there was much Southern material not covered therein. As well as the above seventeenth and eighteenth century thoughts, please refer also to the chapter on other Southern lines, later in this book.

FITTS FAMILY OF NEW ENGLAND

We do not know the parents, nor the birth dates, nor the birth places of the three Fitts' who emigrated from old England to New England. There were two brothers, and [probably] one sister.

CHILDREN OF _____ FITTS: All presumably b.in England. Order uncertain.

1-i.Robert[1] of Ipswich and Salisbury,MA.
2-ii.?prob.Bridget[1] of Newbury and Gloucester,MA;prob.m.(1)____Goodwin;m.(2)Henry[1] Travers;m.(3)Richard[1]Window.
3-iii.Richard[1] of Ipswich and Newbury,MA.

Note:As Richard[1] did not mar.until 1654, & his wife was prob.b.c.1616/7, we have put him as the youngest. Guessing that Bridget[1] could have been first mar.c.1632-3, we can assume her b.c.1614/5(?). Her ygest ch.was b.1645. We have no firm info.on the relative ages of the three, and the order as given may very well be incorrect.

Other New England families of Fitch were sometimes apparently recorded as "Fitts". These few stray refs.seem(?) to belong to different families.

Pope mentions a James Fitch, tailor, ae.30(wife Abigail) who came on the Defence in Jly 1635, and lived in Boston. Then under "Fitts" he mentions a "Goodman Fitts, tailor, Charlestown", who had liberty in 1637 to set up a salt pan. As none of the many extant refs.to Robert[1] and Richard[1]Fitts make any suggestion of either of them being a tailor, it would seem to the writer that it would perhaps be more logical to identify "Goodman Fitts, tailor, Charlestown" with James Fitch, "tailor", of Boston. (However, see note below under Robert[1]-1 of land owned in Cambridge in 1638.)

Pope also lists under "Fitch,Fitts", a Zechariah or Zachary, freeman of Salem, 7 Sep. 1638, who was a proprietor at Lynn in 1638, and was later of Reading. Zechariah and wife Mary had ch.:Joseph, Samuel, Benjamin, Jeremiah, Thomas, Zechariah, and Sarah who mar.John Wesson.

The son, Jeremiah Fitch, was a proprietor at Reading in 1647. He would seem to be a likely candidate for the "Jeremy fitts" mentioned as follows in the Will of Edmund Ingalls of Lynn, dated 28 Ag.1648 and recorded in Records of the Quarterly Courts of Essex Co.,v.I,1636-56,p.145(Sep.1648) Records and Files:"Likewise to my sonne John I bequeath the house and ground that was Jeremy fitts lying by the Meeting house .." Note that Jeremiah[2]Fitch's father lived for a time in Lynn.

Note also the few Fitch families in England who seem to have sometimes been recorded as Fitts or Fitz.

There is certainly no question in the writer's mind but that Robert[1]Fitts, his brother Richard[1], and his possible sister Bridget[1] were all born in England.

The reader will note the early chapters on English background. As Grace1Fitts probably came from the Sudbury, Co.Suffolk, area, and as she and Robert[1] were in all probability married in England, it would seem a reasonable supposition that Robert[1] Fitts was also from that area.

There is a persistent family tradition that he came from Devonshire. While not discounting any of the possibilities, it seems that that belief could have arisen simply from knowledge of the existence of the old family seat of Fitz-ford in Tavistock.

As the somewhat cosmopolitan descendants of bencher, John[1]Fitz, of Devon and London, owned land in other parts of England, is it not possible that some(?) of the branches in Suffolk, Norfolk, etc., originally had ties with the old Devon family? The reader may note that the Letheringsett, Co.Norfolk, family bore virtually the same coat of arms as did the Devon family.

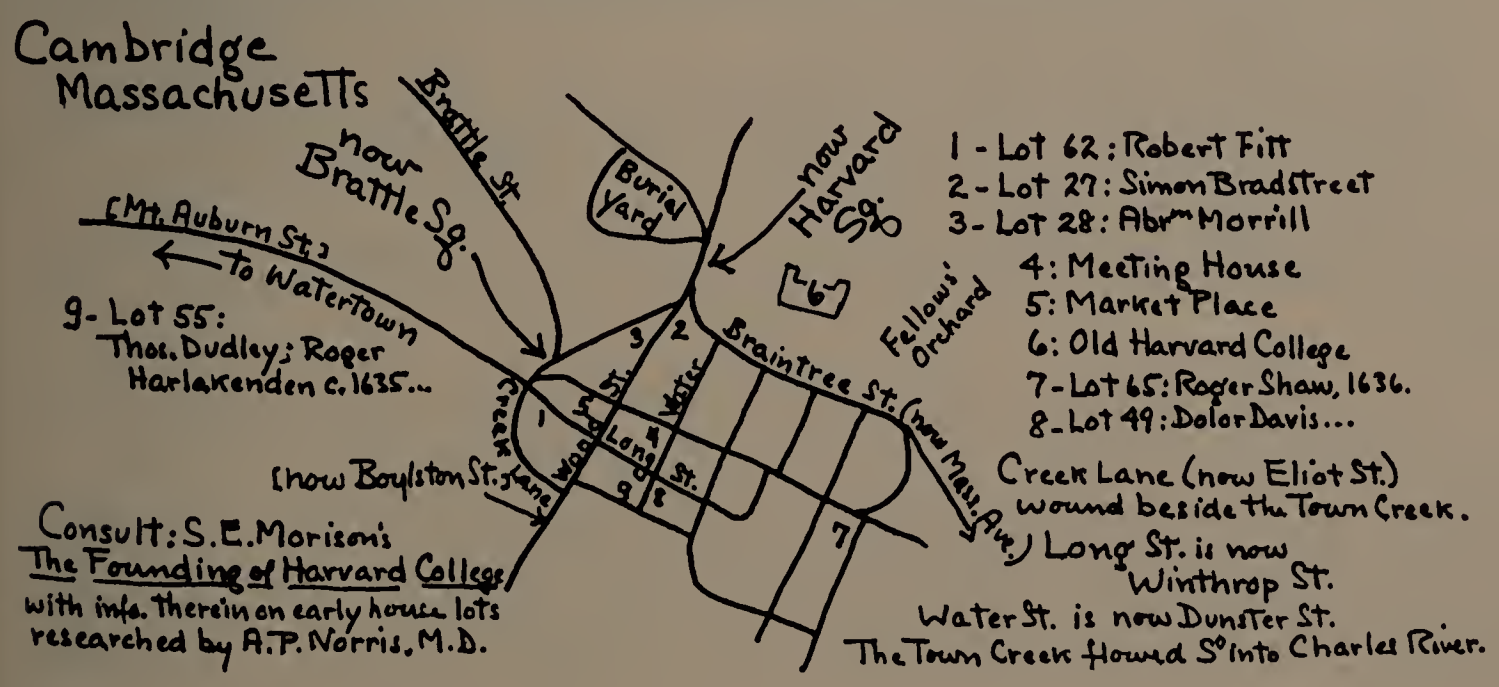
Also note the suggestion made by some that Robert[1]Fitts of Massachusetts could have been(?) the same Robert[1]Fitts who was earlier in Virginia. (The writer believes, however, that they were two different men.)

There is no real information on, or suggestion of, an earlier marriage for Robert[1]Fitts of MA. Some secondary sources have mentioned a reference by Abraham[2] to Grace as his "mother-in-law". If that were true, the term would mean stepmother. However, knowing how many fascinating errors can arise from the misreading of old penmanship, this writer would like to suggest that the original source from which that idea of "mother-in-law" came, could have been the court record in which Abraham[2] referred to his "mother's cow". In typeset the two phrases do not look alike, but if you try them out in longhand, there is every possibility of an error in reading the term. Savage is apparently the source for that interpretation of "mother-in-law". He is also the source for calling Grace a "Townsend" and stating that she had appointed "her loving brother, Robert Townsend of Ipswich, her attorney in a suit against Edward Gove". The latter is definitely an error, as it was Grace's brother Robert[1]Lord who acted as her attorney. We are suggesting that the Savage source also misread the term "mother's cow" and translated it into "mother-in-law". In none of the original sources consulted does the term mother-in-law appear. The writer feels quite certain that present evidence shows Grace Lord to have been Robert[1]'s only wife, and that she was, indeed, Abraham[2]'s mother.

EARLY CAMBRIDGE LAND OWNERSHIP

Robert[1]-1 Fitts probably lived for a short time in Cambridge,MA, before moving to Salisbury.

Lot No.62 among the Town House Lots in Cambridge was on the south (or southwest) side of Long Street, southwest of the Market Place, and the second lot from Creek Lane. The original owner in 1635 was John Arnold. Most of the original lot owners (of Hooker's Company) moved to Connecticut in 1635-6. In 1638 the owner of Lot No.62 was Robert Fitt. He sold to Thomas Hosmer, who was the owner in 1642.



Note:Charlestown is the next town to Cambridge. The reader will note the mention on p.44 of "Goodman Fitts, tailor, Charlestown"(Pope) who had liberty to set up a salt pan, 1637. Could(?) he be the same man as Robert Fitt who owned Lot 62 in Cambridge in 1638? The writer is inclined to think not. In the several original records extant, Robert[1]-1 is never referred to as a "tailor". There are enough records available to assume that a ref.to "tailor" would have appeared had he been one. He is consistently referred to as a "planter". The writer has suggested that "Goodman Fitts, tailor" of Charlestown might(?) have been James Fitch, tailor, of Boston??

We now, however, have Robert Fitt owning land in 1638 in Cambridge. If this is a ref.to Robert[1]-1 of Salisbury and Ipswich (and the writer is inclined to believe it is), he might(?) have purchased the property as an investment. A great deal of land was bought and sold on speculation. However, Cambridge is a considerable distance from Ipswich. A better explanation might be that Robert[1]-1 did make his first home there.

We still do not know the exact date of arrival, or the name of the ship upon which Robert[1] & Grace(Lord)Fitts and their son Abraham[2] came to America. They presumably landed in Boston. If(?) this were about 1635-6, when so much Cambridge property was being sold, the family might easily have made a first home there. There was a house("mansion") on Lot No.62.

Looking over the names on other Cambridge lots, we do find that Abraham[1]Morrill, an early settler there, was another who received land in the first division in Salisbury. Simon Bradstreet, who settled in Ipswich, was also an early lot owner(to 1636) in Cambridge. In general, however, there are very few Ipswich/Salisbury names among the early lot owners in Cambridge.

John Arnold was in Cambridge 1634, made a freeman there 6 May 1635, and owned the Fitt lot in 1635. Arnold was among those who moved to Hartford,CT with the followers of Rev.Thomas Hooker, being an original proprietor of Hartford. Pope says the migration was about 31 May 1636. Savage uses date June 1636. Wonder Working Providence and encyclopedia refs.use 1635.

It would never seem wise to lapse into rambling prose about the few facts that come to light, but what could be more logical than to imagine that Robert[1]-1 Fitts' arrival in Boston at about the time of the Hooker migration tempted him to purchase a home in Cambridge where so much property was on the market? His wife's mother and brother settled, however, in Ipswich, and Robert[1]-1 Fitts also moved northward.

While this sounds very plausible, we repeat that we have no proof that Robert[1] of Cambridge was the same man as Robert[1] of Salisbury. The author, however, tends to believe that he was.

Note:Torrey's New England Marriages lists Cambridge as a residence of our Robert[1] & Grace(Lord)Fitts.

RESIDENCE IN SALISBURY, MA

Robert[1]Fitts received land in the "first division" in the newly laid out Town of Salisbury,MA, in 1639-40.

He and his wife Grace[1] were among the original settlers there. James Hill Fitts says his name appears on p.21 of the early Town Records:"'The first or original list of ye townsmen of Salisbury ... Rob.ffitts ...'".

Also quoting from JHF:"The name 'Robert Fitt, Planter', as he signed it, occurs in the Salisbury and the old Norfolk county records at subsequent dates as follows: 1640, October; 1642, March 5; 1649, February 3 and April 27; 1650, December 25; 1652, July 18; 1657, April 7 and April 14; 1662, July 2."

Hoyt says he was "'commoner' and taxed 1650 and '52; signed the agreement of 1654 and petition of 1658 in S.; sold house and lot in S. to Philip Griffin in 1657; rem.to Ip. ab.1658."

JHF also mentions a tradition that Robert[1]Fitts had been in Ipswich by 1635, and went from there to Salisbury. (Could that perhaps?? be a recollection of an earlier stay in Cambridge?) His brother Richard[1] did come first to Ipswich before settling in Newbury.

Certainly ties with the older community at Ipswich were maintained by the Robert[1] Fitts family. Abraham[2]Fitts married a girl from Ipswich, and at the request of his father-in-law, Simon Thompson, removed there. Note under Abraham[2], the text of testimony given by Robert[1] & Grace[1]Fitts concerning Thompson's agreement with their son.

In later life, Robert[1] also moved to Ipswich, where he died 9 May 1665(Hoyt). He and Grace had spent almost twenty years as pioneer settlers in Salisbury, and they retained some properties there. One could suppose that a desire to be near their son, was the reason for the move to the older, more settled town.

The Will of Robert[1]Fitts is on record.

For those days in New England, an estate of that size would be considered a very respectable one. It is also interesting to note that Robert[1] signed his own name and possessed a seal. He is reputed to have been an educated man, and these facts, as well as his ownership of books valued at £1.4, would bear that out.

His brother-in-law, Robert[1]Lord, was for many years Clerk of the Court at Ipswich and Register of Deeds, as well as Town Clerk.

Thomas[2]Lord was a son of Robert[1]Lord.

The seal of Robert[1]-1 Fitts as drawn freehand above appears on p.103 of The Hammatt Papers, Early Inhab.of Ipswich.. by A.Hammatt.Reprint c1980.

A transcription of the Inventory also appears(p.25-6,Hist.of Simeon Newton Cutler)

Sworn & allowed in court held at Ipswich the 26 of Sept 1665

Robert Lord cleric · Henry Archer · Mosses Pengry

ROBERT[1]-1 FITTS was married to GRACE[1] LORD, presumably in England.

LORD FAMILY

Grace, wife of Robert[1]Fitts, is identified as a Lord upon the primary evidence of the court testimony in the Gove case in which Robert[1]Lord is named as her brother, and an account ref.in which Robert[1]Lord calls her his "sister ffitt".

Partial evidence of their ancestry appears.

There are two pertinent Lord Wills on record. Grace[1] was not named in the 1603 Will of one John Lorde, clothier, of Redriff, Co.Surrey. In that Will, 14 Sep.1603, pr. 8 Dec.1603, John names his wife Elizabeth; a minor dau.Elizabeth; his five sisters, Alice, Jone, and Prewe(all unm.) and Elizabeth and Anne(who were mar.); as well as a bro.Robert Lorde; their fa.Anthony Lorde; and their mother(unnamed). See Waters. Genealogical Gleanings in England,p.1102. [If (?) Grace were also a dau.of Anthony she would presumably have been b.after 1603.]

The Parish Register of St.Mary's, Rotherhithe, on the Surrey side of the Thames has an entry for "____ Lorde", bur.there 16 Sep.1603. (Undoubtedly a ref.to this John Lorde, descended from the Lord family of Co.Suffolk. John Lorde's connection with Rotherhithe arose from his trade as a clothier. The Lord family was indigenous to Suffolk.)

John Lorde's 1603 Will ment."my two houses in Sudbury,Suffolk, one of them, with an orchard, being in the parish commonly called Gregory parish, and the other in the parish commonly called Peter's parish .." John Lorde had a bond due to him from William Johnson of Colchester,Essex, which was to serve to give his bro.Robert Lorde a legacy of forty shillings.

The second will is perhaps more helpful. A John Lord (Will 1 Mar.1640,pr.11 Jly 1655) of Sudbury,Suffolk, bequeathed to his wife Bennett "all .. my messuage or tenement, with the yards, gardens, orchards and appurtenances thereunto belonging, situate and being in the parish of St.Gregory in Sudbury which I late purchased of Robert Lord my kinsman and Katherine his mother .. Item, I give unto my cousin Robert Lord, if he comes again from beyond the seas to demand it, ten pounds ..[other bequests]. See Waters.p.1102-3.

One Katherine Lord, widow, received a grant in Ipswich in 1637 at the same time that her son Robert[1]Lord also obtained land there.

A 'wid.Lord' d.in Salisbury,MA 12 May 1650(Hoyt). This was probably Grace's mother. The 'wid.Lord' would have been living with her dau.Grace in the Fitts' home in Salisbury. Robert[1]Lord's home was in Ipswich.

Thus we have evidence of Robert[1]Lord having come from Sudbury,Co.Suffolk. He and his mother were undoubtedly the same Robert and Katherine Lord ment.in the 1640 Will.

There were of course many orchards in and around the old town of Sudbury, but it is interesting that both the piece of property in St.Gregory's Parish(1603 Will) and the tenement in St.Gregory's Parish which John Lord(1640/1655) bought from his kinsman Robert had an orchard as an important feature of the property. The 1603 bequest was to revert to John's fa.Anthony - and to his mo., then subsequently to his three unm. sisters when John's wife died and if his dau.died without issue. So there is some mild possibility that we could be (?) speaking about the same piece of property. In any case it would seem to be a good guess that the Robert Lords ment.in the two Wills were related in some way. Some have assumed them to be the same person but the writer feels that is incorrect. There is probably a generation difference between the two Robert Lords ment.in the two Wills.

The writer has not undertaken to master the intricacies of the early generations of the Lord family in America, but there were several relationships which prove interesting to an understanding of the Fitts family. Further study by the reader might be rewarding.

Note the ref.by Robert[1]Fitts to "my bro.William Barnes". Did Barnes marry a Fitts? Or a Lord? William[1]Barnes' wife was Rachel who d.9 Feb.1685/6, Amesbury,MA.

Pope ment.a letter which Robert[1]Lord wrote to William Bartholomew calling him "brother". It was a letter presented in Mdx.Court Feb.2,1673. This would presumably be a ref.to William[1]Bartholomew of Ips.who came from London in 1634, and who d.in Charlestown 18 Jan.1681(Savage); (d.18 Jan.1680/1;widow Anna d.29(11)1682 (or Jan. 1682/3) Wyman.Gen..of Charlestown,p.64).[Wm Bartholomew came on the Griffin arriving in Boston 18 Sep.1634.]

Edward[1]Brown of Ips.in his Will(9 Feb.1659) ment... bro.Bartholomew..wife Faith ..

The oldest son of Edward[1] & Faith(___)Brown was Joseph[2]. Their son John[2] was apparently b.c.1618. If Faith was mar.by c.1615-6(?) then she would prob.have been liv. in 1603, but was unnamed by John Lorde of Redriff,Co.Surrey in his Will. Faith1 Brown m.(2) 1 Jly 1660, Daniel[2]Warner(W^m^1). She had no ch.by her 2d husband. Faith d.10 Nov.1679,Ips., and her Will was proved by Robert[1]Lord, 30 Mar.1680.

This Brown family is of interest to some Fitts descendants. A dau.of Edward[1] & Faith Brown, named Eunice(b.c.1628);m.(1) 3 Jan.1646, Thomas Roberts;m.(2) 22 Oct. 1656,Moses Maverick. Thomas & Eunice2Roberts had a dau.Eunice who m.John Waite (1646-1702). John & Eunice(Roberts) Waite had a son John Waite,Jr., who mar. Sarah, dau.of W^m^ & Sarah[3]-8 (Fitts)Baker, q.v.

Edward[1] & Faith(___)Brown had sev.other ch.:Joseph;John;Thomas(b.c.1620;d.bef. fa.);Elizabeth, d.Ips.10 Jly 1640,ae.18;Sarah, d.Ips.3 Je 1641,ae.17;Timothy, d.Ips. 1 Ag. 1646,ae.20;Eunice(see above);Mary,d.Ips.3 Ag.1646,ae.16;Aaron,d.Ips.10 Sep.1646,ae.14; Lydia,b.c.1635,liv.unm.Je 1669.

If the John Brown Sr.who liv.first "in a House in Ipswich Town near the house of the Rev.Mr.William Hubbard's"[on Heartbreak Road] and bef.1660 built a home on his farm in the Candlewood area of Ips.can be identified as the John[2]Brown b.c.1618, son of Edward[1] & Faith(___)Brown, then there is another connection to the Fitts family. John Brown Sr., highly respected farmer in the ancient neighborhood of Candlewood, d.13 Sep.1677.

The writer has spent a bit of time trying to be certain that John of Candlewood, was the same man as John[2], son of Edward[1], but can find no proof that that is the case. There are too many "John Browns" to admit of my hasty survey being adequate.

The reader should refer to Candlewood(Parts XVI-XVII of the Proceedings of the Ips.Hist.Soc.)p.36-7,89-127.

John Brown of Candlewood and his wife Mary had a dau.Martha Brown who mar. (bet.1670 and 1673) Barnard Thorne. They were prob.the par.of Sarah Thorne who mar. Richard[3]-9 (1672-1744) Fitts, q.v.

Robert[1]Lord, the immigrant, was mar.11 Nov.1630, at Finchingfields,Co.Essex, England, to Mary Waite, dau.of Samuel & Mary(Ward)Waite of Wethersfield,Co.Essex. Can we assume that others more knowledgeable about the Lord family have investigated the alternative of Bartholomew/Brown relationships through the Waite family?

We would have appreciated an opportunity to study the Bartholomew letter and the Browne Will in the original longhand! [Could we make the humble and prob.ridiculous suggestion that W^m^ "Bar^thw^" might have been misread as W^m^ "Barnes" or vice versa?]

All of these musings on the Lord family only point up the fact that there are still questions to be raised.

Does the presence of an adult married dau.Anne in the family of Anthony Lord in 1603, negate the identity of Ann(?) Bartholomew as a Lord? Or was W^m^ Bartholomew's wife named Mary? Hammatt says her name was Ann. Pope says that W^m^Bartholomew with "wife Mary" was received into the Boston church in 1662. Savage does not name his wife but ment.a dau.Mary who m.(1657)Matthew Whipple of Ips.

W^m^1Bartholomew was b.4 Mar.1604/5, Burford,England, so it would be impossible to identify Ann(Lord?)Bartholomew with the Anne, already mar.in 1603, and sister of a Robert Lord.

The Will of Edward[1]Browne(Brown)[ment.above] names his beloved wife Faith Browne. Among other bequests is one to their son Joseph of "eight acres of Land within the common field w^ch^ I bought of my Brother Bartholomew". This was witnessed and also proved 27 Mar.1660, by Robert Lord and Thomas Lord. If Bartholomew's wife was a Lord(?), does the Brown Will mean that Faith was also a Lord??

Does the absence of Faith (and Grace) from the list of sisters in John Lord's(1603) Will indicate a second generation of Robert Lords? Grace, who was undoubtedly a proven Lord, and a proven sis.of Robert[1]Lord of Ips., could have been b.aft.1603. Faith, however, who has not yet been proven a Lord beyond some doubt, would prob.have been born bef.1603.

Could Robert[1]Lord who came to Ips.have been a son of the Robert named in the 1603 Will? In that case Anthony would have been the grandfather of Robert[1]Lord and of Grace[1]Lord, instead of the father. Katherine, instead of being Anthony's wife would have been his dau.-in-law.

The Will of John Lord(d.1603) was prob.that of a relatively young man, as he had only one minor dau., and his fa.Anthony and mo.(ment.,but not by name) were both still living. John also had at that time three sis.as yet unmarried.

Those two Wills of two John Lords(1603 & 1640/55) each ref.to a Robert Lord - the 1603 Will to John's bro.Robert (and to their fa.Anthony) - and the 1640/55 Will to a cousin Robert (beyond the seas) and the latter Robert's mo.Katherine.

The writer has seen in sev.sources the assumption that the two Robert Lords must have been the same man - i.e.Robert[1]Lord who came to Ips.and whose mo.was Katharine. If they were the same man, then the immigrant Robert's fa.was Anthony Lord. This does NOT seem to be correct. In trying to puzzle out the Barnes/Bartholomew/Brown wives' identities (as well as that of Grace) the writer has wondered why that earlier Will(1603) might not better represent a John Lord of a generation earlier - perhaps an uncle of Robert[1]Lord of Ips.? Robert[1]Lord was not born until c.1603 and could(??) have been a son of John(d.1603)'s bro.Robert, named in his Will. This is all surmise of course, but that would leave some room in a family of the next generation for all those sisters - Grace, and possibly? Faith, Anna (& Rachel??).

If Robert[1]Lord (the immigrant) and Grace1Fitts (his sis.) were not grch.of Anthony Lord, they were certainly related to that family. Anthony Lord was of Bury St.Edmunds,Co.Suffolk, clothier (Will 13 Mar.1607/8;pr.5 Dec.1608). He held land in Stanningfield,Co.Suffolk.

Other stray Lord refs.turned up in English research:

Thomas Lord, Robert Lord and John Lord were all "mustered as Able Archers at Norton,Co.Suffolk, in 1584". Norton is about six miles NNE of Bury St.Edmunds.

A Robert Lord of Sudbury,Co.Suffolk, had adn.of his goods granted 7 Ap.1608 to his widow Rose and son Thomas.

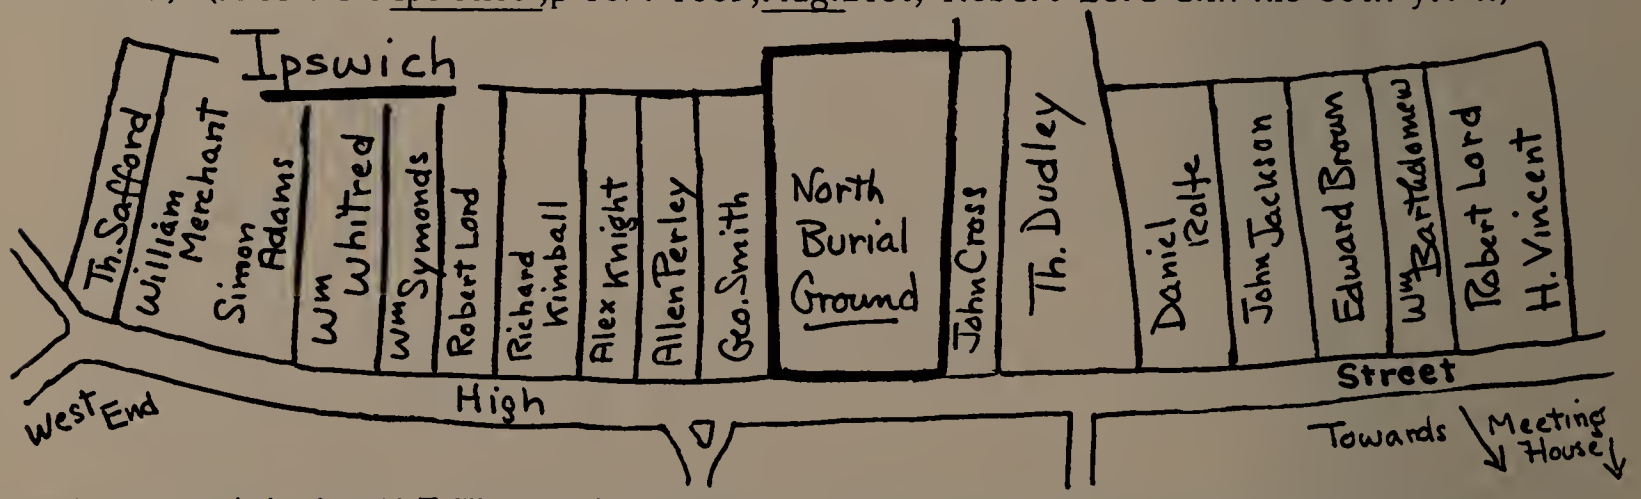
A John Lord of Bury St.Edmunds had adn.of his goods granted 21 Sep.1631(Sudbury) to his mo.Margaret and bro.Thomas Lord.

A John Lord was a burgess of Burford,Co.Oxford(1562). Note that W[m] Bartholomew was prob.born in Burford.

An Anthony Lord with others was a party to a deed (8 Ap.1605) concerning land in Bloxham,Co.Oxford.

No connections known between these scattered refs., or with the Lord family of Robert[1]Lord of Ips.

We come back to our original statement. We certainly have not mastered these Lord family relationships. Perhaps someone else has. For the purposes of this book we do feel that Grace[1], the wife of Robert[1]Fitts, was a Lord, and was a sister of Robert[1] Lord of Ips. The latter from testimony later in life was prob.b.c.1603(i.e.ae.c.64 yrs. in 1667). (Also Felt.Ips.Hist.,p.167:"1683,Aug.21st, Robert Lord d.in his 80th yr."..)



In an article by H.F.Waters in Reg.,v.31,p.323 appears the following: "In Essex Co. Court Papers.B.12,L.102,etc. in the case of 'Grace fitt agst Edw:Gove', the following paper is found:

GOVE FAMILY

L[t]Edward[2]Gove, son of John[1], was another of the writer's ancestors. Our line being thus:L[t]Edward[2] & Hannah2Gove - Ebenezer[3] & Judith(Sanborn)Gove - Judith4Prescott & Cap[t]Jonathan[3]Prescott - Abigail4 & Isaac[4]Fellows - Isaac[5] & Jane(Burnham)Fellows - Ira[6] & Abigail(Wright)Fellows - Harriet Eliza7 & J[acob].Samuel[7]Perley - Eva Eliza8 & Irving Powell[8]Fitts, q.v.

Edward[2]Gove is best remembered for his participation in the revolt against Gov.Cranfield, and his subsequent imprisonment in the Tower of London. He had moved to Hampton,N.H. by 1665, and became very much a part of its history. In Nov.1665 Gove sold land in Salisbury to Ezekiel Wathen(Worthen). [Shades of another ancestral connection! See family of Ephraim[5]-40 Fitts who m.Rhoda Worthen.]

Edward[2]Gove was a Selectman of Hampton and his name often appears in various records of the colony.

We rely heavily of course upon the above testimony in the Salem Quarterly Court Records and Files (1667) when Robert Lord called Grace Fitt his sister. Hammatt also ment.(p.208) a 1660 entry in an account book of Robert Lord where he names his 'sister ffitt'.

See also the actual text of Robert[1]Fitts' Will and note the blotted scratchover where Grace is first mentioned by name. In the Reg.article(v.31,p.322-3), where the Will is also transcribed, no less an authority than Henry F.Waters makes a footnote at that point saying:"First written Lord, through which a line is drawn, and ffitt written over it. H.F.W." Indisputable evidence that Grace was a Lord! Hoyt also accepts her firm identity as a Lord.

LAND OF ROBERT[1] & GRACE[1] (LORD)FITTS

The lands owned by Robert[1] & Grace1Fitts are referred to in sev.contemporary deeds and documents and have been partially identified.

The early map of Salisbury,MA, Town Lots shows that of Robert[1]Fitts at the corner of Mudnock Rd.and the Road to the Mills.

When the writer visited Salisbury in 1973, and stood upon that land, the owner at that time was Samuel Stevens. The Stevens' home(further down Mudnock Rd.) was built c.1875. Mr.Stevens told the writer that the house then(1973) standing on the corner lot(the Robert Fitts' land) was older than the 1875 Stevens home. That house on the Fitts' Town Lot was owned by Samuel Stevens' uncle, Lawrence Bailey for many years, before passing to Stevens' ownership in the early 1960's. Looking at the house from the outside, it did not appear to contain any features of a 17th (or 18th) century home. It may have been erected long after the land passed out of Fitts' ownership. We have not seen its interior.

Our diligent MA researcher has recently turned up the 1657 deed ref.to by Hoyt:

This land, sold in 1657 to Griffin does not seem to refer to Robert[1]Fitts' home lot on Mudnock Rd. So, presumably, the latter stayed in the family. Might it (the homestead on Mudnock Rd.) have been the house Grace rented to Edward Gove?

For more land descriptions the reader will note refs.in later deeds when descendants sold some of Robert[1]Fitts' lands.

On 10 Feb.1702, grson Richard[3]-9 Fitts sold land(3A±) to Benj.Stevens. It was a parcel originally granted to Valentine Rowell & Robert[1]Fitts.(See Richard[3]-9.)

Note the 1703 deed(W[m]Allen to Richard[3]Fitts) of land(4A planting lot) formerly bounded by land of Robert[1].

In 1709/10, grson, Richard[3]Fitts sold Lot no.3 in Goodales Swamp Division in Salisbury, land which had been originally granted to Robert[1]Fitts.(See Richard[3]-9 Fitts.)

Robert[1]Fitts evidently had a lot in the "Mill Division" in Salisbury. See testimony below(1737/8) under Richard[3]-9.

In the 1664 list of Ipswich men who owned shares in Plum Island, Robert[1]Fitts is included.

CITIZENS AND LAND OWNERS IN SALISBURY,MA

We will not reprint a complete listing of the original grantees of the Town of Salisbury,MA. However, perusal of the list of all who received land grants prior to 1643, gives us the names of many whose descendants married into the Fitts family:..."5 John Eaton sen.:,6 Edward French...10 Isack Buswell...17 Henry Browne...19 Roger Eastman, 20 John Stevens, 21 Robert Fitts...23 John Hoyt...28 Willi:Allen, 29 Willi:Barnes...31 Abraham Morrell, 32 Willi Osgood...37 Robert Pike, 38 Willi Patridg...42 Samuell Fellowes...44 John Harison, 45 Phillip Challice...49 Christian Browne...52 John Ayres Sen:, 53 Tho:Rowell...55 John Clough..57 John Fuller:..59 Enock Greneleif, 60 Richard Goodale, 61 Richard Currier.." The new town of Amesbury was informally divided from the old town of Salisbury, in 1654/5, but was not incorporated until 1666. Inhabitants of Amesbury(1654/5) included Richard Currier...John Hoyt, Philip Chalice...William Barnes, Vallentine Rowel...

"Sixty names, the same as the above, omitting Abraham Fitts and John French, are found when the town divided the mowing of beach lots, March, 1653/4."(Hoyt,p.14)

Unless there is some other explanation, could the fact that Abraham Fitts was not on the list of March 1653/4, but was on the 1654 division list, indicate a date when Abraham[2]Fitts reached his majority and became entitled to land rights? He does not appear on the 1652 Tax Rate, or the Mar.1653/4 division, or on the May 1 (or Mar.14) 1654 agreement between the residents of Salisbury, and those of the newly formed Town of Amesbury. No month is assigned to the 1654 Division which includes his name.

Mr.Samuel Hall sold his 100A farm 'lying towards Hampton'(New Hampshire) to the Town of Salisbury in 1657. A list is given on p.16 in Hoyt of those residents of Salisbury who paid a proportion, and the Lots in the farm which they received: ...Lot #26 Henry Brown 1-02-11, #40 Wm:Brown 0-11-8, #11 Isac Buswell 2-00-10... #7 Rodger Eastman 1-13-7...#46 Sam[ll] Felloes 1-08-1, #8 Robert Fitts 0-18-3...Flanders..French ...#5 Sam[ll] Getchell 0-08-6...Goodale..#35 Edw:Goue 0-16-4...#16 Phillip Griffin 0-3-7 ...Morrill...#42 Wm Osgood 3-19-4...# 32 Lt.Robert Pike 3-11-8...Stevens...Jn°:Woodin..

Two Salisbury petitions of 19 May 1658 include(among others) the following names: (Hoyt,p.15)..Will:Barnes..Henry Browne,Will:Browne,Isack Buswell...Phillip Challis,John Clough,Tristram Coffin...Roger Eastman,Jn° Eaton...Samuell Fellowes,Robert Fitts... Flanders...French...Sam.Getchell...Goodale..Ed:Goue...Jn° Hoyt...Abraham Morrill..Will: Osgood,Robert Pike...Valentine Rowell..Jn° Stevens,Joseph Stevens...Jn° Woodin...

Evidently by that date Abraham[2]Fitts had removed to Ipswich, but Robert[1] was still resident in Salisbury. Hoyt says that the latter moved about 1658 to Ipswich.

That Robert[1]Fitts retained ownership of Salisbury lands is evident from the Court testimony in the 1667 case against Edward Gove who had been a tenant of Grace Fitts' at Salisbury. And of course we have mentioned deeds of sale by Robert's descendants. In c.1945, I met and had a passing conversation with Rev.Buel Maxfield of Dover,N.H. The writer was informed that Rev.Maxfield's sister was mar.to a Fitts descendant who still lived on land in Salisbury,MA that once had been a part of Robert[1] Fitts' original grants. Having no resources at that time to pursue the lead, I unfortunately let it pass me by.

It is evident that Robert[1]Fitts owned more than one house in Salisbury. The writer does not know whether the house sold to Griffin in 1657, or the one that Grace[1] still owned in 1667, was the actual homestead where they lived. [Prob.the latter.]

As mentioned above, Robert[1]Fitts d.Ipswich, 9 May 1665(Ips.V.R.). His widow, Grace1Fitts also d.in Ipswich, 25 Apr.1684(Ips.V.R.). Graves not found.

BRIDGET[1] (FITTS?)GOODWIN? TRAVERS WINDOW. Family No.2.

In his Will of 2 Dec.1672, Richard ffitt of Newbury mentioned his "Sister Travisses Daughter y[e] eldest..."

The only logical identity for that sister, that has emerged to date, is one Bridget, wife of Henry Travers(Travis). So far as I know, Bridget's identity as a Fitts rests solely on that ref.in Richard ffitt's Will. It is a good primary source, however, and should not be ignored. Firm identities have been made on far slimmer clues.

Hoyt does maintain a question mark beside the maiden name "Fitts?" for Bridget. He does not, however, come up with any other Travers woman who might be identified as Richard[1]Fitts' sister. One reason to question Bridget's being a Fitts would be because another Mistress Travers(nee Fitts) might turn up. The Travers families in Hoyt and Savage do not seem to offer other better possibilities. [I do not question but that Richard [1]Fitts did have a sis.(or sis.-in-law?) who mar.a Travers.] The possibility of the sister having been an Ordway(and his wife's sister)does not seem likely. I have not done a great deal of Ordway research, but have never seen a suggestion that Bridget was an Ordway? Richard[1]'s mar.to Sarah Ordway was a relatively late mar. However, we have never seen any proof of a first wife(whose sis.Mistress Travers might(?) have been?)That seems to be reaching for imaginary possibilities?

It would appear that ·Bridget Travers Window was still liv.when her presumed bro. Richard[1]Fitts wrote his Will in 1672. One might ask why he did not give the legacy to her? As an elderly woman, however, (She d.1673.) Bridget would have had no need of her former sis.-in-law's red petticoat. Bridget's eldest dau.was named Sarah. Richard[1] might very well have been carrying out his wife's wish, that the special red petticoat be given to their niece - one who bore her own name - Sarah.

We are placing Bridget[1] along with Richard[1] and Robert[1] as perhaps a member of the same Fitts family who migrated to New England. The reader must remember, however, that there is still some doubt of her identity as a Fitts.

Her birthdate is unknown, but the place was surely England.

One secondary! source(Tingley.Some Ancestral Lines.Tuttle. p.111) says she was mar., first, in England, to a Richard Goodwin.

A footnote in Hoyt(v.1,p.178) says:"John S.Goodwin of Chicago states that the mother of the first Richard(Goodwin) was Bridget_____, who mar.,2d,Henry Travers of Nb bef.1645, and, 3d, Richard Window of Gl."

The"first"Richard Goodwin ref.to was of Gloucester and m.2 Nov.1666 Hannah Jones (Hoyt). Sav.gives several ch.:1.Hannah b.26 Oct.1667. 2.Richard b.22 Feb.1669. 3.Thomas b.19 Ag.1672. 4.Mary b.27 Feb.1675. 5.Eleanor b.31 May 1680. [Gl.V.R.add:Joseph b.22 Nov.1677; Daniel b.21 Feb.1684; Sarah b.15 Sep.1687.](Savage says m.20 Nov.1666.)

If Bridget was a Fitts, and if she was the mother of Richard Goodwin, then, of course, those children would also be Fitts descendants.

To cast doubt on Bridget's being the mo.of Richard[1]Goodwin, we must ment.that 1666 represents an unusually late first mar.date for anyone presumably b.c.1634 or earlier. Note also that Richard[1]Fitts' mar.to Sarah[1]Ordway was apparently a late in life first mar. Though not the usual pattern, this was not unheard of in that era. One does wish that the whole picture of this family could be made clearer by more research. We would be glad to receive any addenda or correction.

Note that a "Richard goding" was a witness to the Will of Richard Window in 1665, in Gloucester,MA, and that he also received a bequest therein.

Richard Window's legacies seem to all have been made to family members, and he was not unmindful of his several step-children. If the Richard Goodwin named in the Window Will was not a family member, he would have been the only unrelated legatee named.

From English research: "in a report on Deeds relating to the Sea-port of King's Lynn, a certain Thomas Goodwyn and Bridgitt his wife, surrendered land in the Manor of Marham,Co.Norfolk on the 4th of October 1634."

We have no knowledge of any connection between that Bridgitt Goodwyn of King's Lynn and our Bridget(Fitts?)Travers Window, but in the light of the suggestion that our Bridget was first mar.to a Goodwin, it is an interesting ref. Bridget was not an extremely common Christian name.

Note that Richard & Hannah(Jones)Goodwin of Gloucester did name a son Thomas.

The Chester Herald was unable to find any ref.to Bridget Fitts in English records thus far searched.

If our Bridget came to America with her husband Henry Travers on the Mary and John of London "early in 1634"(March 24,1633/4), she would not still have been mar.to a Thomas Goodwyn in Oct.1634. One Thomas Goodwyn,ae.30,sailed(listed 21 May 1635) in the Mathew of London for St.Christopher's. He might be(?) the Thomas of King's Lynn who sold land in Oct.1634.

Tingley calls Bridget's first husband one Richard Goodwin. (Unconfirmed!)

John S.Goodwin in Goodwins of Kittery...Me.states in his introd.that Bridget Travers' husband,____ Goodwin, was of the Torrington,England, family, Goodwins having lived in Torrington, near Plymouth, for generations. (There are also two places called Torrington in Lincolnshire.) One wonders how JSG knew Mr.Goodwin's home town, when he perhaps did not even know his first name!

Richard Goodwin of Gloucester who m.(1666)Hannah Jones is the earliest Richard Goodwin listed in Savage.

Others are doing Goodwin research currently, and the writer will not attempt any real overview of the Goodwin family in this book. However, Goodwin specialists have pointed out the possibility of Edward Goodwin of Salisbury(m.1668,widow Susanna Wheeler) having been a bro.of Richard of Gloucester(m.1666 H.Jones).

The suggestion also appeared in Goodwin researches that an earlier Richard[1]Goodwin had come to America, with his wife Bridget, and that her mar.to Henry Travers took place later, in America. That idea certainly presents us with some difficulties as to a complete identification of all of Bridget's children. If she were the mother of Edward Goodwin of Salisbury, and perhaps(?) that is a possibility, we should want to add a great chapter of Goodwin descendants. At this time, we shall play the coward, and leave that coverage to someone else's more complete knowledge of the Goodwin family.

Richard Goodwin of Gloucester was the only Goodwin named in the Window Will. He was, however, settled locally and Edward's exclusion from that document might(?) not be significant. If(?) Bridget arrived in America as a Mrs.Goodwin, we must assume that Mr.Goodwin died very soon after their arrival. Sarah Travers, dau.of Henry & Bridget, was b.c.1636, so we are working with a rather narrow span of years in all this speculation. Henry Travers does call Sarah his dau.(as does Savage). Bridget Travers had mar.Richard Windowe in 1659. When Richard[1]Fitts wrote his Will in 1672, why was he still calling her his "sister Traviss"? This term was used in identifying his sis. Travisses' eldest dau., so Sarah would not have been a "Goodwin", and was most certainly a Travers. All of these questions point up the fact that more searching should be done on this branch of the family.

There was a famous English dissenter named Walter Travers who was "silenced". Another well-known Reformer of the same early period was named Goodwin. The reader may want to refer back to the chapter on Rev.Richard Fitz of the early London "Privy Church", and ponder a possible(?) connection with Bridget(Fitts?) who mar. first a Goodwin(?), and then a Travers. No proof, or suggestion of any connection found.

There were very early Travers families in Virginia, which is interesting in the light of our discussions on Robert[1]Fitts of Virginia. We tend to overlook how very mobile our immigrant ancestors were, and how many family connections as well as trading ties there were between the infant settlements.

Henry[1]Travers took the Oath of Supremacy and Allegiance, Mar.24,1633/4, preparatory to sailing to New England on the Mary and John of London, Robert Sayers, Master(Travers Gen.). He came to Ipswich and went from there to Newbury in 1635.

Tingley states that Bridget came to America in the Mary and John with her second husband Henry Travers. This is, of course, a secondary source, and we have no primary proof of that as yet. As was customary, only Henry's name appears on the passenger list. However, as Sarah Travers was prob.Bridget's dau.and not the dau.of a possible(?) first wife of Henry's, Bridget and Henry were perhaps mar.by at least 1635.

Savage, who is the source of our birthdate for Sarah, makes the suggestion that Henry's oldest dau.Sarah"b.1636" was perhaps the child of another wife and therefore perhaps(?) not Bridget's dau. To quote Savage more exactly: "Henry...had Sarah,b.1636, by wh.is uncert.but by w.Bridget had James,28 Apr.1645..." Hoyt makes no ment.of Henry's having a first wife and gives the two ch., Sarah and James, as ch.of Henry[1] & Bridget[1]. The bequest of Richard[1]Fitts to his sister's dau.seems to bear this out. Also Bridget calls Sarah her dau.in the wording of the 1655 petition. (Of course the term "daughter" could also refer to a step-daughter.)

There is no evidence as yet of an earlier marriage for Henry, so maybe Savage's doubt as to the identity of Sarah's mo.might have come from the fact that there was a span of some years between the birth of Sarah and that of James. The latter was definitely Bridget's child.

Savage's use of a simple year(1636) for Sarah's birth implies that his source for the date could be an age designation in later life or some less specific source than an actual birth or baptismal record. With that in mind, we might consider that she could (?) have been born about 1636!

The Travers Gen. discusses the various land grants made to Henry in the Town of Newbury, incl.6A in the "Great Marsh" and a ½A house lot near the First Landing Place, as well as 4A on "Merrimack Street".

A Court Case appears (Records & Files...I:110)Sept.1646 when John Emery was fined for his attentions to Bridget, wife of Henry Travers, and bound not to frequent her company. John[1]Emery m.(2d)29 Oct.1650,Mary(Shatswell)Webster, widow, and his bond to Travers was discharged.

Henry[1]Travers made a Will dated 26 Jly 1648(Hoyt) and then sailed on a return trip to England. He left behind in Newbury a wife Bridget, a dau.Sarah, and a son James. He never came back to America and had died sometime before 1659, and presumably before 1655.

The Text of his Will as printed in Travers Gen...."I give unto my ssonn James my house and half acre lot...4 acre lot at new towne and my division Land and my Eight acres of Salt Marrish ... I Give unto my Daughter Ssara on Cow and a hefer of 3 year ould two brasse potts and lital kitel and a friing pan and a tabl bord...I give unto my wife my bed and Coverlid and a kittl and a Scillet and my wheat and barly and my Swine and my debts that is owing to me and all my other goods...which in all I Judg will be as good a porcion as one of the Children and mor and my debts being paid... my wife shall have the Increase and Incom of my Estate of both the Children untill they be twelve yere ould ..."

In 1655 Bridget petitioned to be allowed to keep the Travers home until James[2] was 21, Henry having left it to their son when he reached the age of twelve. Petition is printed in Travers Gen.:Bridgett Travers of Newbury ...whereas Henry Travers, my husband, went away to England from mee seaven years agone, and left mee two children; my Daughter was of the age of ten years, and my son not full three years of age ...he gave me a bed and a Coverlet which was very meane ... I had not so much as an house to dwell in, and left me also five pounds in debt. And since he went I have not heard of him but once, which is five years since. .. since my husband went away I have paid the five pounds and laid out about twenty more for building ...and also my daughter being now marryed I have payed to her two heifers. Now my .. petition .. is that ..I may enjoy my house and land till my son shall be of the age of one and twenty years, and after to have the thirds during my natural life...Bridgett Travers.

An inventory of Henry[1]Travers' estate taken 15 Jly 1659...92-17-6, less debts of £5 paid. The full text of the inventory appears in Travers Gen.,p.22-3.

Ipswich Quar.Court,Records and Files,p.177-8(Sep.1659):"Will of Henry Travers presented, not proved; adn.granted to his widow, Bridgett, now wife of Richard Window. Nicolas Walington, who married his daughter, Sarah Traverse, had already received three pounds, and the court ordered the administratrix to pay them twelve pounds more, and to the son, James Traverse, thirty pounds when he comes of age, and the rest of the estate, which amounted to 92li., to the widow, the land to stand bound for the children's portion."

Bridget's third husband has been called Richard Window in many printed records. However, Hoyt(v.3,p.1016) says that "Window" should be Winslow. This seems like a very logical correction, especially when one considers how easily handwriting could (and can) be misread. The name Winslow is a common one - and the name Window rather unique. Certainly Hoyt was a careful researcher. We have now, however, been privileged to study a photocopy of the orig.Window Will itself(Essex Inst.Library). There can be absolutely no question but that the writer(not Richard himself) spelled the name WINDO. Richard's own signature(Richard Windowe) does not offer as many letters for comparison, but the "d" of Richard while formed in a tighter flow than the "d" in Windowe was nevertheless shaped similarly.

Richard Window was presented in Court in Dec.1647 for living apart from his wife. In Feb.1648/9, when he was called into Court again on the same charge, he explained that he had sent to England for her, and had learned of her death.

He mar.(2d)the widow Elinor1Bennett. Mistress Bennett came to America with her two children, Elizabeth2, and Anthony2. She was liv.in Gloucester as early as 1650-2.

The dau.Elizabeth[2]Bennett was mar.20 Jan.1662(Savage,v.2,p.17)to Jacob[2]Davis.(8 ch. given in Savage)(Davis Gen.says mar.1661.) She was named in the Richard Window Will in 1665, as was her husband, Jacob[2]Davis(son of John[1]). Jacob[2]Davis was also appointed one of the overseers of the Will, and therefore a guardian of his brother-in-law, Anthony[2]Bennett.

[Savage(v.1,p.170) says that Elizabeth[2] was prob.a dau.of Henry[1]Travers, and mar. Anthony "Berry". Savage also lists Anthony[2]Bennett and his wife Abigail(___)(v.1, p.166-7). These confusing and partially erroneous entries in Savage prob.sprang from the fact that Richard Window called Elizabeth[2] by her maiden name in his Will, even though she had mar.Jacob[2]Davis bef.1665. The reader will note that her witness to the document is as Elizabeth "Daves".]

Knowing that Bridget(Fitts?)Travers had only one dau., Sarah, we have long been puzzled as to Richard ffitts' statement about his sister's eldest dau. However, the presence of the younger step-dau.Elizabeth2Davis, in the family could explain his use of the term "eldest" in ref.to Sarah. This also rather confirms the belief that Sarah[2] was Bridget's own child - as the step-children were ignored in the Fitts' Will. Neither, however, did James[2]Travers(certainly Bridget's own son) receive a Fitts bequest.

Jacob[2]Davis serv.in King Philip's War in 1675. He d.2 Sep.1685, at Gloucester. Elizabeth[2] survived him. No record of her death. Jacob[2] & Elizabeth2Davis had 9 children.

Anthony[2]Bennett was of Gloucester; mar.(by 1678/9),Abigail _____, & had 5 ch. Anthony[2]Bennett d.13 Dec.1690 in an accident. Wid.Abigail as ad'x of est.referred to the expense for 'getting a Jory to view the body, he coming to an untimely end.'

Richard[1]Bennett of Boston was the "unkel benit" referred to in the Window Will. Richard[1]Bennett apparently did not accept the care of his nephew as the 27 Mar.1666 court ordered Anthony[2] to remain under the care of the overseers of the Window Will "until he chose a guardian".

Richard[1] & Elinor(___)Bennett Window had one dau.Ann[2], b.19'of the last mo.'1653. This would be 19 Feb.1653/4. Ann[2]Window later mar.Humphrey Woodbury.

Richard[1]Window was a Selectman of Gloucester in 1654.

In 1656, John[1]Davis bought a house, barn, orchard and land from Richard[1]Window. (Davis Gen.,p.280). Haskell Gen.,p.136, says that W[m1]Haskell, in 1656 bought "a lot of ten acres with a house and barn thereon ..of Richard Window, situated on the westerly side of Walker's creek" in Gloucester. Did Window own two houses, both of which he sold in 1656? We have not consulted the orig.deeds.

Elinor(___)Bennett Window d.in Gloucester 16 May 1658(Gl.V.R.). On 30 Mar.1659, Richard[1]Window mar.(as his 3d wife) widow Bridget Travers. He was also apparently her 3d husband.

In 1659 also, Richard[1] & Bridget[1]Window turned over the Travers home to their son-in-law Nicholas Wallingford, husband of her daughter Sarah[2]Travers.

Savage gives Bridget's death as Oct.1673. Adn.granted 26 Nov.1673 to Nicholas Wallingford and James Travis. The folder at Probate is now empty with only the notation that the actual documents of Bridget's est.settlement are missing. Record reads:"Testament 1673,Nov.25;1673,Nov.26;1673,Nov.26(inventory)."

RICHARD[1] FITTS of Newbury MA. Family No.3.

Richard[1]Fitts, a "planter" was a proprietor of Newbury MA as early as 1642. He had been first at Ipswich.

Currier.Hist.of Newbury.1902,p.88-9."House lots laid out...as early as 1645...Rich ffitts 50...Hen:Travers 01...Thos.Haile __...Jo:ffits, ferry lott, Jo:Indian 61..."

Ibid.p.163:"Pet'n May 14, 1654...Rich[d] Fitts...James Ordway... Ibid.p.141: "Pet'n May 21,1663...James Ordway, Lionel Worth...Richard Fitts...Thomas Hale Jun..."

Take note of the [John]Jo:ffits ment.in 1645. No other ref.to him seen. Savage does list more than one early John Fitch - but not in Newbury. He does not list any John Fitts.

JHF:"The name of Richard Fitts is in the list of 91 grantees on the Proprietor's Book of Records. It also is found in town and county records, 1642,Dec.7; 1655,June 30 and Sept.24; 1659,Mar.25; 1661,May 16...left no children. A son, however, of Samuel Symonds Esq., town clerk, deputy governor, etc. who is supposed by some to have had for his first wife the daughter of Gov.Winthrop, was named after him, Richard Fitts Symonds."

Note our discussion of Symonds connections under Abraham[3]-7 Fitts Jr. We doubt JHF's statement that Rich[d] Fitz-Symonds was named for Richard[1]-3 Fitts of Newbury.

Richard[1]Fitts m.Newbury MA 8 Oct.1654(Newb.V.R.) SARAH[1]ORDWAY. She was prob. the Sarah Ordway bp.11 Mar.1616/7 Bengeworth Parish, Worcestershire, dau.of Edward & Jane Ordway.

ORDWAY FAMILY. Sarah[1]'s bro.James[1]Ordway was prob.the James Ordway bp.5 Ag. 1621 son of Edward & Jane(Webb)Ordway (Bengeworth Par.Reg.entries in Amer.Genealogist Oct.1968 issue). James[1]Ordway went first to the settlement at Dover,N.H.(Cocheco) coming there as a servant of Maj.Richard Waldron. If Sarah[1] came with him perhaps she was also first at Dover? James[1]Ordway m.25 Nov.1648Nb Anne[2]Emery dau. of John[1] & Mary Emery. 11 ch.given in Hoyt p.583. Among them were Edward[2]Ordway b. 17 Sep.1653[Nb] whose 1st wife(m.12 Dec.1678)was Mary Wood; and Anne[2]Ordway b.12 Feb.1669/70 who prob.m.(1)c.1690 Isaac[3]Buswell and m.(2)21 Feb.1722/3 Wm Baker of Ips. Another son John[2]Ordway b.17 Nov.1658[Nb] m.5 Dec.1681 Mary Godfrey. John[2] & Mary (Godfrey)Ordway were ancestors of Deac.Moses Sawyer who m.Ann[5]-41 (Fitts)Sawyer. James[1]Ordway was taxed Dover,N.H. Dec.1639. He sold land gr.to him by Dover in 1662. He was a freeman of Newbury 1668 and d.aft.1702 (prob.aft.1711). Anne(Emery)Ordway d.31 Mar.1687[Nb].

"Richard fitts" witnessed ...24 Sep.1655."'The deposition of Richard fits of Newbery the said Deponent Testifieth that Henry fay[weaver of Newbury]said to him that if hee Died a Singll man then his brothers Children shal haue his estatt this he said often: his mark Richard 𝔘 fits'"(Prob.Rec.Essex Co.p.214-5)

Richard ffitts signed by mark as a witness, a deed for the sale of ld(4A lot) from Giles Cromlon(Cromwell) to Anthony Somerby on 25 Mar.1659. That deed bears note:"Record March 28:1678."

Directly below that deed on the recorder's bks. and bearing rec.date of 27 Mar.1679 is the following:I Richard ffitts of Newbury...and Sarah my wife for...[£9.15s.]sell...unto Anthony Somerby of the abouesayd Towne...[4A lot] scituate in Newbury, in the upper nyne lotts...bounded with the land of the sd Anthony Somerby on the east & also on the west with that four acre lott wch he lately purchased of Gyles Cromlom, the street on the north, the comon on the south ... fiue and twenty Day of march ...[1659]. Richard ffitts a marke, Sara ffitts.. Acknowledged...19 May 1663. Recorded March 28 1679..

The next deed on the bks.in the sequence (apparently all recorded at the same time by Somerby) is for 10A meadow and marsh ld (in two parcels) that Somerby had purchased from Solomon Keyes. The lgr of the two parcels bought from Keyes was c.6A "in the great marshes...bd'd at [east?]end with plumb iland River, and a great creeke,"the ld of Wm Moody at the west end, and the ld of the sd Wm Moody, John Bartlet & John Bayly on the south, and the ld of Wm Moody widdow ____? &"Richard ffitts on the north, and a creeke betweene James Ordways land [& it?...]". This third deed offers a clue to the location of Richard Fitts' marsh land acres.

All extant examples of Richard's signature that were found were made "by mark". While the mark on the will of 1672 might have indicated extreme infirmity, that explanation can not be used for the 1659 deeds. We assume that Richard[1] could not read or write. It is interesting that, unless the recorder made an error(which is always very possible) Sarah did sign her name to the 1659 ffitts/Somerby deed.

From the evidence of Richard[1]ffitts' will, he and Sarah had no children, at least none who survived. They had been mar.relatively late in life. She was 37 yrs.old when they married and he was probably of a comparable age.

Sarah1Fitts d.24 Apr.1668[Nb] (Pope,Hoyt & Newbury V.R.). However a death date of 24 Apr.1667 is given in JHF book and in Coffin & Savage.

Richard[1]ffitts d.2 Dec.1672[Nb] (Hoyt,Coffin,Savage,Pope & Newbury V.R.) JHF book says 24 Dec.1672. His Will follows:

ABRAHAM [2]FITTS of Ipswich MA. Family No.4.

ABRAHAM[2]-4 FITTS (Robert[1]-1) Prob.b.England. Perhaps b.c.1633-4?

Abraham[2]Fitts according to some secondary sources was b.England c.1629. No firm info.on his b.date or b.place found. Likely from date of his first mar.that he was b.England bef.his par.came to Am. As far as we know he was an only child, or the only surviving child. If(?) he reached his majority in 1654 as might(?) be indicated by his first appearance on Salisbury records, receiving land in the 1654 division, can we place his b. date as approx.1633?

Aside from his par.brief sojourns in Cambridge(?) and in Ipswich in 1635(?+), Abraham[2] spent his childhood and youth in the frontier town of Salisbury MA.

"Salisbury mariages...Abraham ffitts was married to Sarah Tomson the (16th)day of May 1655" [Orig.rec.;also in Ct.R.;Hoyt & Salis.V.R.). They were mar."by y^{e} worshipfull m'r Symon Bradstreet". SARAH^{2}THOMPSON dau.of Simon^{1}Thompson(Tompson,Tomson), rope-maker of Ips. He b.c.1608(c.60 in 1668)(Pope).

The iden.of Sarah^{2}'s mo.has been variously given in secondary sources. Sav.says Simon^{1} m.(2)21 Ag.1656 Rachel Glover. The wife ment.in Will & who surv.him was Rachel. Pope says Simon^{1}Thompson m.a sis.of Henry Short. However, Sav.says Henry Short's 2d wife was a Sarah Glover. If Sav.is correct(that both Henry Short & Simon Thompson m.Glovers) that in itself could explain the ref.to Thompson's m.a sis.of Henry's. In that case one of Simon's wives need not have been a Short herself. There were, judging from the Thompson's ch.ages, two wives, & Sav.states that this was so. Simon's first wife must have been the mo.of Mercy^{2} & of Sarah^{2}Thompson. Was she a Rachel Short?

A corresp.has sent the suggestion that Sarah^{2}'s mo.was "Rachel Kilham,dau.of Augustine'Kellam measurer'". In Waters Gleanings(p.1403-4)we find that Augustine^{1}Kilham the immigrant was a son of Henry & Alice(Goodale)Kilham. Henry Kilham(Kellam)'s Will (prov.Engl.1631)is quoted in Waters & there are bequests(among others)to Thompson grch. namely..."William Tomson, my grandchild...Ezechiel Tomson, my grandchild". Children named are the eldest dau.Mary Kellam, & sons "Austen"(Augustine) & Robert Kellam. The dau.who m.a Thompson was not named(unless she was Mary?) & was prob.dead. No grch.named Mercy & Sarah Thompson appear in the Will & we do not believe that a Kilham iden.can be made for Simon^{1}Thompson's first wife. Simon^{1} was in Ips.by 1636 & no sons named Wm or Ezekiel appear in N.E.records. They could have d.bet.1631 & 1636. In any case it was a dau.of Henry Kellam(& sis.of Augustine)who had m.a Thompson.

As the writer has been unable to pursue the iden.of Thompson's wives beyond noting the suggested names that have arisen, we make no iden.here of Sarah^{2}'s mother.

The ch.of SIMON^{1}THOMPSON incl.:1.Mercy^{2} who m.26 Jan.1653 Isaiah Wood. 2.Sarah^{2} who m.1655 Abraham$^{2-4}$ Fitts. 3.Rachel^{2} b.7 Mar.1657;d.5 May 1658. 4.Elizabeth^{2} b.16 Nov.1660;d.12 Je 1661.(Hoyt,Pope,Sav.,Ips.Antiq.Papers)

Mary(Mercy)Wood b.31 Oct.1653 dau.of Isaiah & Mercy^{2}(Thompson)Wood m.Edward^{2} Ordway son of James^{1} & Ann^{2}(Emery)Ordway. Note the other Wood grch.named in Simon Thompson's Will, the text of which follows:

"...I Simond Tomson of Ipswich...give unto Rachel my beloved wife, my dwelling house and land, w^{ch} was part of Hayfeilds farme, and now in y^{e} use and tenure of Thomas Atwood, wth two cowes,two bullockes,six sheep during...her...life...but in case she marryes agayn I give her...six pound yearly...[household goods]but after her decease I give them all[household gds.] to my Grandchild Mary wood. Witness:William Hubbard, Jn^{o} Rogers. Proved Ips.Mar.28,1676.

When Inven.of W^{m}l Moore of Exeter,N.H.(later of Ips.)was taken (Moore d.1671.) the Ipswich part of the invent.incl.£60 in the hands of Simon Thompson. Perhaps that represented the purch.price(or that part as yet unpd.)for the ho.& ld Thompson bought from Moore, and which he left to his grson William Wood.

The 1664 testimony of Robert^{1} & Grace Fitts(see below) indicates that Abraham^{2} & Sarah^{2}(Thompson)Fitts began their mar.life in Salisbury, but were influenced by her fa.

to move to Ips. The date of the move was presum.bet.their date of mar.(16 May 1655) & 30 Jan.1656(1656/7?) when Abraham^2 was said to be liv.in the jointly owned prop.in Ips.

In Hammatt(p.369)we find:"By a deed,in which he[Simon^{1}Thompson]styles himself Rope-maker,dated August 5,1658, he conveys to Abraham Fitts a house and land which he bought of Humphrey Griffin,three acres,having Rocky Hill toward the west;John Fuller south;the highway east and north east."

A small note in the Ips.Antiq'n remarks:"Abraham(Fitts)removed from Salisbury to Ipswich,and owned lands in the vicinity of the residences of Mr.Ephraim Fellows and Mr. Burnham. His descendants still reside in town though not by name."

Hammatt(p.236)says Richard Nichols purch."of Edward Bragg,Mar.21,1658[1½A ld]...on the south side of the river,having the highway leading to Chebacco south;land sometime Humphrey Griffin's now Abraham Fitt,towards the East;other land of sd Richard Nicolls north and west."

These refs.prob.give an approx.location of the Ips.home of Abraham^{2}Fitts. Robert^1 & Grace Fitts had by c.1658 also rem.to Ips. and they prob. liv. near (or with?) their son.

A misunderstanding arose re.the Thompson/Fitts agreement & Abraham^{2}Fitts took his fa-in-law to court. Ips.Quar.Ct.Rec.and Files:"Writ:Abraham Fitt v.Symon Tompson; for not performing his promise he made to him in drawing him away from Salsbury to come to dwell in this town,viz.,that if he would come he would give him forty pounds in the purchase he had bought;dated Mar.20,1664;signed by Robert Lord for the court...'In satisfaction of the forty pounds I promised Abraham Fitte in consideration of his marriage with my daughter I tender to him the foure Cowes and six sheepe which he hath long since received. And if it shal be judged by indifferent men that the s^d cattle and rent fall short of forty pounds I tender further to abate so much of the rent due to me since by his bond or bill, which he hath yet in his hand...'

"Simon Tompson's bill of cost £1.8s8d. Verdict for defendant.

The text of one of the original depositions appears:"The depositions of Robert Fitt and Grace Fitt his wife. These deponents testifie that Symon Tompson coming to Salsbury, when our sonn Abraham Fitt(who married the sd Symon Tompson his daughter) being then settled in his house at Salsbury, desired him to come to Ipswich to dwell:discoursing about a purchase the sayd Symon had purchased of Humphry Griffin and propounded to us to come also and to help him in the purchase,but not then consenting, he the sayd Symon replied and Said if he the sayd Abraham would come to Ipswich to dwell,he would give him fortye pounds in the purchase,whether we would doe anything or noe,and then said he hopte he might be able to purchase it himselfe... Recorded 22:10:1664."

Thompson's Will indicates that he retained some ownership rights in this jointly owned ho.where Abraham^{2} & Sarah^{2} settled. He left his"halfe of y^{e} house and land"to his grch. Abraham^{3} and Sarah^{3}Fitts.

Sarah^{2}(Thompson)Fitts d.5 Je 1664.(Ips.Antiq.,Ips.V.R.,Hoyt). It is likely that the date 20 Mar.1664 in the court case above refers to 1664/65. Sarah^{2} having died in June 1664, Abraham^{2} & his father-in-law were prompted to seek a legal settlement for their differences and thus clear the property title. Thompson did not leave his"halfe of y^{e} house" to his grch. until after the death of their fa. Abraham^{2}. So in all likelihood the two men must have remained on relatively good terms through the years after Sarah^{2}'s death. See info. about the double year of early dating before England accepted calendar reforms.

On 7 Jan.1668(Ips.V.R.)Abraham^{2} m.(2d)REBECCA BURLEY,wid.of Giles^{1}Burley.(Gen. of Burley/Burleigh Fam.used date 23 Feb.1669.). JHF has:"'Abraham Fitt & Rebecca Birdly maryed the 7 of Jan.1668.'" Hoyt uses 7 Jan.1668,which ref.of course to 1668/9.

The writer has seen no other source for the date of 23 Feb.than the Gen.Burley. The V.R.entry for 7 Jan.does not say that that is when banns were publ.but says mar.date.

Note the date of Giles^{1}Burley's d. His Will appears(p.9-10)of Gen.Burley..Fam. & in Essex Reg.Prob.,v.1:"This 18th of July 1668...to my wife Elizabeth[sic]...eldest son Andrew...son James...son John.. [Signed by]The mark of Ghils ℘ Berdly."

A clipping(no date)from Ips.Antiq.Papers ref.to Giles Burley's Will saying it was signed 18 Jly 1663 & prov.29 Sep.1663. Numbers 3 & 8 are often difficult to read in old penmanship. Orig.not seen,nor its rec.in Essex Prob. However we note ref.to a ld.sale by Giles in 1666 and the fact that Rebecca was not called a "Widow" in the document of 13 Je 1668. New style dating would of course place Abraham^{2} & Rebecca's m.7 Jan.1669.

BURLEY FAMILY. Name spelled many ways:Burley,Burleigh,Birdley,Budleigh,Bardley... The writer believes that no man named "Tyler"Birdley ever existed. That was prob.a misreading for the name "Gyles"or Giles. Giles^{1}Burley was a nephew and heir of Andrew^{1} Hodges of Ips. Giles may(?)have been the son of a John Buerhly who was on the tax rolls of Roxbury 1634. There is no question but that the name of a wife"Elizabeth" in Giles Burley's Will was a clerical error! Giles himself did not write the Will. His wife's name was certainly Rebecca.

The only suggestion(in a secondary source)of an iden.for Rebecca herself that has appeared is that she was poss.a Davis?? We do find in Sav.that an Isaac Davis had "a d.wh. m.a Fitz,and was of Ipswich".

This Davis family was an interesting one. An Isaac Davis m.Beverly MA 28 Sep.1659 Lydia^{2}Black(dau.of John^{1}). Isaac & Lydia^{2}(Black)Davis were poss.Ind.victims at Kennebec. That Isaac Davis of Beverly & Kennebec would prob.have been of the same generation as Rebecca Burley Fitts.They could have(?)both been ch.of an earlier Isaac^{1}Davis who was of Salem 1637 & of Beverly 1650.(Sav.)

The iden.of Rebecca as poss.(?)a dau.of Isaac^{1}Davis of Salem & Beverly gains some support from the fact that Abraham^{2} & Rebecca Fitts named a son Isaac^{3} - a name not used bef.to our knowledge in the Fitts family. If(?)she was sis.of Isaac^{2}Davis,were they both ch.of Isaac^{1}? Hist.Salem v.1,p.366:"Isaac^{1}Davis came here(Salem)from England without his wife. June 6,1637,the general court ordered that he be sent to her in England; and the town of Salem was ordered to have it done. Accordingly,Dec.31,1638,the town appointed Samuel Archer and William Allen to collect the claims due to Davis and sell the property which belonged to him,and with the money received thereby to pay the charge for his passage and his debts as far as it would go." Sav.says the Isaac^{1}Davis of Salem in 1637 was of Beverly in 1650.

An Isaac Davis was on jury(1660)(Hist.Salem,v.2,p.283). If the 1659 m.of Isaac Davis to Lydia^{2}Black was the m.of a yg man & not a 2d m.for the earlier Isaac^{1}Davis,then he would prob.not be the adult Isaac of 1650 ref. He could have been the man on 1660 jury. All of this conjecture is appropos of wondering whether we have any proof that the earlier Isaac^{1} did return to Engl.for his fam.,or did send for them to come to Amer.

The ref.on Isaac Davis in Sav.is difficult to interpret.Quoted in full it is:"Isaac,Salem 1637,Beverly 1650,perhaps was after at Casco;unless this were ano.whose eldest s.John b.1660,was liv.at Gloucester,1733,with other s.Samuel and James,beside ch.of a d.wh.m.a Fitz,and was of Ipswich,and ano.d.wh.m.Smith.He had aft.first destruct.of Falmouth,est. set out 1680,but on sec.destruct.prob.moved to safer quarters.Willis,I.160,209."

Noyes/Libby has an"Isaac,in 1655 was fined £3 for running away from his master.His father(who?)[sic]undertook to pay the fine.He mar.Lydia Black(John)in Beverly 28 Sep.1659 ..." Ch.of Isaac & Lydia(Black)Davis(Noyes/Libby):John b.1660;"James(wrote),in 1733 was of Ipsw.,husbandman";Mary b.1664 m.Richard Smith m.(2d)Samuel Wood;Ebenezer,b.1671 7 Nov.Beverly;Isaac,bp.Beverly 5 Jly 1674;Israel,bp.Bev.3 Je 1677;Samuel of Glouc.,mariner 1733,his deed of his fa's ld at Falmouth was wit.by Grace Tucker & Mary Davis.

So the Isaac^{2}Davis who m.Lydia Black,and who might(?)have been a bro.of Rebecca Burley(if she was a Davis?) did have a fa.in this country 1655.Was fa.the earlier Isaac of 1637? There were other Davis fam.A Jabez Davis(John)of Barnstable had son Isaac b.23 Apr.1696.An Isaac Davis bp.Roxbury 18 Apr.1683. was perh.(?)son of a Wm Davis.So the name Isaac was used in other lines.

It was a dau.of Isaac^2 & Lydia(Black)Davis who m.a Smith.Bearing Sav.ref.in mind he must be the Isaac who had some connection with a Fitts.Does the Sav.ref.say that the ch.of the dau.who m.a Fitz were of the same generation as the dau.who m.Smith? Or do we have a"dau.who mar.a Fitz"who would be of the same generation as ch.of Isaac and Lydia(Black)? It might be helpful to search out whatever 1733 document Sav.saw which makes the orig.ref. Sam'l^3 of Glouc.made deed 1733 & James^3 of Ips.made some written paper 1733(Noyes/Libby).Also Rich^d Smith b.1689 son of Rich^d & Mary(Davis)Smith was in legal difficulties 1733 at Biddeford ME accused of counterfeiting.One of these 1733 refs.might be the source of Sav.assertion that a Davis dau.m.a Fitz.

Another roundabout idea emerges. If Abigail Wood who m.John^4-14 Fitts was perhaps (?)a dau.of the Samuel Wood of Ips.who m.(2d husb.)Mary(Davis)Smith, then we have ch. of a dau.who m.a Fitz being (perhaps!)the ch.of John^4-14 & Abigail(Wood)Fitts of Ips. Abigail was obviously not a Davis,though her mo.might(?) have been one. There are real problems with this explanation. Sav.seems to say that his source doc.ref.to two daus. If Sav.was using a 1733 doc.,note that Mary^3(Davis)Smith Wood d.1731,ae.67,Ips. We have NOT mastered the relationships of the early Wood families and have NOT proven Abigail Wood's parentage.Her oldest son was named Samuel,but John^{4}Fitts had a bro.Samuel^4 so the name was already being used in the Fitts fam. Abigail Wood may have been NO relation at all to Samuel Wood. There were other Wood families.

And we do come back to the fact that Rebecca did name a son Isaac^{3}Fitts! We incl. Davis thoughts for future researchers but do not feel that wid.Rebecca Burley's parentage has as yet been adequately proven. Her poss.iden.as a Davis(so far as we know) rests solely on the confusing Sav.ref.and the naming of son Isaac^3.

Giles^1 & Rebecca Burley had 4(or 3)sons(b.Ips.):

i.Andrew^{2}Burley b.5 Sep.1657;d.Ips.1 Feb.1718/9;m.14 Mar.1682 Mary^{3}Conant(Lot^2,Roger^1).8 ch. iv.John^{2}Burley. Seat in mt.ho.assigned to a John Burley 1702.(Sav.names all 4 sons giving Giles b.13 Jly 1662 and no b.date for John.Hammatt does not list Giles at all & gives b.date of 13 Jly 1662 to John. If Hammatt correct were there only 3 sons?)

These 4(or 3)Burley men were half-bros.of the ch.of Abraham^2 & Rebecca Fitts.James^2 Burley as well as some descendants of his bro.Andrew^2 settled in what later became Newmarket,N.H. James^{2}had bought 150A of upld.& Meadow c.1693/4 on the shores of Great Bay fr.Daniel King.In 1727 that part of old Exeter became part of the new township of Newmarket.An old Burley farmho.at the Bayside here in Newmarket was recently torn down & mov.to Riverton VT. Those who mov.it said it showed evid.of being built c.1710.(See Fine Homebldg. Oct./Nov.1982,p.36-41).The new owners have changed the roofline completely from the orig.into a gambrel roof.The James^{2}Burley fam.was settl. on that beautiful rolling farmld.by c.1699(aft.King Wm's War),but that ho.was prob.not the 1st one built.Local trad.that mat'ls fr.1st mt.ho.(torn dn.1792)& fr.older ho.? used.

On Jan.4,1658 Giles^{1}Birdley had bought a $\frac{1}{4}$A ho.lot & ho.in Ips.fr.John Woodam. This old ho.stood on the east side of Brooke St.(or Hog Lane).Waters says Birdley sold to Thos.Knowlton Jr.Nov.1,1666. Gen.Bur.Fam.(quoting fr.Felt.Hist.Ips.)ment.Giles'ownership of Div.Lot 105 situated on Great Hill,Hogg Island & says Inven.est.£241.4s6d.

Rebecca was called"Goodwife"not"Widow" in Je 1668.Was Giles then an invalid?He apparently had his will written on 18 Jly 1668.Felt(fr.Gen.Bur.Fam.)sd Birdley liv.8 yrs.in the ho.on Brooke St. That would agree with the 1658/1666 purch.& sale dates.(Waters). The 1668 Will ment.a ho.,barn & lds. The latter ho.was deeded by Rebecca in Jan.1679 (1679/80)to eldest son Andrew^{2}Burley who was over 21.Where did fam.liv.1666-68? Was 1666 sale a mort.? Or more than one piece of prop.? In any case the remaining Burley est.in Ips.passed to Andrew^{2}Burley & his heirs.

See below under Richard^{3}-9 Fitts when he & his mo.Rebecca agreed on a div.of Ips.& Salisbury lds.

MILITARY SERVICE OF ABRAHAM$^{2-4}$ FITTS SR.: King Philip(Metacomet)son of Chief Massasoit of the Wampanoags,growing increasingly unfriendly & fearful of the white man's threat,gathered tog.a confederation of Indian tribes.In 1675 war broke out between the English & this Wampanoag Federation.Conflict began in earnest late in June & during the year that the war lasted many towns were left in ashes.

On 30 Nov.1675 a co.of men was raised in Ips.& Abraham^{2}Fitts was among them.The Essex Co.men marched under the command of Maj.Sam'l Appleton.They joined with other colonial militia men & proceeded against the fortified island camp of the Narragansets in the Great Swamp near what is now Kingston R.I. They attacked the Swamp Fort on a bitterly cold Sunday morning,Dec.19,1675.The English exped'n incl.men fr.Plymouth & CT colonies as well as those fr.Mass.Bay. Hundreds of Indians,men,women,& children were killed,the fort captured and burned,& the tribe's winter stores of grain destroyed. Many escaped into the woods,but the Engl.victory was a decisive blow to King Philip's hopes.

Three of the men fr.Ips.were killed & 22 wounded so their co.must have been in the thick of the fighting.The winter of 1675-6 is recorded as having been a long cold one & anyone with a vivid imagination can readily imagine what that winter campaign must have been like.The militia pursued the fleeing Indians on the so-called"Hungry March" & it was early Feb.before the Ips.soldiers were back at home.

JHF says that Abraham^{2}"was also with the expedition to Canada in 1690."

Hoyt does not ment.the 1690 serv. The writer has wondered if it might not be poss.(?) that the Abraham Fitts who serv.in 1690 was Abraham^{3}Jr.?

In Waters Ips.in the Mass.Bay(p.311)"Ephraim Fitts of Ipswich received[Ips.Apr.13,1735] land grant in Winchendon on rights of his grandfather who was in 1690 exped." The grfa. of that Ephraim(bp.1705)would have been Abraham^{2}Fitts Sr. In Waters the refs.therein on p.198,200,220 & 313 are indexed as"Abraham Fitts Jr." However the actual refs.do NOT bear the designation "Jr." Indeed the p.198,200 & 220(indexed as "Jr.")are covering the 1675-6 Narraganset campaign & they would certainly ref.to Abraham^{2}Sr.even though indexed erroneously as "Jr." The p.311-3 coverage of the 1690 militia men are also indexed as "Jr." but in the text itself the ref.is simply to Ephraim's grfa."Abraham" who was of course Abraham^{2}Sr.

The 1690 material apparently is not fr.actual militia rolls but a reconstruction of a listing of the soldiers based on ld.gr.claimed by their descendants.As Ephraim's ld.claim is recorded to have been based on his grfa.'s serv.it would apparently ref.to Abraham^{2}-4.

The colonial forces which went to Quebec under Sir Wm Phips' leadership 1690 went by boat up the St.Lawrence. It was certainly not unheard of for elderly men to do militia duty so prob.we would do well to let the orig.ref.stand. Ephraim^{4}'s grfa.(Abraham^{2}Sr.) would have perh.been c.57 yrs.old & prob.the rigors of the campaign undermined his health as they well might that of a younger man.

The 1690 attempt to capture Quebec City failed largely because the second arm of the strategy,to attack Montreal at the same time,had not materialized.However,troops were landed at Quebec and a battle fought.

In the spring of 1690 Phips had led colonial militia forces on a successful venture to capture Port Royal so high hopes were expected of this fall expedition to Quebec City. The fleet of 32 sail arr.in sight of the City on 5 Oct.1690.About half the militia men on board were sick as an epidemic of small pox had broken out during the voyage.However, about 1300 men were set ashore on 8 Oct.intending to assault the town fr.the rear while Phips bombarded the heights with artillery fr.the ships.The troops did drive the French outposts back across the St.Charles River and the ships did engage in artillery exchanges for two days.It soon became evident that the city had been strongly reinforced from Montreal & Phips reembarked for home.

We have no way of knowing whether Abraham^{2}Fitts was among those on board ship (poss.ill with small pox)or among the men who waded ashore in the cold St.Lawrence. As an older man he had prob.already been exposed to small pox & might well have been one of the troopers capable of engaging in the landing. The 1690 expeditions would be considered a part of what we in Amer.called King William's War.

Coffin,Sketch..Hist.Newbury(p.321) calls Nicholas^{1} a seaman & says he"was captive at sea and never returned home."

He presum.d.bet.1680 & 1683,when Sarah^{2} asked for adm.on est. At that time she had "ten children".Coffin lists first 8 ch. Sav.also has first 8 & adds:"and perhaps others aft. was freem.1670.." The names & dates of last 5 ch.appear in Early Sett.Rowley.

Inven.Nicholas^{1}'est.taken 22 Sep.1681"his widow to use the estate to bring up the young child and the lame child(Essex Deeds 4 Ips.:443)"(Early Sett.Rowleyp.400).

Early Settl.Rowley also has info.on Anthony Bennett & Richard Window. Bennett info. therein seems to be confusing until one realizes that the Anthony^{2}Bennett(p.21) son of Dr.David^{1}Bennett was another man & NOT the Anthony^{2} son of Wid.Elinor^{1} ment.under Bridget^{2}-2.Latter Anthony^{2}was of Glouc.;d.1690 & m.Abigail____.We would be first to admit of course that we have prob.made our own mistakes in the complicated Bennett Window/Davis/Fitts/Goodwin/Travers/Wallingford relationships.

Date 1681 of Invent.(Early Settl.Rowley)seems to conflict with date 1683 Sav.gives for Sarah's request for adm. The exact d.date of Nicholas^{1} was prob.never known.She must have sought some clarification of her prop.rights in 1681.Perhaps it was the d.in 1682 of Nicholas^{2}Jr.which prompted her to ask for a final settl.which appar.took place 1684.

Sarah^{2}(Travers)Wallingford,widow m.(2)Haverhill MA 18 May 1691 ONESOPHORUS MASH Sr.(Marsh) of Haverhill(his 3d wife). We do not know Sarah^{2}'s d.date.

JAMES^{2} TRAVERS of Gloucester & Brookfield MA. Family No.6.

JAMES^{2}TRAVERS (Bridget^{1}-2 (?Fitts)Travers) b.Newbury MA 28 Ap.1645 son of Henry^{1} & Bridget.

James^{2}Travers m.18 Ap.1667(Sav.)MERCY PIERCE dau.of John. Hoyt says James "prob. m.April 8 1667'Marcye Pearce'in Gloucester." Travers Gen.(p.27)gives her b.fr.Gl.rec.as 'Marsye born fforsthe weak in the 7th.mo.1650 'dau.of "John and Elizabeth Pearce of Gloucester who were married Nov.4,1643."

"James Travis"bought ld.in Gl.near'Poles'& the frame of a dwelling ho.fr.Sam'l Peacock in 1667.In 1668 James^{2} sold ho.& ld.in Gl.to Thos.Millett Sr.& mov.to Brookfield MA. He had ho.lot(30A) in Brookfield located on the east side of Foster's Hill.

James Travis was of Brookfield 1672-5(Sav.) so fam.was liv.there about the time of the massacre when the town was destroyed in 1676. John Ayers'Tavern sheltered c.26 men & 54 women & children who survived till rescue arr.4 Ag 1676 under Maj.Simon Willard.

James^{2} was in a group of 18 men who took part under Ens.Timberlake (or by ano.rec. under Edw.Creek)in King Philip's War.He appeared on lists of 22 & 29 Fb.1675/6. This small detachment of men was merged into a lger co.under Capt.Wm Turner & marched for the relief of Quabogue(Brookfield).With other cos.they serv.under Maj.Savage.Some of Turner's men ret.to Boston 7 Ap.1676 but others,with more volunteers joining them,posted themselves at Hatfield.Now numbering c.150 men Turner's co.marched fr.Hatfield 25 miles through the woods past the ruins of Deerfield & defeated a party of Indians coming upon them by surprise just so.of Mt.Adams.However on setting out to ret.to Hatfield they were attacked by a lg.force of Indians.Turner & 36 men were killed.Two small groups were taken into captivity.It is evident that James Travis(Travers)was among the latter as a rec.of him appears in Onondaga Co.N.Y.rec.:"Oswego:James Travis was captured by the Indians in 1676,and held two years."

No d.date fd.for James^{2} but Travers Gen.says his wid.Mercy d.Holliston 11 Dec.1744. But was she liv.1717 as she was not ment.in land settlements.

In 1717 heirs of James Travis rec'd 60A grant in Brookfield near Brookfield Saw Mill.

The gravestone of Abraham^{3}Fitts Jr.is standing in High St.Cem.in Ips.in very legible condition,a handsome old stone:"Here lyes y^{e} body of M^{r}Abraham Fits who died August y^{e} 18,1714,aged 59 years."

Abraham^{3}Fitts Jr.was a farmer and was ment.in at least one ref.as a"weaver". He inherited & liv.in his fa's ho.a partial interest in which succeeded to him under his grfa. Thompson's Will.

Aft.d.of Rebecca(__)Burley Fitts appears[18 Ap 1710]"Agreement...between Abraham ffitts of Ipswich...& William Baker..Glover Joynt Execut[rs] to...our Hon[d]ffather Abraham ffitts Late of Ipswich..."[final partition].

Note below when in 1714(1714/5)sons Abraham[4]-11 & Robert[4]-12 sold to Jos.Kinsman ld that had been their fa's. In 1715 Abraham[4]-11 also sold to Jos.Kinsman.Both of these Fitts to Kinsman deeds were rec.Jly 1717 & were for lds once having belonged to Abraham[3]-7 Fitts Jr. Ref.also to 1732 deed Robert[4]-12 to Abraham[4]-11(under Abraham[4]-11) which makes ment.of their fa's ld.

Hoyt makes no ment.of Abraham[3]Fitts Jr.joining the Ch.or becoming a freeman. Hammatt(p.104,193)says Abraham[3]Jr.joined Ch.but seems to be using the same ref.date as used for Abraham[2]-4 Sr. Hammatt does contain errors on his Fitts info.

The est.of Jos.Jacob(inven.1697)incl.among debts due fr.est.."To Abra:ffits, for boarding y[e]child £4". The ch.ref.to was apparently a son Jos.Jacob b.12 Mar.1692(Hammatt p.172) son of Jos.& Susannah(Symonds)Jacob.No knowledge of any fam.connection.However the Will of the Hon.SamuelSymonds(16 Fb 1673-6 Nov 1678)ment."my loving brother M[r]Richard Fitts Symonds.." Hon.Sam'l Symonds(Susannah's grfa)was a leading citizen of Ips. He came fr.Yieldham,Co.Essex,Engl.1637/8. Pope ment.the bro.M[r]Richard Fitz Symonds & also that in 1662 letter Sam'l Symonds Esq.had spoken of"his only brother who dwells at Much Yeldham,Essex".There must have been some reason for the use of the middle name Fitts/Fitz. Note our comment under Richard[1]-3 Fitts.

In the case of a choice of someone to care for yg Jos.Jacob(grgrson of Sam'l Symonds Esq.)one connection was through the Ross fam. Killicross[1]Ross was a"servant"of Sam'l Symonds & a dau.Elisabeth[2]Ross b.27 Jly 1667 sis.of Mary2Fitts was named in Mrs. Symond's Will(as a maid?).

Another connection was through Stacey fam. James[2]Burley son of Abraham[3]-7 Fitts' step-mo.Rebecca had m.1685 Rebecca Stacey dau.of Thos.& Susanna(Worcester)Stacey & grdau.of Rev.W[m]Worcester.Rev.Worcester m.(2d wife)1653 the same Rebecca(Swayne) Byley Hall who later m.Samuel Symonds Esq. Mrs.Rebecca(Swayne)Byley Hall Worcester Symonds was liv.until 1695 so she knew her step-grdau's husband James Burley & his fam. Either the Ross or Stacey/Burley connection might explain the care of the child.

As for the name Richard Fitts Symonds,the explanation must lie in Engl. Could he poss.(?)have been named for Rev.Richard Fitz of the London Privy Church???

Mary(Duncan)Sargent & her husb.W[m]Sargent gave the name Fitz to 3 ch.:Fitz-William b.6 Jan.1680(Sav.);Fitz-John b.1696;d.soon;& another Fitz-William b.1701. Mary Duncan was dau.of Peter & Mary(Eppes)Duncan of Gl. Mary Eppes was dau.of Daniel & Martha (Reade)Eppes.Martha(Reade)Eppes was 2d wife of Dep.Gov.Sam'l Symonds Esq.of MA.

Elizabeth Reade sis.of Martha(Reade)Eppes Symonds was m.to John Winthrop Jr. Gov.of CT. They named a son b.14 Mar.1639 Boston,Fitz-John Winthrop. These uses of the name in the Reade/Symonds fam.may simply be as prefixes meaning"son"but we ment.them in case further research should shed more light on the Engl.background of Robert^{1}-1 Fitts.

His Will appears in the privately printed Hist.of Simeon Newton Cutler.By 1714 he had become Abraham Fitts Sen^{r}..."I Abrahā ffitts Sen^{r}of Ipswich...yeoman...unto my wife Mary[12A ld]..dureing..Time of her being my widow[& bldg.,stock,etc.]..To my Sons Abraham & Robert ffitts ...all my Lands not given my wife..& att Theire mothers Ceaseing To be my Widow To have all y^{t}Land I have given her...Also..To my said Two sons Abraham & Robert ffitts all my moveable or pson^{l}Estate...not before given..To my Wife... RICHARD^{3}-9 FITTS. (Abraham^{2}-4;Robert^{1}-1) b.Ips.MA 26 Fb 1672.(Hoyt & Ips.V.R.)

When their fa's prop.were divided Richard^{3}'s share was the ld in Salisbury MA incl.the orig.grants to their grfa.Robert^{1}-1 Fitts.

Hammatt:"From Town Records:Richard Fitts and Rebeccah Fitts,widdow,relict of Abraham Fitts of Ipswich,deceased,enter into an agreement dated this twenty & fifth day... 1693,y^{t}whereas s^{d}Abraham in his last will...left to s^{d}Rebeccah & Richard Lands in Ipswich & Salisbury to be to their use & improvement during y^{e}natural Life of s^{d}Rebeccah:

the Land and Marsh Grounde in Salisbury being s^{d}Richards after s^{d}Rebbeccah's decease: it is considered y^{t} s^{d}Rebecah shall have the whole Lands & Meadows given them in Ipswich to be to her use...during her natural life and shall Quit claime to the s^{d}Richard of all Lands & meadows given him by deed of Gift by his father in Salisbury."

Richard^{3}Fitts was m.18 Mar.1694/5(Hoyt;Ips.V.R.) to SARAH THORNE. She d.Mar.1773 ae.100 yrs.(JHF);"d.Mar.abt.1773 a.99 or 100y.P.R.3."(Salis.V.R.);"Sarah,wife of Richard d. 1773,ae.99 or 100yr.from Private Rec.in Salisb.Mass.V.R.vol." A very old paper of Geo. Washington Fitts(courtesy of Mrs.Sadie Embree)says:"My Great Grandfather was a son of Richard Fitts of Ipswich who maried Sarah Thorn March 18 1694..rem'd to Salisbury.She d.March 1773 - 100 yrs." JHF:Sarah"was a superior woman and remarkable for resolution of character,bravery and piety,walking sixteen miles to worship with the people of God at Ipswich,of which church she was a member.'She was a dutiful and affectionate wife, a kind mother..a pious,charitable and useful member of society.She died March,1773, aged 100 years."

Sarah's parentage is not positively proven but an excellent supposition is that she was a dau.of Barnard & Martha(Brown)Thorne of Ips.

THORNE FAMILY and BROWN FAMILY.

Barnard Thorne on 27 Nov.1658 testified(ae.25)as a servant of W^{m}Bartholomew of Ips.

"Candlewood"(Pts.XVI-XVII Proceed.of Ips.Hist.Soc.)contains much info.on Brown fam. Martha Brown dau.of John Brown S^{r} made a deposition 1671 in court about sale of a horse that had taken place in Ag 1670.She is named as Martha Thorn in her fa's est.settlement 1677.Unless Barnard Thorn had ano.1st wife & there is NO evid.to suggest such a possibility,we can further narrow down his m.date to bef.Dec.1673 when the wife of"Bernard"Thorne came into full communion with Ch.in Ips.(Hammatt).

John Brown S^{r}ment.in Town Rec.1640 & liv.Ips.Town c.1648-50 in a ho.near Rev.M^{r}W^{m} Hubbard on Heartbreak Rd. Bef.1660 John Brown had built a ho.on his farm on what became Fellows' Lane & mov.there to liv.in the Candlewood region of Ips. This old Brown farm was still in possession of Brown fam.in 1908.

Edward^{1} & Faith(Lord?)Brown had a son John^{2}(named in Edw^{d}1's Will) & suggestion has arisen that John Brown S^{r}can be iden.with Edward^{1}'s son John^{2}. If that is the case then Martha(Brown)Thorn would be grdau.of Edw.^{1} & Faith. Not having the resources to even begin a Brown search & noting the number of John Browns in Sav.we would welcome clarification from our readers.

The ch.of John S^{r} & Mary(___)Brown incl.2 sons John Jr.& Nathaniel;a dau.Sarah who m.Ens.Thomas Jacobs; and a dau.Martha. The est.settlement of John Browne has been printed in Prob.Rec.Essex Co.:Adm.Sep.25,1677 to John Browne,eldest son.£50 ea.to two daus.Jacob & Thorne..to his bro.Nathaniell..[and bound to pay his mo.]. The son John made pet'n to lessen what he was to pay his sis.Martha Thorne & Sarah Jacobs..granted. The fa.had d.intestate & depositions fr.others were taken re.est.incl.depos'n of "Andrew Burlay aged about 21 years that when he lived with old goodman Browne he often heard him speak concerning what he had given to his son Nathaniell Browne and unto his daus. Martha and Sarah,and that his son John should have all the est.which he had then..1679."

The reader will recall that Andrew^{2}Burley,half-bro.of Richard^{3}-9 Fitts,serv.an apprenticeship under John Brown S^{r} to learn a carpenter's trade. The detailed inven.of Brown's est.appears in"Candlewood" & totals £606.19.9 less debts of £39.4(of which £20 was owed to Martha Thorne the yet unpd pt.of her inheritance.)

Martha Brown was evid.of adult status when she made testimony in court 1671.She was liv.30 Mar.1723 when,as Martha Thorne of Ips.,she testified re.her fa's lds.there.("Candlewood"p.37). She m.bet.1671 & Dec.1673 Barnard Thorne also of Ips.

Barnard was Surveyor of Highways 1675,1697(Hammatt).On 12 Je 1688 Harlakinden^{2}Symonds(Sam'l^{1}Esq.) sold Coxhall a lg.tract of ld in York Co.ME he had inher.fr.his fa. It was purch.by a group of Ips.men. Among those on the list of grantees appear:..William Baker..Barnett Thorne..Isack Fellows..John Brown farmer,Nathaniel Brown..Robert Lord, Jr...John Burnham...

The only Thorne on Ips.tax lists 1679 assessed for the elder's salary.."Barnard Thorne 9s/5d." A Joanna Thorn(perhaps his sis.)m.17 Fb 1669/70 Salisb.MA to John^{2}Stevens Jr.

There are other Thorns in Pope & Sav.but they were in Lynn,Cambridge,Boston & Roxbury.Neither Pope nor Sav.make any ment.at all of Barnard^{1}Thorne of Ips.

Richard[3]Fitts & Sarah his wife adm.to Salis.Ch.26 May 1700 by letters fr.Ips.Ch. In the early yrs.in Salis.Sarah had apparently walked back to Ips.(16 mi.)to attend Ch. Just when the mov.back to the frontier town of Salisbury was made is not certain.The b.& bp.& d. of son Isaac[4] all appear on Ips.rec.as does b.of Sarah(1697).However,the latter also is in Salis.V.R.& fr.Nathaniel(b.13 Jly 1699)the ch.are all only rec.in Salis. The Salis.lds had become his in 1693 by agreement with his mo. Undoubtedly he spent time there prior to his m.& (?)in the early yrs.thereof preparing a ho.for his fam.[Or was his grfa's Salis.ho. still standing?]

JHF:"In 1691,Jan.16,his father conveyed to him in fee all his lands in Salisbury,which included the original grant to his grandfather,Robert Fitts.He soon afterward moved to Salisbury,where he built a block house for his residence,and to shield his family from the Indians,by whom they were repeatedly attacked.It is a noteworthy circumstance that the same lands are now[1869]in possession of his descendants,having never gone out of the family name."

A feeble & inexperienced attempt by the author to find this homestead has failed unless it stood on the Fitts lot [cor.of Mudnock Rd.]ment.above under Robert[1]-1 Fitts.

We note that Deeds of 1702,1703,1709/10 all say in off'l copy that Richard Fitts signed & sealed the deeds.However the 1736 div.&1739 deed to son Nath[l] say signed by mark. Note the question in writer's mind about iden.of the Richard of 1736 div. Richard[4]-17 is also on rec.as having signed documents,however.So the explanation of the mark on 1736 & 1739 papers may simply mean old age and infirmity.If Richard[3]-9 Fitts had been a skilled weaver all those years,were his hands now crippled by arthritis??

We do not know the source for the statement that Richard[3]'s ho.was a blockhouse that was constantly attacked by Indians.However,King William's War(1689-97)was barely over, if indeed it wasn't still in progress,when Richard[3] mov.his yg fam.back to his grfa's lds in Salisbury. The famous raid on nearby Haverhill in which 39 people were killed or taken prisoner(among them Hannah Dustin)was in 1696.

Queen Anne's War was fr.1702-13. Indian raids took place all along the seacoast. The Road to the Mill(or the road to Amesbury)apparently bordered on Richard[3]-9 Fitts' ho. farm & it was in frontier country.There were Ind.alarms in 1704 & 1705.On 4 Jly 1706 a raid in nearby Amesbury occurred.Seven were killed & at least 2 others missing. Salis. sent men to help.There were alarms again in 1707.A co.of snowshoe men was raised in Amesbury 1708 for serv.against the Indians.A militia co.fr.Salis.marched 1710 to the relief of Exeter N.H. So whether or not the Fitts'ho.was a"fortified"garrison blockhouse, the fam.was certainly liv.in a town & era when Ind.alarms were frequent.The tradition could have a basis in fact.There had been less trouble with Ind.back in the days when Robert[l] & Grace(Lord)Fitts had liv.in Salisbury.But at that time the French & Ind.Wars were not in progress.

The reader will have noted that Richard[3]-9 Fitts was consistently called a weaver in documents.Many women had looms & did fam.weaving.However,a gr.deal of the weaving in colonial days was done by men who specialized in the craft and certainly Richard[3]-9 Fitts was such a craftsman.

We have pondered a poss.fam.connection that might explain the naming of a dau.Ward. Rev.John[2]Ward of Haverhill & Ips.bought & sold ld fr.& to Simon Thompson 1640/1648. (Hammatt). The prop.bought fr.Thompson was bd'd NW by John Browne & Simon Thompson & S"by the highway leading into Heartbreak hill."Rev.Ward preached Haverhill 48yrs & d.27 Dec.1693 ae.88y. There were other Wards also in Ips.but at this time we wonder if perhaps(?)the dau.was named in honor of Rev.John[2]Ward lgtime pastor in Haverhill.

ISAAC[3]-10 FITTS (Abraham[2];Robert[1]-1) b.Ips.MA 3 Jly 1675 (Hoyt;Ips.V.R.)

Some of desc.of Isaac[3]Fitts began to spell their name Fitz.We will try our best to use the spelling apparently preferred by the individual but as there are many variations it will be difficult to be certain we are correct.

JHF: Isaac[3]"lived in Salem and Ipswich..A deed of uplands and marsh in Newbury was given by 'Isaac Fitts of Ipswich,Glover',May 9,1746."

Ips.Antiq'n Papers place his Ips.ho.:"From Stone Bridge to Foot Bridge River Side 1719 - 28...The house next south of Mr.Samuel N.Baker's store,known as the old Souther House owned by M[r]Theodore F.Cogswell,was built by Isaac Fitts.The land was granted said Fitts,May 5,1726.. In 1730 we find Isaac Knowlton in possession of a house built by his father,John Knowlton deceased, on the site of Mr.Josiah Lord's present residence, next south of the Fitts House...May 9,1728'Joseph Manning..prays that he may(have)a Grant .. to extend up the River from the corner of M[r]Isaac Fitts dwelling to the Corner of Abbe the Smith's shop'.The house built by Manning was owned by the Cogswells..now owned by Josiah Stackpole."

Note under John[4]-21 Isaac's sale(1737)of ld in Ips.(Is this Isaac[3] or Isaac[4]?)

Note discussion of Davis fam.& poss.(?)that Isaac[3]-10 was named for Isaac Davis??

There was a Wm Hacker in Lynn MA 1643.Pope sug.George Hacker might(?)perh.be his son.Pope also ment.that name Hacker appeared early in Southampton L.Is.& that the latter town was settled chiefly fr.Lynn.Note Meacham connections with Long Isl. MEACHAM FAMILY: Jeremiah[1]Meacham was fr.Somersetshire a clothier weaver & fuller. As a skilled weaver he would not have readily obtained a lic.to emigrate.One secondary source sug.that he came ae.17 in Gov.Winthrop's fleet under the name of "Weaver" with two companions of the Hawkins fam.[No orig.source seen.]

Jeremiah[1]Meacham sold his ho.& lot in Salem 1650 to James Hampton & mov.with his fam.to Southold L.Is. He was later(1653) at Easthampton L.Is."to do the town's weaving". He liv.there 13 yrs.then ret.to Salem where he appears again in var.rec. In 1685(Hist.Salem,v.3,p.323)he built a fulling mill"on the westerly side of Summit Street on the brook near the location of the railroad".In his Will(1695)Jeremiah[1]Meacham left the fulling mill to his son Jeremiah[2] & also ment.his other ch.incl.dau.Bethiah2Hacker.Jeremiah[1]Meacham d. autumn 1695 ae.81 Salem MA.

The Colony of N.H.(Cap^{t}John Mason, Proprietor) had very separate beginnings in 1623 as a commercial venture with towns estab.at Portsmouth(Strawbery Banke)& at Dover.Mason d.Dec.1635 leav.a dau.& infant grsons who could do little about their inheritance.A third town(Exeter)was fd'd spring 1638 by relig.dissenters under Rev. John Wheelwright who had been driven out of MA in much the same way that Roger Williams had been banished & had gone to R.Is. Wheelwright instead came north to N.H. The three first towns in N.H.were lgly self-governing.However in fall of 1638 Mass.Bay began to gr.lds north of their bds.& gr'd Hampton to an orthodox congregation under Rev.Stephen Bachelder.Hampton considered themselves part of MA. By 1643-4 the other three N.H.towns had voted to ask to be governed by MA too & became part of Norfolk Co.MA. It was not til Engl.Civil War was over & a monarchy restored that the Mason heirs were able to pet'n to get their lds back- & in 1679 N.H.again became a sep.colony(this time as a Royal Colony).Mason's gr.had been to all lds bet.Merrimac & Piscataqua Rivers & disputes cont'd bet.N.H.& MA over the actual bds. Finally in 1741 a line was run that remains much the same today.

"Richard Fitts entered into covenant with the Congregational West Church at Salisbury Mass.Dec.24,1727.Sarah Fitts his wife united with the same church May 5,1728."(JHF)

Mrs.Sadie Embree (South Hampton historian)believes that Richard[4]-17 Fitts first built on Aspen Hill, and that several of his children(Jonathan,Lydia,Abigail,Mary,Ephraim,Martha, & Isaac)also built homes there. There are apparently very old cellar holes on Aspen Hill.

Later,after a fire,Richard[4]-17 mov.down to the cor.of Clement Lane.Local tradition is that the ell of the old ho.now standing there was once a smaller old home & was moved down fr.Aspen Hill & attached to the present lg old ho. One local historian calls that ho. "the Old Fitts place near Burnt Swamp."

Local rec.seems to imply that Richard himself may have seen some serv.in Rev'n."Isaac Fitts,Boscawen, son of Richard Fitts, So.Hampton enlisted July 2,1776.Revolutionary Soldier.""Richard Fitts,Dec.16,1776." This is in a listing of serv.men. Richard6 of Sandown is also listed separately,so the above ref.is presum.not to him.

Daniel[4]-18 Fitts m.11 Nov.1735(Salis.V.R.)Second Ch.Salis. RUTH[5]BROWN.(Hoyt;JHF say 11 Nov.1734.)" The writer has visited the old East Salisbury cem.where Daniel[4] & Ruth are bur. Her stone reads:d."June 3rd 1788 in the 73 year of her age." Salis.V.R.have:"Ruth,w.Daniel d. June 5 1788(June 3,in her 73[d]y.G.R.1;a.76y.P.R.3)".

MA(m.11 Nov.1735 Daniel[4]Fitts)as dau.of George3 & Elizabeth[3] (Eastman)(John[2];Roger[1])Brown. Note that on p.158 under Fitts fam.Hoyt says m.11 Nov. 1734 but in Brown fam.info.uses 11 Nov.1735(p.643).George Brown b.1 Jly 1680 son of Philip & Mary(Buswell)Brown.Elizabeth[3]Eastman b.26 Sep.1685 dau.of John[2] & Mary(Boynton)Eastman.Note that Sarah[5] & Ruth[5]Brown who m.the Fitts bros. were third cousins in the Brown fam.relationship & were also both desc.of Roger[1]Eastman being second cousins on the Eastman line.

Note also that this writer has preferred to incl.the immigrant Christian[1]Brown as 1st generation in numbering Sarah[5]Brown's lineage & would also prefer to make a change fr. the numbering used in Hoyt as quoted here for Ruth[4](or Ruth[5]).While Christian1 Brown did not live long in Amer. she & her husband were the heads of fam.when the intended migration was planned.The three sons who came to this country were very yg men at the time.Christian's husb.George d.bef.the fam.actually sailed for Amer. However in our awakened consciousness of the importance of womankind there is no reason to erase Christian[1]from our lineage.She must have been an unusual person to have carried on the fam.trek. Surely she deserves to be called our immigrant ancestress.

DANIEL [5]FITTS of Ipswich MA & Ashford CT. Family No. 24.

DANIEL[5]-24 FITTS (Abraham[4]-11;Abraham[3]-7 Jr.;Abraham[2]-4;Robert[1]-1) bp.2 May 1725.

Daniel[5]-24 Fitts m.(int.15 Dec.1750)both of Ips.CHRISTIANNA SMITH. They were m. 17 Jan.1750/1(C.R.2 Ips.V.R.).He joined First Ch.in Ips.the following yr.(JHF)

Christianna b.16 Mar.1731(grave,Snow Cem.,Ashfd CT). Stone monument newer & does not rec.her d. Fam.mem.have tried to find her bur.pl.but have failed to do so. Corresp. says Christian was dau.of Stephen & Lydia(Cummings)Smith of Ipswich MA.

Daniel[5]-24 & his fam.liv.in Ips.for some yrs.as will be seen by the 1753-65 Ips.V.R. for the b.dates of most of their ch. Sometime bet.1765 & 1770 they mov.to CT. They lived first in Pomfret but on 6 Nov.1770 Daniel[5] bought 360A of ld in Ashford CT fr Stephen & Amasa Keyes of Pomfret known as the"Knowlton Farm", located on rd leading fr Ashford town to Warrenville at the point where the rd to Westford branches off. 330A of this farm was sold 4 Ag 1774 to Dodge. The Daniel Fitts' farm in Ashford was c.1½ mi. NW of the old meet.ho. Other real est.transfers date from 1770-74.

Daniel[5] serv.10 days in Ashford Co.of Cap[t]Thos.Knowlton when they marched as minutemen on Lexington Alarm. He re-enl.6 May 1775 serv.4m1d again in Cap[t]Thos.Knowlton's(5th)Co.,3d CT Regt.under Col.Israel Putnam when they marched to relief of Boston. It was Cap[t]Thos.Knowlton's Co.of CT men reinforced by Stark's & Reed's N.H.Vols.which held the famous rail fence at the Battle of Bunker(Breed's)Hill in Je. Prob.Daniel[5]Fitts who was in Knowlton's Co.was in the very thick of the fighting.

Daniel[5]Fitts d.while in serv.7 Sep.1775. He was among the troops in the siege lines & fortifications around Boston,Cambridge & Roxbury,& was presum.bur.there. His official serv.rec.sent appears under Pvt.Danel.Fitt,and shows £8.1.4 wages with serv.4m1d. He was 50 yrs.old at the time of his d. His name as well as his wife's appears on the newer monument stone in Snow Cem.:"Died in service.Buried in camp near Boston."

JHF:"Tradition says he suddenly dropped dead in his field in the time of the Revolution." Of course,that tradition is incorrect as to place but could it be correct as to the manner of his d.? One fam.corresp.says he d.of wounds & was bur.in Brookline MA. No source given.The official military rec.says nothing of wounds but says he"died Sept.7". Perh.the info.that he was in serv.or"in the field"at the time of his d.became changed to "in his field".

Daniel[6] & wid.Christian adm. est. Invent.dated 8 Nov.1775. Among assets a note of hand vs.Ebenezer Cressey lodged in Esq.Craft's hands,prin.and interest £86.1.8½.

Early Ct.Mar.by F.W.Bailey,1st Bk.,p.30:Ebenezer Mason m.Christian Fitts 5 Mar.1778. (Also Ashford CT.V.R.). Note that 23 Mar.1781 Abraham[6]Fitts was given gdnship of his bros.James[6] & David[6]. This was by their choice which may simply be indication that the boys had reach.the age when they were allowed a say in choice of gdn. Or could it poss. have been a change that would indicate the time of Christian's d.?

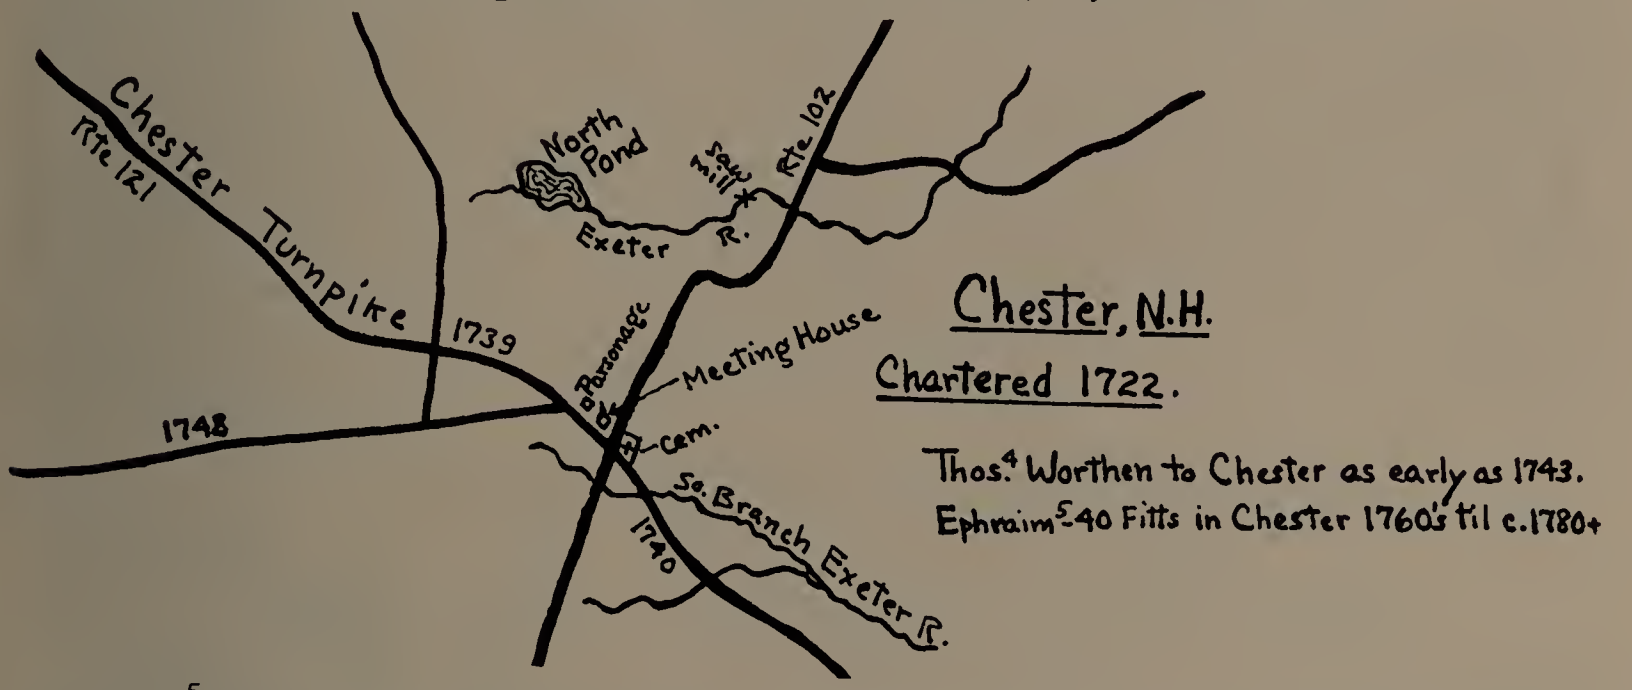
EPHRAIM[5] FITTS of Chester & South Hampton N.H. Family No. 40.

EPHRAIM[5]-40 FITTS (Richard[4]-17;Richard[3]-9;Abraham[2]-4;Robert[1]-1) b.So.Hampton N.H. 10 May 1745 (N.H.V.R.;SoH.V.R.); Ephriam bp.2 Je 1745 (SoHChRec.in Reg.v.53,p.166).

Ephraim[5] was apprenticed to his cousin Abraham[5]-42 Fitts during the time that Abraham[5] was working in Chester N.H.as a blacksmith prob.c.1760-5. When Abraham[5] mov.to Candia N.H.Ephraim[5],having learned the skills of a smith,stayed on in Chester.



Ephraim[5]'s ho.was"at the head of Chester Street nearly opposite the Turnpike,southeast of the parsonage road.Isaac Blasdell Jr.and Josiah Underhill were his apprentices."(Hist.of Old Ches.1869,p.521). More than one Isaac Blaisdell in Hist.Chest.but the yg boy who was an apprentice to blacksmith Ephraim[5]Fitts might well have been Isaac b.2 Je 1760(son of Isaac Sr.,the latter a well-known silversmith & clockmaker).

There are 2 hist.of Chester N.H. Second one pub.1926(Hist.of Chest.)lists"Corp.Ephraim Fitts"on its lists of mil.serv.1777. He serv.in Rev.as Cp[l](Cap[t]Jos.Dearborn's Co.,Col°Moses Nichols'Regt.)marching to R.Is. Ent.serv.5 Aug.1777 & was disch.28 Aug. (plus 2 dys travel ho.)(Rock.Co.Hist.p.263;Hist.Chest.p.117).

The Brit.troops under Clinton had occupied Newport since Dec.1776. Gen.John Sullivan with c.1,000 Continental troops had been at Providence since Mar.1777. Washington, having arranged for d'Estaing's French fleet to sail fr N.Y.to R.Is., ord.Sullivan to urge the New Engl.states to raise Militia to support a coop.effort to drive the Brit. fr Newport. Six thousand New Engl. Militia men ans.that call, among them Ephraim[5]Fitts. And they walked south trudging for at least a part of the way on nearly the same route that Abraham[2]-4 Fitts had taken with the volunteers headed for the Great Swamp Fight more than one hundred years earlier in Dec.of 1675.

The French were to attack the western defenses on the island,and Sullivan was to come fr the east.Seeing that the Brit.had abandoned their outposts on the northern end of the island,Sullivan crossed over fr Tiverton by ferry one day earlier than had been agreed on, in order to get to the works at the north bef.the Brit.decided to reoccupy them.Unfortunately,this practical decision offended d'Estaing & coop.efforts bet.French & Americans broke down.Washington had sent more troops under Lafayette,& under Greene,Varnum & Glover.The Militia arr.also to reinf.Sullivan's Cont'l line troops & on 15 Aug.they moved towards the enemy.

In the meantime, Admiral Lord Howe had arr.fr N.Y.with a lg Engl.fleet,engaging d'Estaing in a naval battle.This of course meant that Sullivan with c.10,000 men was left to carry on the land attack on Newport.A storm came up,scattering both the French & Brit. fleets & doing them great damage.There were single ship-to-ship conflicts but the lg naval battle that had been shaping up never materialized. D'Estaing sailed off to Boston on 21 Aug.taking his 4,000 troops with him.

Sullivan's men had been laboring on offensive & defensive works & cannonading had been heavy during those 6 dys. Discouraged by the departure of the French many Militia deserted & headed for ho. Sullivan's forces which had been well discipl.& fought well under fire were so weakened in nos.by these desertions that they could only give up the assault on Newport. Gen.John Glover's Gloucester men were of gr assistance in getting the army back to the mainld at the Tiverton ferry. Sullivan dism.the remaining Militia & retired to Prov.for the winter.Reports give 30 Amer.killed,137 wounded & 44 missing. Brit. casualties were 38/210/12.(War of the Rev.C.Ward.1952,v.2,p.588-592).

We can not know just what Ephraim[5]Fitts did in that battle,nor has the writer seen the co.rosters,but the allowance for"2 days travel"quoted above would seem to indicate that Ephraim[5] was among those who stayed on until their official dismissal by Sullivan which would have been on 28 Aug.1777. For the non-historian it might be remarked that the individual Militia men often came & went in their several terms of serv. Records of the day were very incomplete,men sometimes turning up to fight who were never officially enlisted on anyone's rolls,and others heading for ho.unofficially.This was one of Washington's major problems with Militia recruitments.Yet -when needed -these men came.It was certainly evident with the French departure that the attack on Newport was doomed to failure,the storm at sea having actually been the deciding factor.

We journeyed to R.Is.in Fb 1985 & wandered around the area of the Great Swamp Fight (1675)& also the various points of ld near Newport.Great bridges connect the isl.with the mainld now but underneath the steel girders & asphalt one can see bits of the turf & rocky shore where colonial troops including a stocky blacksmith from Chester N.H. were under cannon fire in 1777. The lay of the ld is still there with ghosts from around the long-gone fire pits. One wonders whether Richard[4]Fitts had told his son Ephraim[5] any tales of the Ind.Wars as he must have heard them fr his fa. Or if Ephraim[5] talked with his sons about the Rev. and early days of the Republic.It was not really so very long ago.

After the War Ephraim[5] mov.fr Chester back to South Hampton N.H. Note that a son b.1784 was rec.in So.Hamp.

1901 letter of Anna R.(Webster)Eaton(b.1823)dau.of Betsey(Sawyer)Webster tells of her mo.Betsey ae.6 watching her mo.Ann[5] adjusting"the crape on her father's[Moses[5]']arm in token of grief for George Washington's death.This badge he wore for thirty days.. As my Mother was the youngest of Deacon Moses Sawyer's children she was privileged to ride to church behind her father and mother on a pillion.Later on the little girl..walked barefoot all the way to the long hill that led up to the [Church & at the foot of the hill put on]her unsoiled foot-gear..In that church on the hill-top my Grandfather for many years 'lined the hymns'on communion Sabbaths.. My Mother recalled a large party of young people who came up one winter's evening to my Grandfather's red house.The snow was so deep oxen not horses drew the load.Daniel Webster had invited the company and with the energy with which he afterward defended the Constitution he managed the oxen.. My[grmo.cooked gr quantity of flapjacks over the open fire in shallow pan with handle 3'-4' lg tossing the cakes with great skill].."Each cake was of the thickness and circumference of a dining plate.Butter and sugar were spread upon each when hot.. by a gentle rotary motion and a sudden fling she turned each one..caught it flat in the pan.Daniel Webster who always came into the kitchen when he pleased looked on..At length he said'Let me do that,Mrs.Sawyer.I know I can.'He took hold of the long handle..his jerk was too quick his aim too high. The flapjack hung pendent on the crane."

History rightly honors the memory of Daniel Webster but it seems important sometimes to ment.those thousands of us whose contributions are of a humbler nature. I'm so glad Ann5Sawyer could make good flapjacks! And that New Engl.villages were full of 18th cent.ancestors who could drive oxen- and clear land- and make shoes- and hunt rabbits- plant apple orchards - shoe horses - forge chains - weave cloth and raise sheep.

Moses[5]Sawyer's old ho.still standing today is on South Rd.2mi.W of the So.Rd.Village.

1810 Census Index (Hanover,N.H. 308): Richard Fitts. 1-0-0-1-0;2-1-0-1-0.

"He first lived in Dorchester,N.H., where he was one of the early settlers,about 1791, afterward in Enfield,1804,then moved to East Hanover on the celebrated'cold Friday',Jan. 19,1810,driving his ox-team ten or twelve miles in a farmer's frock with no overcoat. He d.Oct.6,1835."(JHF) [Richard[6] grew to manhood in So.Hampton,N.H.]

That succinct summary of Richard[6]'s life was prob.what started me on my Fitts' fam. researches. Jan.19,1810 beg.as a mild day,then the temp.dropped to 13°below zero in less than 16 hrs.accompanied by extremely high winds.Reading of that"cold Friday"as a child, I became greatly interested in the good farmer Richard Fitts.Later trips to Enfield & the Tunis neighborhood of Hanover have made the lives of these people very real to me. We have even wandered up Moose Mt.on the same old Wolfeboro Rd.where he drove his oxen in 1810. I recall that as a child I thought Richard had perished on the"cold Friday".It was not until more mature yrs.that I noticed the time lapse bet.1810 & 1835 & realized that he had farmed his rocky hillside land in E.Hanover for another 25 yrs.!

The farm where Richard[7]-200 Fitts liv.aft.he too mov.over the mt. in 1870 stood just E of the Convers[7]/Henry T.[8]Fitts' farm & is still standing.

We have not done enough deed work to be certain which of the bros.(Convers[7] or Richard[7])first mov."over the mt."to Hanover Center. It may even be that Henry T.[8]-376 Fitts liv.on the Center Farm bef.his fa.mov.to be with him.

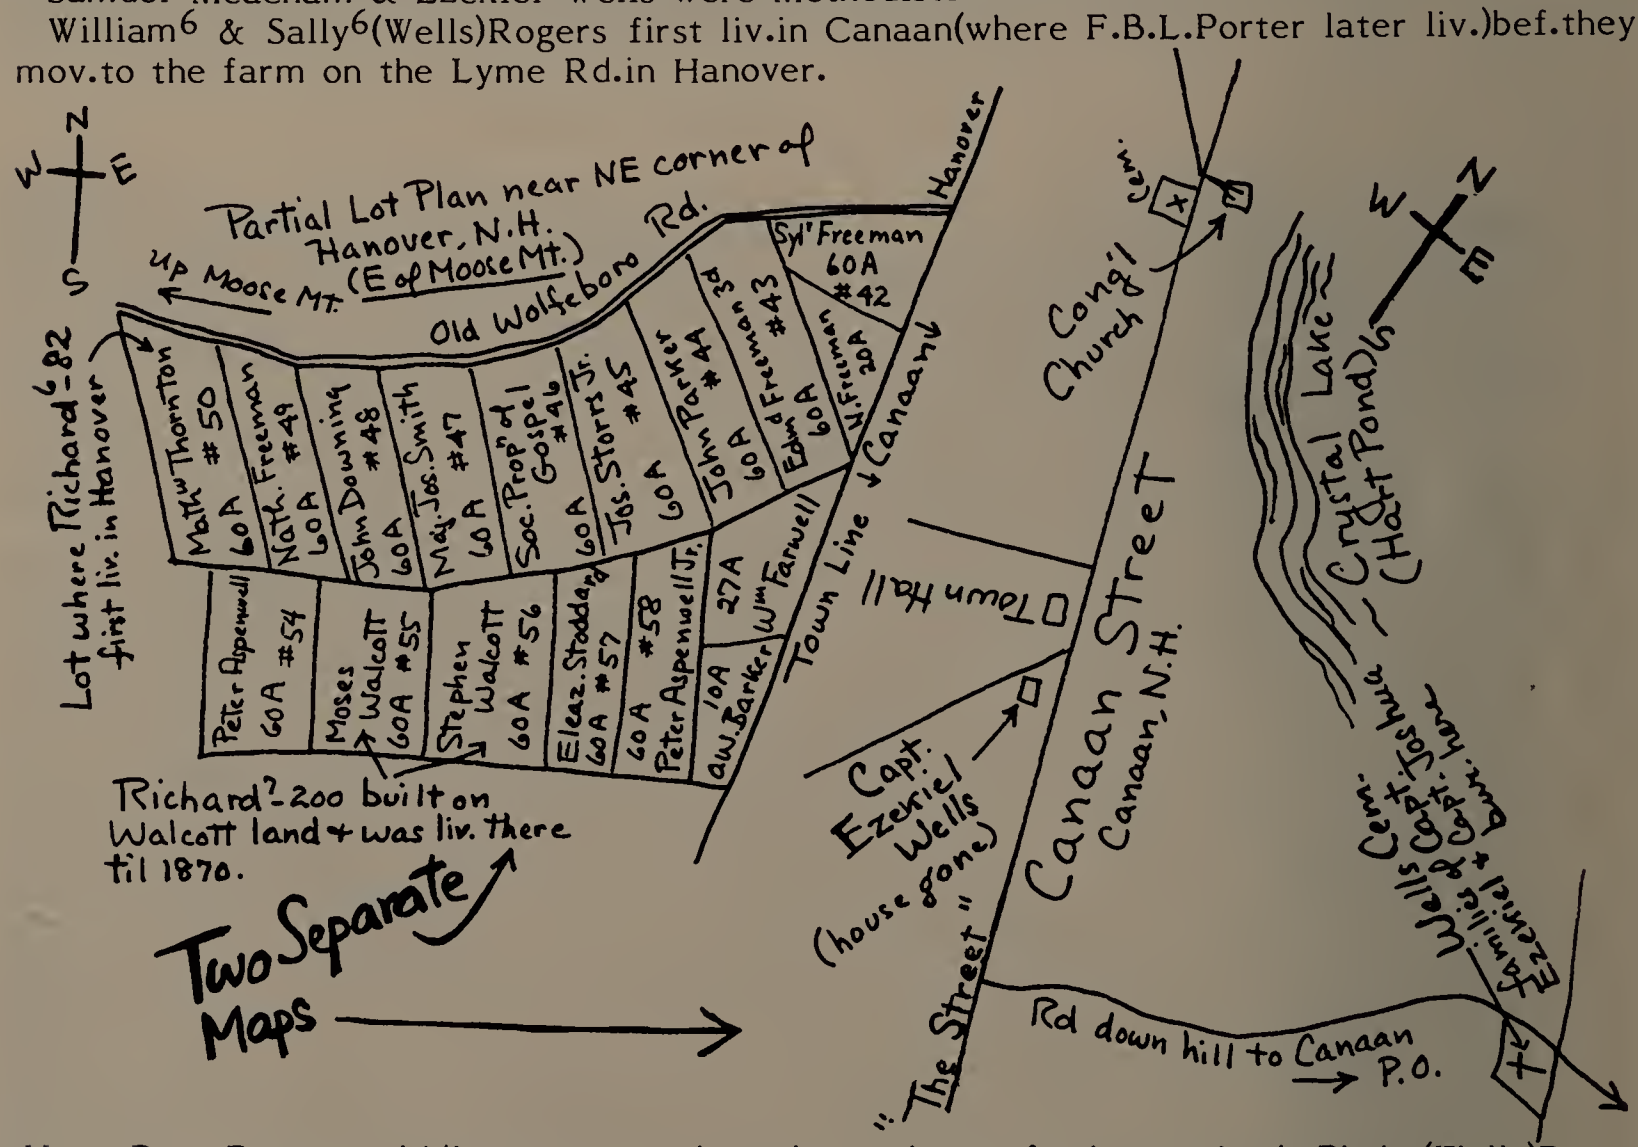
William[6] & Sally6Rogers first liv.in Canaan(where F.B.L.Porter later liv.)bef.they mov.to the farm on the Lyme Rd.in Hanover.



Mary Dow Rogers'middle name may have been chosen for her mo's sis.Phebe(Wells)Dow who had m.Jacob Dow. Or perhaps?? for the well-known Meth.preacher Lorenzo Dow who preached in Hanover & nearby towns in early 1800's. Lorenzo Dow had come to Hanover to"visit his uncle and cousins"so was perhaps related to Jacob Dow.

Ibid.p.133:Geo.W.Fitts also mort.same ld to Elizabeth Fitts of Kensington for $275. 2 Jan.1865.. reads as rd fr."Kensington"..

He rep'd So.Hampton in Leg.1845 & was a Selectman 1838,'42-'43,1846,1863.(JHF)

He was"the son of a distinguished machinist, blacksmith and silver plater, Ephraim Fitts Jr.of So.Hamp. At the age of 15 his fa.mov.to Nashua where he assumed the position of overseer of the machine shop of the Jackson Corp. During his three yrs.res.at that place [Geo.W.]Fitts was employed as an apprentice."(news art.1902)

The fam. ret'd to the homestead in So.Hampton & a bldg. was built equipped w/steam power"for the manufacture of carriages,shoe machinery & farming implements of his own invention.His first invention of importance was a power corn sheller for which he was awarded a silver medal at the Amer.Inst.of Fairs at N.Y. The invention attracted the attention of Gideon Freeborn[mfr & dealer in agri'l implements]who induced Mr.Fitts to locate in New York State for the manuf.of these machines."(news art.1902)

He was obliged to return to So.Hamp.aft.only a few mos.because of fa's failing health. However he"invented another corn sheller for the New England trade and in later years hundreds of them were in use ..it being considered at the time the most perfect sheller upon the market.

"Among other inventions of his early days was a safety devide for elevators, a school desk & a machine for the shoe trade.

"In 1850 he accepted the contract for the labor of 20 convicts at the N.H.State Prison at the time mov.his bus.to Concord... He there engaged.. in the manuf.of scales, picks & other articles for the Calif.trade.

"Five yrs.later he took possession of the lg shop erected in Providence R.I.for the prison of that state having the labor of 30 convicts. Mov.his bus.to Prov.he gave up the manuf. of scales taking up the bldg of shoe machinery & carriage springs & axles, bolts,etc. which required the introducing of new machinery of his own invention. .. two yrs.at Prov. when with many others he was caught in the panic of 1859 and through heavy losses was obliged to suspend bus. Returning again to the fam.ho. he at once engaged in bus.preferring as he says to wear out rather than rust out.

"Until a few days since Mr.Fitts could be seen at work at the old shop near his ho. perfecting devices of various kinds among them ..a revolving fan for an invalid's rocking chair.. Other inventions of his are broom and whip sockets, noxograph for assisting the blind in writing, an automatic inhaler for throat or lung troubles, tool grinder, lamp chimney cleaner, nut lock to prevent nuts fr.loosening & boot laster..He is vice pres.of the Old Home Week assn.[of So.Hamp.]..has been Town treas. For over 40 yrs.he has been a deacon of the Baptist church.

"In relating incidents of his early life produced a passport which was given to Thomas W. Fitts[see p.136]..who was on a visit to his sis.in Dorchester with a view of buying a farm which he did soon after. To save expense he desired to travel homeward on foot, his res.

being at So.Hamp. Traveling on the Sabbath in those days was forbidden without a passport & this he obtained..:'Graften ss.This may certify all persons to whom this shall com. Greeting - that I give it as my opinion that thomas W.fitts & Henry Grelle travel on the first day of November next which is called the Lords if they Behave themselves accordingly. New Chester october 31st 1801. Peter Sleeper Just.Peace.'"

Above info.is fr.news art.in Boston pap.1902 on occasion of 90th bday of Geo.W.[7]Fitts. A more recent news art.(1936)which quotes fr.above makes the error of assuming that the last ref.was to Dorch.MA. Note however that Thomas Worthen Fitts was trav.to Dorch. N.H. & his"passport"was obtained in Grafton Co.N.H. That 1936 writer commented on the great distance of"50 miles"walked. One wonders what he/she would have thought of the distance involved getting to Dorchester N.H. This writer is not sure why they assumed he walked, but he may well have as long journeys were often undertaken afoot in early days.

Exeter News-Letter 8 Je 1894 had art.re.50th anniv.of Geo.W.& Ruth Fitts. The couple were presented w/50 gold dollars. At the time Geo.W.[7]told some accounts of the early settl.of So.Hamp.then a pt of Amesbury.. the erection of the old Meet.Ho.at'The Rock'.. He told of his grfa.Ephraim[5]-40 building the old homestead in 1787. Ephraim[5] a blacksmith making the nails, door fixtures and cranes himself on his own anvil.

Geo.W.[7]invented a stand that tilted to hold bks. etc.& gave it to the Exeter Cottage Hosp. The inhaler he invented was widely used in hospitals. It was a complex assembly of tubes & valves attached to a flask. Geo.W.[7]thought up the word"Noxograph"(night writer)to call his invention of the device with wires within a small frame to guide a pencil so a blind person could write. He was an early advocate of women's suffrage.

Biog.sketch by Julia Fitz Howell(Bull.228.Contrib.fr.Mus.of Hist.& Tech.p.164-70)tells of the move of the fam.(1819)fr.Nwbypt MA to N.Y. Henry[6]-102 Fitz Sr. had been a hatter. Depressed conditions aft.War of 1812 meant little market for fine beaver hats. In 1819 Henry[6]Sr.mov.the fam.to Albany N.Y.& later to N.Y.C. There he estab.a religious weekly "The Gospel Herald".This career change meant that yg Henry[7]-249 Jr. learned the printing trade. From that he mov.to locksmithing in the shop of Wm Day.

1830-9 he travelled as a locksmith working in N.Y.,Phila.,Baltimore & New Orleans. He neither drank nor smoked, walked whenever he could & saved towards his own locksmith shop. He studied & read & developed a great interest in astronomy. His first telescope was made in 1838 - a reflector.

He also became interested in photography & Aug.1839 sailed(steerage)for Eur. to study developments there. Back in N.Y.in Nov.1839 he made a portrait (w/camera invented by Wolcott)-perhaps the first such made! In 1840 his fa.Henry[6]-102 was liv.in Baltimore & yg Henry[7] set up a studio there & spent several yrs. "taking likenesses". His first refractors were built there.

Aft.his mar.he mov.(1845)to N.Y.& that summer he made a 6"refracting telescope which he exhibited at the Amer.Inst.Fair winning a gold medal -the first of many awards. L.M. Rutherfurd of N.Y.ordered a 4"refractor for his own observatory & Henry[7]spent the rest of his life blding telescopes.He also invented a camera lens & was a founding mem.of the Am.Photographical Soc. He was a craftsman in his work w/optical glass & always continued to work on & improve his lenses. His telescopes were internationally recognized for their quality.

Henry[7]Fitz'shop complete w/tools was given by his grdau.Julia to the U.S.Nat'l Mus. of the Smithsonian & is in the Mus.of Hist.& Tech. The art.in Bull.228 has several photos of his telescopes as well as one of his shop & a portrait.

See also"Look"Dec.26'66 for early 1839 self-portrait & also other Biogs.in D.A.B. etc.

Photog.in Amer.by W.Welling Crowell 1978(p.13)also has reprod'n of the 1839 self-port.

At the height of his career he planned to build a 24"telescope. He was ready to sail to Eur.to select glass suitable for the undertaking when he was killed 31 Oct.1863 (J.F. Howell's art.in Bull.228)[D.A.B.uses 6 Nov.1863]. A heavy chandelier in their newly purch. home fell on him causing injuries from which he d.in a few days.

When enough customers that they needed more lines they had switchbd at Nellie Camp's(Millard Camp's wid.)ho.at cor.of Dogford Rd.near the cem.& she ran the switchbd. Grandpa Fitts put up a private line down the old trace of the Wolfeboro Rd.fr. Sunny Vale Farm to Manassa Foss'place so the sis.Harriet(Fellows)Perley & Minnie(Fellows) Foss could visit. Perley[9]Fitts recalls that as a boy he had some fun tapping into that private line & listening in on his grmo. Perley's talks w/her sis. Minnie.

I.P.[8]Fitts'yrs.of diaries tell most often of daily ordered labors on the farm. There were also though a surprizing no.of fam.& neighborhd gatherings..Mon.Dec.25 1882"I drew wood in forenoon. Mr.Perley went up after Ira Fellows & Aunt Urvilla, Burton, Alma & Nancy Spaulding came here to spend Christmas".[And we know that on a N.E.farm in those days Christmas was a very simple holiday.]

But the wisdom of my parents.. And their good common sense.
My father was a captain, young,.. Upright, efficient, brave.
He reasoned that a country free.. Should never hold a slave.
As honesty, integrity.. Were traits each child should learn
He taught us by good example.. The youngest could discern.
He was no farmer, yet he kept.. And loved his fertile farm.
He earned our bread by salesmanship,Who could resist his charm?
How shall I speak of my mother? Charming, generous, kind,
A more considerate person.. You seek and never find ..."

There were apple trees scattered over the field and tall elms along Emerson Rd.on the eastern fringe. Sunsets were hidden from us by the near woods on the other side of the old RR bed which became Edgewood Rd., but sunrises and cold full moons shining across that snow-covered field behind the elms are eternal memories. Woodchucks were fellow residents - and crows ate from the wooden hoppers alongside the growing flocks. Dolly & I (& later Dick) had the carefully timed task at dusk of scurrying all over the range (rain,shine or thunder storm)shutting the shelter doors against the neighborhood foxes."Pop"had many thousands of birds on the farm during the summers but only kept a breeding flock of c.3-4,000 in the long wings of the plant thru the winter. The farm cats were a real part of the operation. In particular we recall a lean & rather ugly white cat w/meagre grey spots called "Mummy" who must have raised 100 kittens in her day, protection against rats in the feed. Pop was a very strong man & could carry 100 lb.bags of feed with ease.

Before"the"Depression Pop had his own private depression when a poultry disease wiped out his flock. Then of course we scrimped along thru the big one too. Feed (shipped from the West)always had to be paid for.In lean yrs.& good there was the garden & the shelves of canned goods my mother put up.

This book is dedicated to Perley I.[9]Fitts & readers must forgive and indulge my fond memories of a wonderful man.

He ran Fitts' Poultry Farm from 1923-1949 & it included a local egg & dressed poultry route (on which we children went, too, jumping out of the truck at each stop). Earliest memories are of the little grey truck fashioned from a Model A Ford with a wooden body put in where the rumble seat had been. Then a red Ford truck. (I was so proud of being able to manage the hand trottle & choke better than my big sister!) Dolly & I learned to drive bouncing about the field in that earlier Model A. No traffic problems at all!

Gov.Charles Dale app'd Pop as NH State Commissioner of Agriculture Nov.1947 & he served under several governors til Nov.1962. He was Pres. Nat'l Assn.of Commissioners, Secs.& Dirs.of Agriculture 1957 & hosted the National Convention in New Castle NH.

Pop owned a sequence of boats on which the family became familiar with the mudflats & tidal vagaries of Oyster River & Great Bay. There was in particular the Sabrina,a 23'-25' motor boat w/gaunt windowed cabin & inboard Chevie engine, & a 16'sloop Serendipity. He was a memb.of the Shankhassick Yacht Club in those days - a NH farm boy introduced to the wonders of the Atlantic by Margie and her two older brothers who had ranged about the ocean at York ME all thru the summers of their youth.

Another sidelight of the past is that my husband had his first"paying"job as a boy riding along with Pop on the egg route. Biog'l sketch of PIF appears in NH Notables('55 ed.).

They deeded the Durham farm to we three"children"who are still operating the Christmas Tree operation there that Pop began some yrs.ago.

As I type by my old south window Pop, living now at about the half-mark of his 91st yr is yet teaching me great things. Years ago I watched him carefully cleaning, weighing, packing - egg by egg -"market eggs"&"hatching eggs"; skillfully dressing poultry; handling ever -so-gently with his great strong hands the tiny yellow fluff-balls of baby chicks; working with precision at the carpentry tasks of building the house at 48 Edgewood;planting green beans - & corn; repairing and making run so many things in our world. Today he is teaching me about the loving dignity of old age. God bless his many fruitful years - and his yet handsome soft white wavy hair. He taught us all the precious values of hard work, honesty and adaptability to change. At age 90½ he's still ready to take a look at what's around the next corner.

She m.Derry NH 24 Jly 1922 by Rev.Irvin J.Euslin ERNEST FITTS ae.28 mill hand of Londonderry where they lived the rest of their lives. Ernest d.13 Apr.1963 "ae.69". Ernest came fr a"Mission Home"in the Boston area to Hanover NH as a small child, perhaps c.2-3yrs.old. He was brought up as a foster child in the family of Irving P.[8]-378 & Eva Eliza (Perley)Fitts and used their last name. His own mo's name was Mary M_____.

At this date all we can find about his background is a note in I.P.Fitts' writing saying "Ernest came here May 1896". He stated his age as 28 in 1922 & 69 in 1963 putting his b. as c.1894. This would presumably be correct & be info.furnished to IPF when he came to live at Sunnyvale Farm with the Fitts family. Of course by his mar.to Evelyn Ellis his son became just as much a Fitts descendant as anyone on a male line would have been.

The Particular Baptist faith began in England. An ass'n of Bapt.churches was formed in 1765 in VA but we are told that it was the Phila.Assn.of Bapt.churches in NJ & eastern PA that founded the church in Fayette Co.PA & later the one in Muskingum Co.OH.

Henry Fitz was among founders of Bapt.Ch.at Big Redstone 1791 & among the memb. received up to 1803 were Jane,Margaret,and Mary Fitz. The Redstone Assn.was the first west of the Alleghenies. A log church bldg.was built 1800 which was replaced in 1845.

In 1805 Henry Fitz was an Overseer of the Poor.

Fischer's"Cemeteries,Fayette Co.PA"..: Smock Old Baptist Cem.: 39.Fitz,Henry d.6-16-1837 ag.78y. 40.Fitz,Jane w/o Henry d.11-25-1837 ag.80y.

Note that date of Jane's Will disagrees with this cem.reading as sent.

We have ment.that Henry was not on Tax Rolls of Fayette Co.PA 1785. Note that dau. Mary[2]'s b.pl.(1860 Census)given as NJ. Family sources say that John[2] was b."Burlington, Western New Jersey".

VA had claims to the SW cor.of PA including what became Fayette Co. so we probably should ment.the poss.of Henry Fitz of Fayette Co.having ties w/the VA Fitts' families. However, the earliest settlers in Fayette & adjacent counties were fr.eastern PA & NJ.

In the 1880 Census James Madison[3]Fitz stated that his fa.was b.PA(i.e.John[2]b.1787)but Floyd Hunter & Leroy Mark confirm that John[2]was b.Burlington,Western NJ.

We should also share the theory that Henry[1] could be descended fr.the New England family. There are certainly many such lines not fully covered. Perhaps a New England Fitz who serv.in the Revolution and decided to stay in NJ/PA?? No firm info.at this date as to his parentage. He does not seem to be related to German families in PA.

Henry[1] Fitz m.JANE _____ and at some time bet.1785 & 1790 arrived in Franklin Twp., Fayette Co.PA to settle on a farm he purchased in 1790[or 1799?]fr.John Hall.

NOTE: See Will of Henry[1]-1 & note that we have failed to iden. his grch. named therein: Henry Ropell,Jane Hadding,Henry Winn & John Winn. Corresp.assures us that the reading of Ropell does not seem to be a misreading for"Rogers". Jane of course could be a mar. grdau. but the boys would have to be ch.of a dau.of Henry[1]. Did a dau.m.twice? Seems more likely that we are missing a dau.who m.(1)_____Ropell,m.(2)_____Winn & had d.bef. Henry[1] wrote his will in 1835. Was an older dau.missing fr 1810 cens.because of mar.? Or do we have 2 missing daus.indicated by two sons named Henry Ropell & Henry Winn?

John^{2}m.Redstone Bapt.Ch.Fayette Co.PA 24 Nov.1807 [Bible photocopy clear] ELIZABETH DUNN. She b.16 Je 1784;d.Muskingum Co.OH 12 Nov.1865 [Bible dates clear].

DUNN FAMILY: One Bible entry(under births,aft.ch.of John^2& Elizabeth(Dunn)Fitz)appears: Rebecca Dunn born April 3 1828. No explanation of her relationship to Elizabeth.

1800 Cens.Franklin PA has an Andrew Dunn w/1f 10-16 & 3f -10. Also in Fayette Co. is Ase Dunn w/3f -10.

Dr.Bunyan Spencer who knew Elizabeth,had info.(sent by corres.)that Elizabeth was d/o Caleb Dunn(s/o James), Caleb Dunn having come fr Sussex Co.NJ to Muskingum Co.OH in 1804. No documentation sent.

Some evidence appears to dispute this.

One Thomas Dunn Sr.,a soldier in Rev'n (an"Irishman")[meaning"Scotch-Irish"?], wheelwright,came to Franklin PA (432A farm) & d.1799 ae.55. He m.Mary Caldwell(1746-1824) & they had 12 ch.incl.7 sons. Most of the sons moved on to OH & were pioneers there. John who stayed on the Thos.Dunn farm in PA m.(1)1815 Mary Smith who d.1835. John had 2 sons/6 daus. Note appearance of Smith as middle name in Fitz fam. If Elizabeth was d/o Thomas Dunn then John Dunn whose first wife was Mary Smith would have been Elizabeth's bro. No proof yet of Elizabeth's par.but tend to feel she was d/o Thomas.

Several corresp.have ment. fam. serv. in Rev'n. Obviously John2 could not have served. Perhaps(?)the fam.tradition referred to serv.of Thomas Dunn. Have not searched for his records.

There was an Andrew Wiley in Franklin PA. Either friendship of a fam.connection seems to be indicated by the naming of a son Wiley[3]Fitz.

We are told the imprint date of Bible quoted is 1833. If that is so the fine listing it supplies would have been entered on its pages aft.1833. This might explain variants. For example we have been told by some desc.that Henry[3]'s bdate was 11 Nov.1808. Most of the dates were however prob.entered by John[2]himself & should stand as being correct.

We do not know the immigrant parents of this family but its collateral relationships point to a German origin. As so many brothers and sisters were in America it is logical to assume that their parents were also, making Frederick[2] and his siblings the second generation of the family in this country.

There was one Johan Peter[1]Fitz who arrived in Phila.11 Aug.1750 on the Ship Patience (Capt.Hugh Steel)[Rupp,p.224]. The Patience had sailed to America from Cowes in England but her German/Swiss passengers had originally emigrated through Rotterdam.

Johan Peter[1]Fitz' own signature (Penna.German Pioneers,v.2,p.487) appears on the passenger list of the Patience. Could he possibly be the immigrant ancestor of this extensive family? No proof as yet. Deed of 1821 clarifies some of the siblings of John[2]Fitz of Windsor Twp.York Co.PA. (See below)

We will list Johan Peter[1]Fitz as the first generation immigrant ancestor but the reader should remember that his connection to the York family is an assumption.

JOHAN PETER [1] FITZ. Family No. 1.

We have been most grateful for all the Census data sent by corresp.but wking with it "second hand"is difficult. And, as all know who have read microfilm of the blurred penmanship on old Census records,it is sometimes impossible to interpret even at first hand. Two readings were sent for 1800:

1800 Cens.PA: Balthasar Fitz 1m(10-16),1m(16-26);1f(10-16),1f(16-25).

1800 Cens.PA:Balizer Fitz 1m(45+),1m(16-26),1m(10-16);1f(45+),1f(16-26),1f(10-16).

1820 Cens.PA Only 2 wid.Fitz' in Hellam Twp. Prob.wid.of Baltzer^{2} & of John$^{2-3}$.

Baltzer^{2}was prob.b.bef.1755 (45+ 1800). The lg fam.of 1783 seems to bear this out.

Note"Felty Fits"in Shrewsbury York Co.PA 1790. Could that be a reading for Baltzer?? Doesn't seem logical. Is extra male in fam.in 1800 a son-in-law? Note that son Jacob^{3}(b. 1780 fide grave reading)does not seem to appear in fam.in 1783. Error here?

SAMUEL R.[5]-27 FITZ(Jacob[4]-12;?Samuel[3]-6;Frederick[2]-2;?Johan Peter[1]-1)b.22 Dc 1844.

Some problems occur on iden.of this fam. A corres.says Samuel B.[5]b.22 Dc 1844(son of Jacob[4]-12) m.Susan _____. Samuel R.[5]Fitz d.15 Mar.1907.

1870 Cens.PA(sent by corres.)Frkl.Co.Wash.(p.613 listed aft.fam.of David R.Fitz)appear: Fitz,Samuel 24 laborer b.PA; Emma 15 domestic servant b.PA. This would prob.be David R.[5]'s bro.Samuel but who is Emma ae.15?

1880 Cens.PA Frkl.Co.Wash.:Fitz,Samuel R.36 farmer b.PA(par.b.PA);Susan 34 b.PA(par. b.PA); Carrie 6 b.PA; Annie(?) 1 dau. b.PA.; John 22 bro. single farm laborer b.PA(par.b. PA); Isaac 30 cousin single farm laborer b.PA(par.b.PA).

Note that Henry[4]-11 had a son Isaac[5]whose ae.appears variously in Census: 8 (1850); 14 (1860); 30 (1870)&[if he is the Cousin in Sam'l[5]'s ho.1880?] as 30 in 1880. Same man???

Family No. 28A [Another SAMUEL M. FITZ].

The following Samuel M.Fitz is also in Jacob's Ch.Cem.& also in Wash.Census. We've puzzled at length but beyond an assumption that he must be connected on the York Co./ Frkl.Co.branch we cannot even hazard a guess as to his iden. Ages in Cens.are as sent to me. Note similarity ae.of Samuel in 1860/70 Cens.to ae.of Samuel[5]-28. There are grave readings for two Samuel M.Fitz' in Jacob's Ch.Cem.& the older man appar.not d.til 1874. Was he absent fr ho.1860/70 or are ages in Census wrong(as they often are)?

If b.1822 he was prob.not fa of a son Samuel b.1835. Could he perhaps be a s/o Peter[3] -7 of York Co.?? At present that is my only suggestion. For want of more certain info. listed here so reader may compare the two fams.

Please do not neglect using the index entries for FAMILY GROUPS. When surnames other than Fitts/Fitz (et al) appeared many times on the same page we saved space in the index by using a FAMILY heading, for example Thorne Family ... and Wood Family. The collective references usually refer to five or more individuals bearing the same surname, and appearing on the same page. We have NOT duplicated indexing by making separate references to those individuals already covered by the group heading unless they also appeared on other scattered pages, and therefore needed to be listed again.

We hope this technique will not prove clumsy for the user. Individual entries for all persons in the text would have added many more pages to an already large book.

When a non-Fitts surname appeared only once (for one individual) we indexed that person's name in full.

When two to four individuals of a non-Fitts surname were in the text on the same page we indexed the surname only.

BE CERTAIN TO SEARCH through a page for MORE THAN ONE REFERENCE to the name indexed.

Surnames such as Brown and Smith were fully indexed. Nicknames received index entries when we felt it would be useful to the reader.

Rev. James Hill Fitts' (91p.) booklet on the Fitts/Fitz family appeared in 1869. We possess one well-worn original copy, as does the Library of the New Hampshire Historical Society. Others survive in scattered branches of the family.

In 1970 my father, Perley Irving Fitts, had a reprinting done of James Hill Fitts' 1869 Genealogy of the Fitts or Fitz Family in America. It was with father's encouragement that I undertook the task of bringing the genealogical materials up to date. Final entries in the Index typed on Tuesday, 7 March 1989. sfg

GOLDEN BEADS

Now in the twilight of my years
I count my blessings, not my tears
As golden beads.

A sermon that inspired thought,
The rewarding lessons I have taught
Are golden beads.

The travels that I call worthwhile,
Hawaii and the British Isle
Are golden beads.

My friends and relatives are dear,
I count the times that they are near
As golden beads.

My youthful days upon the farm
With Mother, blessed with gracious charm,
Were golden beads.

A dinner date, a friendly call,
A game of cards, these all in all
Are golden beads.

How fortunate am I, who claim
To have a lovely memory chain
Of golden beads.
